Reformers Sport Modernizers:

Reformers, Sport, Modernizers J A Mangan, 2013-10-11 A record of the role of selected middle class individuals across Europe who made notable contributions to the early evolution of modern sport and who saw success in modern sport as an expression of human qualities to be admired applauded and encouraged They viewed sport sometimes self interestedly but not always self interestedly as a medium of personal collective and national virtue It is the first general consideration of a selection of these innovatory pioneers and proselytisers who placed Europe at the forefront of major developments in contemporary world sport now a phenomenon of global significance The Politics of the Male Body in Global Sport Hans Bonde, 2013-10-18 Danish sport has been associated with Europe and the World not least through I P Muller and Niels Bukh and the Danish Gymnastics revolution with its emphasis on male aesthetics and hygiene in the first half of the twentieth century At the same time Denmark has stood apart from Europe in the early moments of its history of sport with the rural revolution of the farming communities as a statement of political independence and assertion However during the German occupation of Denmark Danish sport was part of a European collaboration which characterized a number of the occupied countries not least in the Nordic area After the Second World War Denmark embraced international body cultures with other European nations in particular Eastern martial arts Denmark too as part of trends in the European region and the world became caught up in sport as a powerful contemporary political statement This book was previously published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport Serious Sport J. A. Mangan, 2004 Trial blazer and mentor Professor J A Mangan is a distinguished scholar in the fields of sports history whose work has inspired a generation of historians and social scientists across the globe His seminal book on athleticism and imperialism commanded attention and applause from a broad range of historians and social scientists across the globe His seminal work on athleticism and imperialism commanded attention and applause from a broad range of historians It opened new horizons of inquiry providing the field with a richly perceptive study of hegemony and patronage of cultural assimilation and adaptation and of the ways that power elites used sport for socialization acculturation and social control His later works continued to pose critical sometimes controversial questions providing new and provocative insights into the complex social issues involved in the development and diffusion of sporting activity The geographical horizons of his work now span the globe This volume is a fitting tribute to the scholarship and lasting accomplishments of a pioneer who has mentored and continues to mentor numerous young scholars internationally simultaneously developing and maintaining high quality channels through which to disseminate sport history research In appraising his scholarship the contributors to this collection demonstrate their debt to his vision and achievements This volume was previously published as a special issue of The International Journal of the History of Sport Gender, Sport, Science J. A. Mangan, Patricia Vertinsky, 2013-10-18 Roberta J Park has been throughout her distinguished career a scholar with a mission to win academic recognition of the significance of the body in culture and cultures Her scholarship has earned her global esteem in the disciplines of Physical Education and Sports Studies for its penetrating insights This selection of her writings is a well deserved tribute to her interpretive originality her intellectual acuity and her ability to inspire colleagues and students To explore unexplored patterns has been her extraordinary strength The result has been continual originality of insight These writings are thus a unique compilation of scholastic creativity of major interest to scholars and students in Sports Studies Physical Education Health Studies Sociology and Social Psychology This book was published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport Sport and Ireland Paul Rouse,2015 The first history of sport in Ireland locating the history of sport within Irish political social and cultural history and within the global history of sport It studies the relationship between sport and national identity how sport influences policy making in modern states and the ways in which sport has been colonized by the media The Making of Sporting Cultures John Hughson,2013-09-13 The Making of Sporting Cultures presents an analysis of western sport by examining how the collective passions and feelings of people have contributed to the making of sport as a way of life The popularity of sport is so pronounced in some cases that we speak of certain sports as national pastimes Baseball in the United States soccer in Britain and cricket in the Caribbean are among the relevant examples discussed Rather than regarding the historical development of sport as the outcome of passive spectator reception this work is interested in how sporting cultures have been made and developed over time through the active engagement of its enthusiasts This is to study the history of sport not only from below but also from within as a means to understanding the deep relationship between sport and people within class contexts the middle class as well as the working class Contestation over the making of sport along axes of race gender and class are discussed where relevant A range of cultural writers and theorists are examined in regard to both how their writing can help us understand the making of sport and as to how sport might be located within an overall cultural context in different places and times The book will appeal to students and academics within humanities disciplines such as cultural studies history and sociology and to those in sport studies programmes interested in the historical cultural and social aspects of sport This book was published as a special issue of Sport in Society The Asian Games: Modern Metaphor for The Middle Kingdom Reborn J.A. Mangan,2017-07-05 The premise of The Asian Games Modern Metaphor for The Middle Kingdom Reborn Political Statement Cultural Assertion Social Symbol is emphatic The Guangzhou 2010 Asian Games was a metaphor for hegemony and renaissance China crushed the other Asian nations with the massive weight of its Gold Medalhaul and demonstrated regional self confidence regained The huge accumulation of gold medals emphasized that once again China stood apart and above other nations of Asia China s reaction and the reactions of the other Asian nations are explored in The Asian Games There is another premise in the publication that the Chinese Asian Games were a harbinger of a wider dominance to come geopolitically politically militarily economically and culturally And there is a further issue raised by the Guangzhou Asian Games the continuing determination of the Asian nations to mount a distinctive Games that is Asian and resistant to the cumbersome gigantism of the Modern Olympic Games Asia now has the wealth to promote present and project a global sports mega event with an Asian identity and in an Asian idiom This Collection is unique in focus argument and evidence This book was published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport Rule Britannia: Nationalism, Identity and the Modern Olympic Games Matthew P. Llewellyn, 2014-06-11 On 6 July 2005 the International Olympic Committee awarded the 2012 summer Olympic Games to the city of London opening a new chapter in Great Britain's rich Olympic history Despite the prospect of hosting the summer Games for the third time since Pierre de Coubertin's 1894 revival of the Olympic movement the historical roots of British Olympism have received limited scholarly attention With the conclusion of the 2008 Beijing Olympics and the passing of the baton to London Rule Britannia remedies that oversight This book uncovers Britain's early Olympic involvement revealing how the British public media and leading governmental officials were strongly opposed to international Olympic competition It explores how the British Olympic Association focused on three main factors in the midst of widespread national opposition it embraced early Olympian spectacles as a platform for maintaining a sporting union with Ireland it fostered a greater sense of imperial identity with Britain's white dominions and it undertook an ambitious policy of athletic specialization designed to reverse the nation's waning fortunes in international sport This book was previously published as a special issue of International Journal of the History of Sport Moving Modernisms David Bradshaw, Laura Marcus, Rebecca Roach, 2016 The essays in Moving Modernisms Motion Technology and Modernity written by renowned international scholars open up the many dimensions and arenas of modernist movement and movements spatial geographical and political affective and physiological temporal and epochal technological locomotive and metropolitan aesthetic and representational Individual essays explore modernism's complex geographies focusing on Anglo-European modernisms while also engaging with the debates engendered by recent models of world literatures and global modernisms From questions of space and place the volume moves to a focus on movement and motion with topics ranging from modernity and bodily energies to issues of scale and quantity The final chapters in the volume examine modernist film and the moving image and travel and transport in the modern metropolis Movement is reality itself the philosopher Henri Bergson wrote the original and illuminating essays in Moving Modernisms point in new ways to the realities and the fantasies of movement in modernist culture A Sport-loving Society J. A. Mangan, 2006 A selection of essays exploring the role of social institutions and political economic and technological change in shaping the sport of middle class Victorians and Edwardians
