People and Plants in Australia Denis J. Carr, S. G. M. Carr, 1981 Essays by various authors about the history of botanical science and early agriculture chap 1 The botany of the first Australians by D J and S G M Carr annotated separately

Australian Native Plants Yasmina Sultanbawa, Fazal Sultanbawa, 2017-12-19 Australian Native Plants Cultivation and Uses in the Health and Food Industries provides a comprehensive overview of native food crops commercially grown in Australia that possess nutritional and health properties largely unknown on a global basis These native foods have been consumed traditionally have a unique flavor diversity offer significant health promoting effects and contain useful functional properties Australian native plant foods have also been identified for their promising antioxidant and antimicrobial properties that have considerable commercial potential This book is divided into three parts The first part reviews the cultivation and production of many Australian native plants ANP including Anise Myrtle Bush Tomato Desert Raisin Davidson s Plum Desert Limes Australian Finger Lime Kakadu Plum Lemon Aspen Lemon Myrtle Muntries Native Pepper Quandong Riberry and Wattle Seed It then examines the food and health applications of ANP and discusses alternative medicines based on aboriginal traditional knowledge and culture nutritional characteristics and bioactive compounds in ANP In addition it reviews the anti obesity and anti inflammatory properties of ANP and discusses food preservation antimicrobial activity of ANP and unique flavors from Australian native plants The third section covers the commercial applications of ANP It focuses on native Australian plant extracts and cosmetic applications processing of native plant foods and ingredients quality changes during packaging and storage of Australian native herbs The final few chapters look into the importance of value chains that connect producers and consumers of native plant foods new market opportunities for Australian indigenous food plants and the safety of using native foods as ingredients in the health and food sectors Australian Vegetation David A. Keith, 2017-06-15 This fully updated third edition provides a modern synthesis and review of the latest advances in understanding native vegetation across Australia People, Plants and Genes Denis J Murphy, 2007-07-19 This book provides a comprehensive interdisciplinary overview of human plant interactions and their social consequences from the hunter gatherers of the Palaeolithic Era to the 21st century molecular manipulation of crops It links the latest advances in molecular genetics climate research and archaeology to give a new perspective on the evolution of agriculture and complex human societies across the world Even today our technologically advanced societies still rely on plants for basic food needs not to mention clothing shelter medicines and tools This special relationship has tied together people and their chosen plants in mutual dependence for well over 50 000 years Yet despite these millennia of intimate contact people have only domesticated and cultivated a few dozen of the tens of thousands of potentially available edible plants This limited domestication process led directly to the evolution of the complex urban based societies that have dominated much of human development over the past ten millennia Thanks to the latest genomic studies we can now begin to explain how when and where some of the most important crops came to be domesticated and the crucial roles of plant genetics climatic change and social organisation in these processes Indeed it was their unique genetic organisations that ultimately determined which plants eventually became crops rather than any conscious decisions by their human cultivators The book is aimed at a wide audience ranging from plant specialists such as geneticists molecular biologists and agronomists to a more general readership of archaeologists anthropologists historians and others who wish to explore the complex processes that have shaped the often crucial relationships between plants and human societies over the past hundred millennia

Storying Plants in Australian Children's and Young Adult Literature Melanie Duckworth, Annika Herb, 2023-10-04 Storying Plants in Australian Children's and Young Adult Literature Roots and Winged Seeds explores cultural and historical aspects of the representation of plants in Australian children's and young adult literature encompassing colonial postcolonial and Indigenous perspectives While plants tend to be backgrounded as of less narrative interest than animals and humans this book in conversation with the field of critical plant studies approaches them as living beings worthy of attention Australia is home to over 20 000 species of native plants from pungent Eucalypts to twisting mangroves from tiny orchids to spiky silvery spinifex Indigenous Australians have lived with relied upon and cultivated these plants for many thousands of years When European explorers and colonists first invaded Australia unfamiliar species of plants captured their imagination Vulnerable to bushfires climate change and introduced species plants continue to occupy fraught but vital places in Australian ecologies texts and cultures Discussing writers from Ambelin Kwaymullina and Auntie Joy Murphy to May Gibbs and Ethel Turner and embracing transnational perspectives from Ukraine Poland and Aotearoa New Zealand Storying Plants addresses the stories told about plants but also the stories that plants themselves tell engaging with the wide ranging significance of plants in Australian children's and Young Adult literature

Handbook of Research on Deconstructing Culture and Communication in the Global South Okocha, Desmond Onyemehi, Yousaf, Muhammad, Onobe, Melchizedec J., 2023-07-10 There are inequalities in global knowledge production in communication outlets cultural practices and governance problems Under this symbiotic relationship they reinforce the cultural ideas values and governance systems operating in the Western countries as an ideal and role model for the Global South countries Media is regarded as the agent of change for communication and cultural values Indigenous knowledge production and dissemination is an essential feature to get a better insight into Global South countries Likewise dewesternizing and demystifying societal culture and governance issues are pertinent in this age of information The Handbook of Research on Deconstructing Culture and Communication in the Global South focuses on local production practices keeping in view the local needs of communication outlets and societal and cultural sensitivities This Indigenous knowledge would provide deeper and richer insights into the problems and sensitivities of Global South countries To achieve this end this book adopts a broader approach encompassing development issues democratic values digitalization practices gender equality issues and more Covering topics such as biocultural activism language ideology and religiocentrism
