African American Statewide Candidates in the New South Charles S. Bullock, Susan A. MacManus, Jeremy D. Mayer, Mark J. Rozell, 2022 African American candidates for state and federal office in the United States face unique challenges given the nation's complicated racial dynamics To date there have been only two elected African American governors in the country the first elected in Virginia in 1989 and the second in Massachusetts in 2006 While Black candidates running statewide have been elected in increasing numbers in many areas of the country there have been fewer successes in the US South The relative lack of success in the South for Black candidates is puzzling given that as a percentage of the population the South has the highest concentration of African American citizens This book examines the campaigns of Black statewide candidates in the South to untangle the factors that led to their electoral successes as well as the factors that continue to stymie positive electoral results Looking at broader regional demographic and political trends the authors project that the South is on the threshold of a major breakthrough for African American statewide candidates who will have a substantial role in not only fundamentally changing the political dynamics of the region but the nation as well This change will be driven not only by Black candidates and voters but a rising regional coalition of racial minority and white voters who are increasingly willing to vote for Black candidates

Clapp's Mill: The Battle on Foust's Plantation Stewart Dunaway, Jeffery Bright, 2012-09-26 Commonly known as the Battle at Clapp's Mill this book provides the most comprehensive review of this battle in the Southern Campaign of the American Revolution This book will review three possible battle sites and resolve the dispute over which is the correct location We believe this battle occurred on Foust's plantation thereby answering numerous questions and solving many mysteries Regardless of location this book provides the most accurate review of the battle as well as the events leading up to it and the second skirmish afterwards prior to Weitzel's Mill Using primary references these authors have uncovered new information neatly presented to the reader illustrated with many maps drawings images charts etc This is the single best book on this battle ever published to date

The Papers of General Nathanael Greene Richard K. Showman, Dennis M. Conrad, Roger N. Parks, 2015-12 The seventh volume of the Papers of Nathanael Greene documents a crucial period of the American Revolution in the South In the first months of 1781 Nathanael Greene who had taken command of the Southern Army only weeks before initiated the campaign that would ultimately free the South from British occupation These months saw the pivotal engagement at Cowpens the Race to the Dan in which Greene's army marched the breadth of North Carolina with the British in close pursuit and the climactic battle of Guilford Court House In March 1781 Greene decided to break off his pursuit of Lord Cornwallis's force in North Carolina and instead march into South Carolina to challenge British control there This decision among others made during this critical period established Greene's reputation as a brilliant military strategist The documents in this volume provide new insight into how and why Greene chose as he did     England and Wales Great Britain. Local Government Board,1875     Brick ,1991

The Portable Graham Greene Graham Greene,1973     The Graham Legacy Michael E. Keller,1998-06-01 From the Foreword Graham Paige Motors Corporation lives again in the pages of the The Graham Legacy Graham Paige to 1932 Michael E Keller s factual account is based upon his thorough research giving a clear picture of the formation and operations of this former Dearborn Michigan automaker Keller addresses the myriad of Graham others trucks Paige Graham Paige and Graham automobile types and provides a full recounting of these vehicles mechanical and styling details In addition the book incorporates the history of the three Graham brothers Joseph Robert and Ray who rose from near anonymity to positions of prominence in such diverse fields as farming and glass manufacturing to the production of trucks and fine automobiles This blending of historical personal business and technical aspects result in an informative and thoroughly interesting read

Rag Paper Manufacture in the United States, 1801-1900 AJ Valente,2014-01-10 Outlining the early history of the U S paper industry this book provides details on paper manufacturing from the early 1800s when American paper was created almost entirely by hand out of cotton and other plant fibers to the discovery of wood pulp paper and the introduction of commercial grade paper machines during the post Civil War period It discusses paper machine manufacturing major U S mills the papermaking traditions of Dutch and German immigrants the politics of papermaking and the eventual expansion of the paper industry from New England to the forests of the Northeast Midwest and Northwest Two appendices provide a census listing of more than 1 100 U S paper mills along with a directory of more than 1 300 mill owners and companies The book contains around 70 illustrations and diagrams of major mills and relevant manufacturing technologies     The Papers of General Nathanael Greene: 26 December 1780-29 March 1781 Nathanael Greene,1976 Volume 13 This thirteenth and final volume of the series devoted to the papers of General Nathanael Greene includes correspondence to and from Greene from the end of the Revolutionary War up to his death in June 1786 It concludes with an epilogue and an addendum of forty six documents that have come to light since the volumes in which they would have appeared have been published deserves a large reading audience Don Higginbotham Professor of History University of North Carolina Chapel Hill     Abe Richard Slotkin,2001-03 A stunning work of historical imagination Abe immerses the reader in the past Abraham Lincoln kept hidden the isolating poverty and frontier violence that shaped his character Marked by the death of his beloved mother and the struggle to keep reading and learning in the face of his father s fierce disapproval Abe perseveres growing into the man who changed the course of American history Abe comes of age in the course of a dramatic flatboat journey down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers to New Orleans Along the way Abe and his companions encounter slavery firsthand and experience the violence and the pleasures of rough river towns plantations and the cities of Natchez and New Orleans Numerous historical figures make appearances alongside the colorful characters of the Mississippi preachers and vigilantes planters and thieves prostitutes and lady reformers Transformed by what he has seen and done Abe returns to make his final break with his father and to step out of the wilderness into New Salem and history Richard Slotkin s Abe draws deeply on historical scholarship but it is not biography Instead it is a vivid persuasive re creation of the life young Lincoln might have lived and of the people scenes and influences that helped produce the character and conscience of the man often called the greatest of all Americans     Directory of Pittsburgh and Allegheny ,1908     Graham Greene inedito Graham
