Cultural Psychology and Acculturation Pawel Boski, 2024-04-30 This Element offers a new theoretical model of acculturation within the general framework of cultural psychology. It is divided into four sections. First, cross-cultural and cultural orientations are contrasted. The psychology of economic migration (EARN) separate from the psychology of acculturation (LEARN) is the theme of the next section. Berry's model of acculturation preferences is discussed in section three. It serves as a contrasting reference point for the tripartite model of bicultural competencies developed in the final section. The three interconnected components are symbols, language and values. Practices characterize both enculturation and acculturation. As a second culture learning process, acculturation is not restricted to immigration. It may take a vicarious remote shape in the home country. Reaching bicultural competencies and identities in the long run is the proposed outcome of acculturation.

Reinforced Concrete from 1906 to Today Xavier Lauzin, Liliya Shakamalova, 2025-09-30 The question that regularly arises for the engineer charged with assessing an existing structure that has not deteriorated concerns how to establish the structural diagnosis of the structure. First, it is necessary to ensure that the structure, when subjected to loads and overloads, retains its normal behavior, i.e. conforms to the design predictions. It is essential to understand why and how design and construction rules have evolved as well as their inaccuracies, shortcomings and even errors. Reinforced Concrete from 1906 to
