The agency's monitoring of manufacturers' fulfillment of commitments for postmarket studies ordered at the time of a device's approval for marketing. The adequacy of postmarket studies of implanted devices to evaluate the effects of children's active lifestyles and their growth and development on device performance. Postmarket surveillance of medical devices used with children is a little investigated topic in part because the market for most medical products is concentrated among older adults. Yet children differ from adults and their special characteristics have implications for evaluation and monitoring of the short and long term safety and effectiveness of medical devices used with young patients. Pharmacoepidemiology Brian L.
