Cycle and the Worship of the City Pamela M. King, 2006 An investigation into the connections between the York Plays religious observance and the role played by the city itself WINNER of the 2007 David Bevington Prize The York Play is the earliest near complete English civic mystery cycle It evolved constantly throughout its long performance history but the text that was recorded in the York Register shows that it was already a mature and elaborate civic festival by the time it was written down This study uncovers the Cycle's connection with worship in York in the sense both of devotional practice and of civichonour informing a particular period in the cultural history of the city The pageants in the Register show in their different ways how the community which devised and performed the Cycle regarded the celebration of the great summer feast of Corpus Christi Moreover the principles of selection that give the Cycle its structure reflect the broader pattern of the liturgical calendar with its other feasts and fasts The Cycle bears witness not only to the practices of religious observance in York but also to the ecclesiastical politics in which the city was caught up from the very beginning of the fifteenth century

PAMELA KING is Professor of Medieval Studies at the University of Bristol Helena of Britain in Medieval Legend Antonina Harbus, 2002 St Helena mother of Constantine the Great and legendary finder of the True Cross was appropriated in the middle ages as a British saint The rise and persistence of this legend harnessed Helena's imperial and sacred status to portray her as a romance heroine source of national pride and a legitimising link to imperial Rome This study is the first to examine the origins development political exploitation and decline of this legend tracing its momentum and adaptive power from Anglo Saxon England to the twentieth century Using Latin English and Welsh texts as well as church dedications and visual arts the author examines the positive effect of the British legend on the cult of St Helena and the reasons for its wide appeal and durability in both secular and religious contexts Two previously unpublished vitae of St Helena are included in the volume a Middle English verse vita from the South English Legendary and a Latin prose vita by the twelfth century hagiographer Jocelin of Furness Antonina Harbus is Professor in the Department of English at Macquarie University Sydney Australia Gentry culture in late-medieval England Raluca Radulescu, Alison Truelove, 2020-01-03 Essays in this fascinating and important collection examine the lifestyles and attitudes of the gentry in late medieval England They consider the emergence of the gentry as a group distinct from the nobility and explore the various available routes to gentility Through surveys of the gentry's military background administrative and political roles social behaviour and education the reader is provided with an overview of how the group's culture evolved and how it was disseminated Studies of the gentry's literacy creation and use of literature cultural networks religious activities and their experiences of music and the visual arts more directly address the practice and expression of this culture exploring the extent to which the gentry's activities were different from those of the wider population Joining the editors in contributing essays to this collection is an impressive array of eminent scholars all specialists in their respective fields Christine Carpenter Peter Fleming Maurice Keen Philippa Maddern Nicholas Orme Tim Shaw Thomas Tolley and Deborah Youngs As a whole the book offers a broad view of gentry culture that explores reassesses and sometimes even challenges the idea that members of the gentry cultivated their own distinctive cultural identity It will appeal to students looking for a comprehensive introduction to late medieval gentry culture as well as to researchers interested in gentry studies more generally Medieval and Renaissance Stained Glass in the Victoria and Albert Museum Paul Williamson, 2003 This long overdue volume showcases the Victoria and Albert Museum's outstanding holdings of stained and painted glass a peerless collection ranging in date from c 1140 to 1540 The works include important examples from England France Germany Austria Switzerland Belgium the Netherlands and Italy More than 100 color plates

Mirror In Parchment Michael Camille, 2013-06-01 What is the status of visual evidence in history Can we actually see the past through images Where are the traces of previous lives deposited Michael Camille addresses these important questions in Mirror in Parchment a lively searching study of one medieval manuscript its patron producers and historical progeny The richly illuminated Luttrell Psalter was created for the English nobleman Sir Geoffrey Luttrell 1276-1345 Inexpensive mechanical illustration has since disseminated the book's images to a much wider audience hence the Psalter's representations of manorial life have come to profoundly shape our modern idea of what medieval English people high and low looked like at work and at play Alongside such supposedly truthful representations the Psalter presents myriad images of fantastic monsters and beasts These patently false images have largely been disparaged or ignored by modern historians and art historians alike for they challenge the credibility of those pictures in the Luttrell Psalter that we wish to see as real In the conviction that medieval images were not generally intended to reflect daily life but rather to shape a new reality Michael Camille analyzes the Psalter's famous pictures as representations of the world imagined and real of its original patron Addressed are late medieval chivalric ideals physical sites of power and the boundaries of Sir Geoffrey's imagined community wherein agricultural laborers and fabulous monsters play a similar ideological role The Luttrell Psalter thus emerges as a complex social document of the world as its patron hoped and feared it might be

Gender and Holiness

Sam Riches, Sarah Salih, 2005-07-05 This volume examines gender specific religious practices and contends that the pursuit of holiness can destabilize binary gender itself Though saints may be classified as masculine or feminine holiness may also cut across gender divisions and demand a break from normally gendered behaviour      Medicine, Religion and Gender in Medieval Culture Naoë Kukita Yoshikawa, 2015 An exploration of the relations between medical and religious discourse and practice in medieval culture focussing on how they are affected by gender
