Historical Dictionary of Australia Norman Abjorensen, James C. Docherty, 2014-12-05 Australia s development from the most unpromising of beginnings as a British prison in 1788 to the prosperous liberal democracy of the present is as remarkable as is its success as a country of large scale immigration Since 1942 it has been a loyal ally of the United States and has demonstrated this loyalty by contributing troops to the war in Vietnam and by being part of the coalition of the willing in the U S invasion of Iraq in 2003 and in operations in Afghanistan In recent years it has also been more willing to promote peace and democracy in its Pacific and Asian neighbors This fourth edition of Historical Dictionary of Australia covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 500 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Australia

Australian Plays for the Colonial Stage Richard Fotheringham, Angela Turner, 2006 Contains the scripts of nine colonial plays each script has been carefully edited or reconstructed from unique manuscripts or rare colonial printed editions

Encyclopedia of the Novel Paul

Schellinger,2014-04-08 The Encyclopedia of the Novel is the first reference book that focuses on the development of the novel throughout the world Entries on individual writers assess the place of that writer within the development of the novel form explaining why and in exactly what ways that writer is important Similarly an entry on an individual novel discusses the importance of that novel not only from analyzing the particular innovations that novel has introduced and the ways in which it has influenced the subsequent course of the genre A wide range of topic entries explore the history criticism theory production dissemination and reception of the novel A very important component of the Encyclopedia of the Novel is its long surveys of development of the novel in various regions of the world Xavier Herbert Xavier Herbert,Frances De Groen,1992 This ground breaking first biography explores the contradictions at the core of Xavier Herbert's turbulent life and career 1901-1984 Charting his lifelong quest to discover the reality of his existence and to forge a larger than life identity it highlights Herbert's compulsion to write and illuminates his abiding themes Labelled at various times ratbag and mug genius as well as master writer Xavier Herbert led a life characterised by controversy and contradiction His signature books Capricornia 1938 and Poor Fellow My country 1975 were to change the face of Australian novel writing

Celebrating the Nation Tony Bennett,2020-08-29 Celebrating the Nation offers the first major critical retrospective on Australia's Bicentenary The editors have collected a series of essays focusing on the different ways in which 1988 was celebrated From the soccer Gold Cup to literary commissions from Expo 88 to the Travelling Exhibition and the Stockman's Hall of Fame it examines the cultural and ideological frameworks which shaped the discourses and rhetoric of those celebrations The contributors also put the Australian Bicentenary of 1988 in historical and international perspective comparing the celebrations of 1988 with earlier Australian anniversary celebrations and with recent national celebrations in France Canada and the United States Drawing on the findings of a major research project organised by the Institute for Cultural Policy Studies at Griffith University Celebrating the Nation provides a provocative and insightful analysis of the cultural and political processes through which modern nations organise and symbolise their histories and identities A Window in the Dark Dymphna Cusack,1991 Autobiographical account of the inter world war years spent by novelist Cusack author of TCome in Spinner teaching in country New South Wales The editor compiler of the TBibliography of Australian Women's Literature includes an extensive commentary on and bibliography of Cusack Mostly French Alistair Rolls,2009 This book which was inspired by a conference on plural conjugations of Frenchness La France au pluriel held in 2007 at the Universities of Technology Sydney and Newcastle focuses on the concept of national belonging as it pertains to detective fiction with particular emphasis on French and Australian detective fictions and the encounter and crossing over between them The objective is not only to use the concepts of French and Australian detective fiction productively via the analysis of French and Australian detective fiction novels but also to challenge and undermine the very notion of national detective fictions which are so often assumed to be transparently meaningful The contributors to this volume focus variously on the following areas comparative analysis of the genesis of French and Australian detective fiction translation of Australian and other novels into French translation as a genre Frenchness as a stereotype its role in individual novels and its spectre in all detective fiction and readings of individual French and Australian detective novels Overall this book aims to challenge assumptions about French detective fiction its influence on other national fictions and its explicit and implicit presence in all detective fiction Book Review Digest ,1997 Douglas Stewart Susan P. Ballyn Jenney,1996 Lion Hearts Henry R Lew,2018-11-01 An exceptional book about extraordinary people living in extraordinary times My only regret on completing it is that I have not met any of them personally Christopher Bantick A biography of Lonek Lew the author's father told through the lives of over twenty people he was friendly or associated with a number of whom were historical figures Using his father's clear and detailed accounts of his life in pre war Poland the Holocaust and his colourful life in Melbourne as well as personal meetings and memories the author assembles portraits of extraordinary people living through extraordinary events The Unknown Industrial Prisoner David Ireland,2013-06-26 Winner of the Miles Franklin Award in 1971 On the shores of Botany Bay lies an oil refinery where workers are free to come and go But they are also part of an unrelenting alienating economy from which there is no escape In the first of his three Miles Franklin Award winning novels originally published in 1971 David Ireland offers a fiercely brilliant comic portrait of Australia in the grip of a dehumanising labour system This edition of The Unknown Industrial Prisoner comes with an introduction by Peter Pierce David Ireland was born in 1927 on a kitchen table in Lakemba in south western Sydney He lived in many places and worked at many jobs including greenskeeper factory hand and for an extended period in an oil refinery before he became a full time writer Ireland started out writing poetry and drama but then turned to fiction His first novel The Chantic Bird was published in 1968 In the next decade he published five further novels three of which won the Miles Franklin Award The Unknown Industrial Prisoner The Glass Canoe and A Woman of the Future David Ireland was made a member of the Order of Australia in 1981 In 1985 he received the Australian Literature Society Gold Medal for his novel Archimedes and the Seagull textclassics.com.au A harsh and remarkable work it will leave you shaken mildly or terribly according to your life experience National Times When I think of my favourite Australian novels two 1970s works by David Ireland are near the top of the list The Unknown Industrial Prisoner and The Glass Canoe Stephen Romei Desert Channels Libby Robin,Chris Dickman,Mandy Martin,2011-05-05 Desert Channels is a book that combines art science and history to explore the impulse to conserve in the distinctive Desert Channels country of south western Queensland The region is the source of Australia's major inland flowing desert rivers Some of Australia's most interesting new conservation initiatives are in this region including partnerships between private landholders non government conservation organisations that buy and manage land including Bush Heritage Australia and the Australian Wildlife Conservancy and community based natural resource management groups such as Desert Channels Queensland Conservation biology in this place has a distinguished scientific history and includes two decades of ecological work by scientific editor Chris Dickman Chris is one of Australia's leading terrestrial ecologists and mammalogists He is an outstanding writer and is passionate about communicating the scientific basis for concern about biodiversity in this region to the broadest possible audience Libby Robin historian and award winning writer has co-ordinated the writings of the 46 contributors whose voices collectively portray the Desert Channels in all its facets The emphasis of the book is on partnerships that conserve landscapes and communities together Short textboxes add local and technical commentary where relevant Art and science combine with history and local knowledge to richly inform the writing and visual understanding of the country Conservation here is portrayed in four dimensions place landscape biodiversity and livelihood These four parts each carry four chapters The 4x4 structure was conceived by acclaimed artist Mandy Martin who has produced suites of artworks over three seasons in this format with commentaries which make the interludes between parts Martin's work offers an aesthetic framework of place which shapes how we see the region Desert Channels explores the impulse to protect the varied biodiversity of the region and its Aboriginal pastoral and prehistoric heritage including some of Australia's most important dinosaur sites The work of Alice Duncan Kemp the region's most significant literary figure is highlighted Even the sounds of the landscape are not forgotten the book's webpage has an audio interview by Alaskan radio journalist Richard Nelson talking to ecologist Steve Morton at Ocean Bore in the Simpson Desert country The twitter of zebra finches accompanies the interview Conservation can be accomplished in various ways and Desert Channels combines many distinguished voices The impulse to conserve is shared by local landholders conservation enthusiasts from the community and from national and international organisations Indigenous owners professional biologists artists and historians
