Cutsinger, 2012-06-06 Two books in one Advice to the Serious Seeker is an introduction for scholars to the perennialist school of comparative religious philosophy and at the same time a guidebook for the general reader who is looking for intellectually serious but accessible answers to questions about the spiritual life. Scholars will find a comprehensive introduction to the work of Frithjof Schuon, the leading contemporary figure in the perennialist or traditionalist school of comparative religion. Written by James S. Cutsinger, one of the world's foremost academic authorities on the perennial philosophy, the book provides a detailed commentary on the full range of Schuon's spiritual writings. But the book is also intended for inquisitive and searching readers in general. Composed in a style that is simple and conversational, it reads as an open letter to the author's students. The aim is to cut through the banality of much that passes for spiritual instruction today and to provide intellectually serious but accessible answers to questions typically posed by cynics and skeptics, conservative believers, and persons attracted to the so-called new age religions. The author's Advice takes the form of a series of meditations on Truth, Virtue, Beauty, and Prayer, which Schuon regards as the fundamental elements in every authentic spiritual path. Covering a range of issues, both theoretical and practical, topics include proofs of God, the problem of evil, classical virtues, predestination, and freedom, symbolism and cosmic hierarchy, sacred art, the relationship between spiritual method and grace, techniques of concentration and meditation, the role of the spiritual master, and human destiny. The book concludes with an epilogue on Schuon's well-known thesis concerning the transcendent unity of religions.

The Evolution of Indian Stupa

Architecture in East Asia Eric Stratton, 2002 Contents I Introduction II Symbolic analysis of religious architecture III Indianization in Southeast Asia lineage one 1 Religious foundations 2 Architecture 3 Java 4 Cambodia 5 Champa IV Burma lineage two 1 Thai Era 2 The lineages of stupa forms V The philosophical Indianization of Northeast Asia the third lineage 1 China 2 Korea 3 Japan 4 Tibet 5 Mongolia 6 The Tibetan stupa Bibliography This work seeks to explore the development of East Asian architecture based upon its borrowings from the Indian stupa. While most scholars agree that some features of East Asian religious architecture have been strongly influenced by the symbolic architecture of the stupa, this study specifically seeks to identify three distinct architectural lineages originating from India to East Asia. These lineages were inspired by the work of Liang Ssu-ch'eng, who first identified several families of pagoda structures in Mainland China in the early part of the 20th century. However, here we extend our search to all the nations that have employed the stupa architecture outside India and Nepal. These other lineages have been identified through careful analysis in archaeological, anthropological, historical, and religious studies. The first of these lineages extends through Indo-China and Indonesia. The second lineage is mainly found extending through Burma. Both lineages one and two meet together in later Thai architecture. The third lineage extends across Central Asia to the shores and nations of Far East Asia, such as Japan, Korea, and China. As all the lineages are demonstrated to be imbued and propagated by the sacred and ancient symbolism of India, each chapter examines the history of Indian thought as it was introduced into a region and then discusses the features of the most well-known structures of that
