two of the most basic dimensions of human life They envelop all human beings from birth to death As such they provide the context for human existence At the same time however time and space also serve as major influencing factors in mankind's actions Hence a vast literature has developed on time and space as separate dimensions and recently on time space as joint dimensions Interestingly enough the social connotations of time and space have mostly been studied with the individual human being in mind The more societal significance of time and space whether separately or jointly have been relatively neglected It is the purpose of this volume to help fill this lacuna through discussions on some of the many junctions of time space and society at large The discussion will naturally involve concepts and findings from more than just one discipline notably geography sociology social history and political science It is thus obvious that the topic may be highlighted from several perspectives Given my own education and work the approach will lean more to the geographical perspective Geography has a special merit as an integrating framework for the study of time space and society It is a discipline that has space at the center of its raison d'être and as such has always striven for integration holism and comprehensiveness The
