Excavations at Tall Jawa, Jordan P. M. Michèle Daviau,2009-11-01 This book presents the fourth volume of excavations of a Late Antique house in central Jordan with a detailed study of its construction and contents including its mosaic floors pottery coins inscribed lamps in Greek and Arabic as an example of material culture during a period of cultural change includes multimedia data images on DVD Excavations at Tall Jawa, Jordan, Volume 4: The Early Islamic House Michèle

Daviau,2009-11-23 Much of the archaeology of Late Antique period remains in Jordan has concentrated on public buildings churches mosques theatres baths and their major architectural features such as mosaic floors In this fourth report of the excavations at Tall Jawa in central Jordan a single house with a rich repertoire of pottery mould made lamps glass and a small coin hoard appears to span the transition period from the Late Byzantine to the Early Islamic period Details of the construction of the building itself and of its mosaic pavements the technology of its ceramic corpus analysis of its inscribed lamps painted plaster objects and a small coin hoard all contribute to an understanding of village life for people during a period of linguistic religious and political transition The publication of Excavations at Tall Jawa Jordan Volume 4 The Early Islamic House is an important contribution that adds not only to the growing body of evidence for central Transjordan but also to our understanding of non urban Islamic archaeology and the seventh to eighth century transition Asa Eger University of North Carolina at Greensboro The Oxford Dictionary of Late Antiquity Oliver Nicholson,2018-04-19 The Oxford

Sarvistan: A Study in Early Iranian Architecture , Competitive Archaeology in Jordan Elena Corbett,2015-01-15 An examination of archaeology in Jordan and Palestine Competitive Archaeology in Jordan explores how antiquities have been used to build narratives and national identities Tracing Jordanian history and the importance of Jerusalem within that history Corbett analyzes how both foreign and indigenous powers have engaged in a competition over ownership of antiquities and the power to craft history and geography based on archaeological artifacts She begins with the Ottoman and British Empires under whose rule the institutions and borders of modern Jordan began to take shape asking how they used antiquities in varying ways to advance their imperial projects Corbett continues through the Mandate era and the era of independence of an expanded Hashemite Kingdom examining how the Hashemites and other factions both within and beyond Jordan have tried to define national identity by drawing upon antiquities Competitive Archaeology in Jordan traces a complex history through the lens of archaeology s power as a modern science to create and give value to spaces artifacts peoples narratives and academic disciplines It thus considers the role of archaeology in realizing Jordan s modernity drawing its map delineating sacred and secular spaces validating taxonomies of citizens justifying legal frameworks and institutions of state determining logos of the nation for display on stamps currency and in museums and writing history Framing Jordan s history in this way Corbett illustrates the manipulation of archaeology by governments institutions and individuals to craft narratives draw borders and create national identities

The Places Where Men Pray Together Paul Wheatley,2001 What makes a city an economic political and cultural center In The Places Where Men Pray Together Paul Wheatley draws on two decades of astonishingly wide ranging research to demonstrate that Islamic cities are defined by function rather than form by what they do rather than what they are Focusing on the roles of cities during the first four centuries of Islamic expansion Wheatley explores interconnected cultural historical economic political and religious factors to provide the clearest and most extensively documented portrait of early Islamic urban centers available to date Building on the tenth century geographer al Maqdisi s writings on urban centers of the Islamic world buttressed by extensive comparative material from roadbooks topographies histories adab literatures and gazetteers of the time Wheatley identifies the main functions of different Islamic urban centers Chapters on each of the thirteen centers that al Maqdisi identified ranging from the Atlantic to the Indus and from the Caspian to the Sudan form the heart of this book In each case Wheatley shows how specific agglomeration and accessibility factors combined to make every city functionally distinct as a creator of effective space He also demonstrates that far from revolutionizing every aspect of life in these cities the adoption of Islam often affected the development of these cities less than previously existing local traditions The Places Where Men Pray Together is a monumental work that will speak to scholars and readers across a broad variety of disciplines from historians anthropologists and sociologists to religious
