The Oxford Companion to Aboriginal Art and Culture Margo Neale, Sylvia Kleinert, Robyne Bancroft, 2000 A comprehensive overview covering indigenous Australian art archeological traditions styles of the contact period nineteenth century art trends and the development of contemporary Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander practices Morphology and Language History Claire Bower, Bethwyn Evans, Luisa Miceli, 2008 This volume aims to make a contribution to codifying the methods and practices linguists use to recover language history focussing predominantly on historical morphology The volume includes studies on a wide range of languages not only Indo European but also Austronesian Sinitic Mon Khmer Basque one Papuan language family as well as a number of Australian families Few collections are as cross linguistic as this reflecting the new challenges which have emerged from the study of languages outside those best known from historical linguistics The contributors illustrate shared methodological and theoretical issues concerning genetic relatedness that is the use of morphological evidence for classification and subgrouping reconstruction and processes of change with a diverse range of data The volume is in honour of Harold Koch who has long combined innovative research on understudied languages with methodological rigour and codification of practices within the discipline Pacific Art Anita Herle, 2002-01-01 Contributors explore the complex relations among Pacific artists patrons collectors and museums over time as well as the different meanings given to art objects by each Aboriginal Art and Australian Society Laura Fisher, 2016-05-30 This book is an investigation of the way the Aboriginal art phenomenon has been entangled with Australian society's negotiation of Indigenous people's status within the nation Through critical reflection on Aboriginal art's idiosyncrasies as a fine arts movement its vexed relationship with money and its mediation of the politics of identity and recognition this study illuminates the mutability of Aboriginal art's meanings in different settings It reveals that this mutability is a consequence of the fact that a range of governmental activist and civil society projects have appropriated the art's vitality and metonymic power in national public culture and that Aboriginal art is as much a phenomenon of visual and commercial culture as it is an art movement Throughout these examinations Fisher traces the utopian and dystopian currents of thought that have crystallised around the Aboriginal art movement and which manifest the ethical conundrums that underpin the settler state condition The Cambridge Companion to Postcolonial Poetry Jahan Ramazani, 2017-02-27 The Cambridge Companion to Postcolonial Poetry is the first collection of essays to explore postcolonial poetry through regional historical political formal textual gender and comparative approaches The essays encompass a broad range of English speakers from the Caribbean Africa South Asia and the Pacific Islands the former settler colonies such as Canada Australia and New Zealand especially non Europeans Ireland Britain's oldest colony and postcolonial Britain itself particularly black and Asian immigrants and their descendants The comparative essays analyze poetry from across the postcolonial anglophone world in relation to postcolonialism and modernism fixed and free forms experimentation oral
