Reform In The Making:

Reform in the Making Ann Chih Lin, 2002-06-10 Is it time to give up on rehabilitating criminals Record numbers of Americans are going to prison and most of them will eventually return to society with a high chance of becoming repeat offenders But a decision to abandon rehabilitation programs now would be premature warns Ann Chih Lin who finds that little attention has been given to how these programs are actually implemented and why they tend to fail In Reform in the Making she not only supplies much needed information on the process of program implementation but she also considers its social context the daily realities faced by prison staff and inmates By offering an in depth look at common rehabilitation programs currently in operation education job training and drug treatment and examining how they are used or misused Lin offers a practical approach to understanding their high failure rate and how the situation could be improved Based on extensive observation and over 350 interviews with staff and prisoners in five medium security male prisons the book contrasts successfully implemented programs with subverted abandoned or neglected programs those which staff reject or which do not teach prisoners anything useful Lin explains that staff and prisoners have little patience with programs aimed at long range goals when they must face the ongoing immediate challenge of surviving prison life Finding incentives to make both sides participate fully in rehabilitation is among the book s many contributions to improving prison policy Services

Reform Michael Tilbury, Simon N.M. Young, Ludwig Ng, 2014-01-01 As a special administrative region of China Hong Kong has its own legal system rooted in the common law Reforms to this system take into account Hong Kong s unique conditions as an international city and draw widely on practices around the world Since 1980 recommendations from a Law Reform Commission chaired by the Secretary for Justice have resulted in comprehensive revisions in key areas of law ranging from commercial arbitration and interception of communications to divorce and copyright Recently however the government has been slow to act on the Commission's recommendations. Questions have also arisen about whether the Commission under-resourced part-time and government-led can really meet the needs of an increasingly sophisticated society. Is law reform itself also in need of reform? This collection of essays by distinguished experts from around the world seeks answers to the question. The book explores the varied experience of law reform in Hong Kong and other common law jurisdictions and makes recommendations for strengthening the process of law reform both in Hong Kong and elsewhere.

Michael Tilbury is Kerry Holdings Professor in Private Law in the Faculty of Law, the University of Hong Kong. Simon N M Young is a professor in the Faculty of Law, the University of Hong Kong and was formerly Director of the Centre for Comparative and Public Law. Ludwig Ng is a partner in ONC Lawyers Hong Kong. This important book should be a wake-up call to lawmakers in Hong Kong and beyond on the urgent need for effective law reform. It is especially important for Hong Kong whose competitive advantage is being harmed by institutional paralysis and official lethargy. The editors' modest recommendations deserve urgent action by Hong Kong's governors to bring up-to-date its archaic and outmoded legislation.

Lord Lester of Herne Hill QC: Law reform is essential, especially in these fast-changing times. The law reform agency plays an important role in this process. This work examines the experience of the agency in Hong Kong and elsewhere and discusses how its effectiveness can be enhanced. This valuable contribution deserves to be read.

The Hon Andrew Li, Chief Justice of Hong Kong, 1997-2010: This is probably the first collection in Hong Kong of writings on law reform examining clinically how law reform is and can be processed with reference to other law reform institutions in the pursuit of effectively meeting the often shifting needs of society and economy. Important chapters on reform of different areas of law are also included in this book. The editors and contributors are to be congratulated for masterminding such an admirable source of information and inspirational ideas.

Stephen Kai Yin Wong, Barrister, Secretary of the Law Reform Commission of Hong Kong: In this collection of essays the learned editors Tilbury, Young, and Ng have drawn together an outstanding group of authors representing many years of experience in law reform across the common law world. From the UK, Canada, Australia, and Hong Kong, the insights of the authors are both reflective and forward-looking, providing a rich resource towards reforming law reform.

Professor Rosalind Croucher, President, Australian Law Reform Commission: The Reform Bulletin, 1910. Regulatory Reform of Railways in Russia. European Conference of Ministers of Transport, 2004-05-11. In this report, some of the world's leading experts in rail regulation examine the restructuring of the sector, focusing on tariff reform and the introduction of competition in one of the world's largest rail networks.

Controversies in Innocence Cases in America. Ms Sarah Lucy Cooper, 2014-05-28. This volume brings together leading experts on the investigation, litigation, and scholarly analysis of innocence cases in America from legal, political, and ethical perspectives. The contributors consider the challenges faced by the exoneration movement, causes of wrongful convictions, problems associated with investigating, proving, and defining innocence, and theories of reform. These issues are investigated from a multi-disciplinary perspective and with the aim of improving the American criminal justice system when it is faced with its most harrowing sight an innocent defendant

Building Europe's Parliament
Berthold Rittberger, 2005-03-24 Why have the national governments of EU member states successively endowed the European Parliament with supervisory budgetary and legislative powers over the past fifty years Building Europe's Parliament sheds new light on this pivotal issue and provides a major contribution to the study of the European Parliament Rittberger develops a theory of delegation to representative institutions in international politics which combines elements of democratic theory and different strands of institutionalist theory To test the plausibility of his theory Rittberger draws on extensive archival material and offers theory guided in depth case studies of three landmark decisions in the history of the European Parliament the creation of the Common Assembly of the ECSC in 1951 and the concomitant acquisition of supervisory powers vis vis the quasi executive High Authority the delegation of budgetary powers following the signing of the Treaty of Luxembourg in 1970 and the delegation of legislative powers resulting from the adoption of the Single European Act signed in 1986 This is followed by the charting of more recent key developments culminating in the adoption of the Constitutional Treaty in 2004 The book provides a welcome addition to the literature on institutional design by reflecting on the conditions under which governments opt for the creation and empowerment of parliamentary institutions in international politics It also makes a valuable contribution to the application of democratic theory to the study of the European Union by demonstrating that political elites shared the view that the new supranational polity which emerged from the debris of World War II suffered from democratic deficit since its inception thus disproving the claim that the lamented democratic deficit is a recent phenomenon
