Moore, 2020-04-01 The founding idea of America has been based largely on the expected sweeping away of Native Americans to make room for EuroAmericans and their cultures In this authoritative study David L Moore examines the works of five well known Native American writers and their efforts beginning in the colonial period to redefine an America and American identity that includes Native Americans That Dream Shall Have a Name focuses on the writing of Pequot Methodist minister William Apess in the 1830s on Northern Paiute activist Sarah Winnemucca in the 1880s on Salish M tis novelist historian and activist D Arcy McNickle in the 1930s and on Laguna poet and novelist Leslie Marmon Silko and on

Spokane poet novelist humorist and filmmaker Sherman Alexie both in the latter twentieth and early twenty first centuries Moore studies these five writers stories about the conflicted topics of sovereignty community identity and authenticity always tinged with irony and often with humor He shows how Native Americans have tried from the beginning to shape an American narrative closer to its own ideals one that does not include the death and destruction of their peoples This compelling work offers keen insights into the relationships between Native and American identity and politics in a way that is both accessible to newcomers and compelling to those already familiar with these fields of study A Planetary Lens Audrey Goodman,2021-10 Thomas J Lyon Book Award from the Western Literature Association A Planetary Lens delves into the history of the photo book the materiality of the photographic image on the page and the cultural significance of landscape to reassess the value of print to locate the sites where stories resonate and to listen to western women s voices From foundational California photographers Anne Brigman and Alma Lavenson to contemporary Native poets and writers Leslie Marmon Silko and Joy Harjo women artists have used photographs to generate stories and to map routes across time and place A Planetary Lens illuminates the richness and theoretical sophistication of such composite texts Looking beyond the ideologies of wilderness migration and progress that have shaped settler and popular conceptions of the region A Planetary Lens shows how many artists gather and assemble images and texts to reimagine landscape identity and history in the U S West Based on extensive research into the production publication and circulation of women s photo texts A Planetary Lens offers a fresh perspective on the entangled and gendered histories of western American photography and literature and new models for envisioning regional relations Leslie Marmon Silko Mary Ellen Snodgrass,2014-01-10 This companion appropriate for the lay reader and researcher alike provides analysis of characters plots humor symbols philosophies and classic themes from the writings and tellings of Leslie Marmon Silko the celebrated novelist poet memoirist and Native American wisewoman The text opens with an annotated chronology of Silko s multiracial heritage life and works followed by a family tree of the Leslie Marmon families that clarifies relationships of the people who fill her autobiographical musings In the main text 87 A to Z entries combine literary and cultural commentary with generous citations from primary and secondary sources and comparisons to classic and popular literature Back matter includes a glossary of Pueblo terms and a list of 43 questions for research writing projects and discussion This much needed text will aid both scholars and casual readers interested in the work and career of the first internationally acclaimed native woman author in the United States

Modernism's Other Work Lisa Siraganian,2015 Modernism's Other Work challenges our view of relationships between aesthetic autonomy and the world of daily life a conjuncture that Lisa Siraganian demonstrates has often been misunderstood in critical studies of modernism Connecting poetry to the visual arts and politics the author provides new ways to think about modernist art s relationship Indigenuity Caroline Wigginton,2022-10-06 For hundreds of years American artisanship and American authorship were entangled practices rather than distinct disciplines Books like other objects were multisensory items all North American communities and cultures including Native and settler colonial ones regularly made and used All cultures and communities narrated and documented their histories and imaginations through a variety of media All created objects for domestic sacred curative and collective purposes In this innovative work at the intersection of Indigenous studies literary studies book history and material culture studies Caroline Wigginton tells a story of the interweavings of Native craftwork and American literatures from their ancient roots to the present Focused primarily on North America especially the colonized lands and waters now claimed by the United States this book argues for the foundational but often hidden aesthetic orientation of American literary history toward Native craftwork Wigginton knits this narrative to another of Indigenous aesthetic repatriation through the making and using of books and works of material expression Ultimately she reveals that Native craftwork is by turns the warp and weft of American literature interwoven throughout its long history Leslie Marmon Silko Louise K.
