Mithraic Sources in English Alfred Shenington Geden,1990      Introduction to the New Testament Helmut Koester,1995      History, Culture, and Religion of the Hellenistic Age Helmut Koester,2012-10-25 While the first American edition of this book published more than a decade ago was a revised translation of the German book Einführung in das Neue Testament this second edition of the first volume of the Introduction to the New Testament is no longer dependent upon a previously published German work The author hopes that for the student of the New Testament it is a useful introduction into the many complex aspects of the political cultural and religious developments that characterized the world in which early Christianity arose and by which the New Testament and other early Christian writings were shaped

Rhetoric and Reality in Early Christianities Willi Braun,2006-01-01 One of the most pressing issues for scholars of religion concerns the role of persuasion in early Christianities and other religions in Greco Roman antiquity The essays in Rhetoric and Reality in Early Christianities explore questions about persuasion and its relationship to early Christianities The contributors theorize about persuasion as the effect of verbal performances such as argumentation in accordance with rules of rhetoric or as a result of other types of performance ritual behavioural or imagistic They discuss the relationship between the verbal performance of rhetoric and other performative modes in generating sustaining and transmitting a persuasive form of religiosity The essays in this book cover a wide chronological range from the first century to late antiquity and diverse topical examples contribute to the collection s thematic centre the relations among formalized and technical verbal performances rhetoric texts and other forms of persuasive performances ritual practices the social agendas that early Christians pursued by means of verbal rhetorical performances and the larger social context in which Christians and other religious groups competitively jockeyed to attract the minds and bodies of audiences in the Greco Roman world      Deep History, Secular Theory Luther Martin,2014-05-21 Over the course of his career Luther H Martin has primarily produced articles rather than monographs This approach to publication has given him the opportunity to experiment with different methodological approaches to an academic study of religion with updates to and different interpretations of his field of historical specialization namely Hellenistic religions the subject of his only monograph 1987 The contents of this collected volume represent Martin s shift from comparative studies to socio political studies to scientific studies of religion and especially to the cognitive science of religion He currently considers the latter to be the most viable approach for a scientific study of religion within the academic context of a modern research university The twenty five contributions collected in this volume are selected from over one hundred essays articles and book chapters published over a long and industrious career and are representative of Martin s work over the past two decades      Traditions of the Magi Albert F. de Jong,2015-08-27 This is the first full treatment of the Greek and Latin references to Zoroastrianism since the pioneering works of Benveniste Bidez Cumont and Clemen It focuses on the possibilities offered by the classical reports on Zoroastrianism to reconstruct the history of that faith The book is divided into three sections The first section deals with introductory problems concerning ancient religious ethnography and current views of the history of Zoroastrianism The second section consists of commentaries on five selected passages The third section offers a thematical overview of the materials and their relevance for the history of Iranian religions Apart from offering introductions to a wide range of debates and topics in Classics and Iranian studies the book aims to illustrate the diversity of beliefs and practices in ancient Zoroastrianism Exploring the New Testament World Albert Bell, 1998-09-18 The timeless message of the New Testament applies to people of every culture and generation Yet there is great value in understanding the world in which that message was first revealed its social manners politics religious customs and culture Exploring the New Testament World written by classics and Bible scholar Dr Albert A Bell Jr illuminates the living context of the New Testament immersing its readers in the intriguing world of Jesus and the early church An authority on ancient Greek and Roman language culture and history Dr Bell writes in a readable style that is accessible and enjoyable to any reader an uncommon accomplishment among New Testament scholars today Surveying Jewish factions of the era the social and political structure of the Roman Empire and the philosophies and religions that surrounded the early church Dr Bell helps his readers learn to think like first century Jews Greeks and Romans illuminating puzzling New Testament passages for clear understanding Comprehensive Scripture and Subject Indexes make this volume even more useful as a manners and customs Bible companion This authoritative guide receives high praise from college professors and Sunday school teachers alike proving its appeal to both popular and academic audiences A must have reference for every pastor and an indispensable resource to any Bible reader The Mind of Mithraists Luther H. Martin, 2014-11-20 The Roman cult of Mithras was the most widely dispersed and densely distributed cult throughout the expanse of the Roman Empire from the end of the first until the fourth century AD rivaling the early growth and development of Christianity during the same period As its membership was largely drawn from the ranks of the military its spread but not its popularity is attributable largely to military deployments and re deployments Although mithraists left behind no written archival evidence there is an abundance of iconographic finds The only characteristic common to all Mithraic temples were the fundamental architecture of their design and the cult image of Mithras slaying a bull How were these two features so faithfully transmitted through the Empire by a non centralized non hierarchical religious movement The Minds of Mithraists Historical and Cognitive Studies in the Roman Cult of Mithras addresses these questions as well as the relationship of Mithraism to Christianity explanations of the significance of the tauroctony and of the rituals enacted in the mithraea and explanations for the spread of Mithraism and for its resistance in a few places The unifying theme throughout is an investigation of the mind of those engaged in the cult practices of this widespread ancient religion These investigations represent traditional historical methods as well as more recent studies employing the insights of the cognitive sciences demonstrating that cognitive historiography is a valuable methodological tool Alternative Voices Oliver

Freiberger, Magnus Echter, Afe Adogame, 2013-07-17 When scholarship presents the histories belief systems and ritual patterns of specific religious groups it often privileges victorious and lite fractions of those communities to the detriment and neglect of alternative dissonant and resurgent voices The contributions in this volume which include case studies on various religious and academic contexts illustrate the importance of listening to those alternative voices for the study of religion

The Dead Sea Scrolls Charlotte Hempel, 2010-07-26 This volume presents the proceedings of an international conference of the same title held at the University of Birmingham in 2007 The contributors are drawn from the ranks of leading international specialists in the field writing alongside promising younger scholars The volume includes studies on the contribution of the Scrolls to Second Temple Jewish history the archaeological context the role of the temple and its priesthood as well as treatments on selected texts and issues These proceedings offer a timely and up to date assessment of the Dead Sea Scrolls and the material remains unearthed at Qumran in their wider context and not infrequently challenge prevailing lines of interpretation Helen Jacobus has won the Sean Dever Memorial Prize with her contribution to this volume Commenting on the Dever prize Professor Carol Meyers of Duke University North Carolina said The judges thought highly of Helen s meticulous scholarship and careful presentation of the data in her discussion of the zodiac and its role in Jewish calendars
