People Power And Place People Environments S:

Violence in Place, Cultural and Environmental Wounding Amanda Kearney, 2016-11-25 Human life is intimately woven into place Through nations and homelands monuments and sacred sites it becomes the anchorage point for ethnic cultural and national identities Yet it is also place that becomes the battlefield war zone mass grave desecrated site and destroyed landscape in the midst or aftermath of cultural wounding Much attention has been given to the impact of trauma and violence on human lives across generations but what of the spaces in which it occurs How does culturally prescribed violence impact upon place And how do the non human species with whom we coexist also suffer through episodes of conflict and violence By identifying violence in place as a crisis of our times and by encouraging both the witnessing and the diagnosing of harm this book reveals the greater effects of cultural wounding It problematises the habit of separating human life out from the ecologies in which it is held If people and place are bound through kinship whether through necessity and survival or choice and abiding love then wounding is co terminus The harms done to one will impact upon the other Case studies from Australia North and South America Europe and the Pacific illustrate the impact of violence in place while supporting a campaign for methodologies that reveal the fullness of the relational bond between people and place The book will appeal to students and practitioners alike with interests in cultural and human geography anthropology environmental humanities and moral ecology

Chronicles from the Environmental Justice Frontline J. Timmons Roberts,Melissa M. Toffolon-Weiss,2001-09-24 Chronicles from the Environmental Justice Frontline first published in 1991 provides a rare glimpse of the environmental justice movement as it plays out in four landmark struggles at the end of the twentieth century The book describes the stories of everyday people who have decided to take to the streets to battle what they perceive as injustice the unequal exposure of minorities and the poor to the bads produced by our industrial society In these struggles residents and local state and national environmental and social justice groups are on one side pitted against local and state government representatives and industry on the other By employing historical and theoretical lenses in viewing these struggles the book reveals how situations of environmental injustice are created and how they are resolved These cases bear great similarity to battles occurring across the nation and are setting precedents for national and state agencies as they handle these cases

Freedom Rising Christian Welzel,2013-12-23 This book presents a comprehensive theory of why human freedom gave way to increasing oppression since the invention of states and why this trend began to reverse itself more recently leading to a rapid expansion of universal freedoms and democracy Drawing on a massive body of evidence the author tests various explanations of the rise of freedom providing convincing support of a well reasoned theory of emancipation The study demonstrates multiple trends toward human empowerment which converge to give people control over their lives Most important among these trends is the spread of emancipative values which emphasize free choice and equal opportunities The author identifies the desire for emancipation as the origin of the human empowerment trend and shows when and why this desire grows strong why it is the source of democracy and how it vitalizes civil society feeds humanitarian norms enhances happiness and helps redirect modern civilization toward sustainable development Tourism Diplomacy Mahmut Demir, Şirvan Şen Demir, 2025-08-13 This edited volume explores emerging trends and challenges in tourism diplomacy including the growing influence of digital technologies and social media in shaping diplomatic efforts Facing Global Environmental Change Hans Günter Brauch, Navnita Chadha Behera, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, John Grin, Ürsula Oswald Spring, Béchir Chourou, Czesław Mesjasz, Heinz Krummenacher, 2009-06-04 The year 2007 could perhaps accurately be described as the year when climate change finally received the attention that this challenge deserves globally Much of the information and knowledge that was created in this field during the year was the result of the findings of the Fourth Assessment Report AR4 of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC which were disseminated on a large scale and reported extensively by the media This was the result not only of a heightened interest on the part of the public on various aspects of climate change but also because the IPCC itself proactively attempted to spread the findings of its AR4 to the public at large The interest generated on the scientific realities of climate change was further enhanced by the award of the Nobel Peace Prize to the IPCC and former Vice President of the US Al Gore By taking this decision in favour of a leader who has done a great deal to create awareness on climate change and a body that assesses all scientific aspects of climate change and disseminates the result of its findings the Norwegian Nobel Committee has clearly drawn the link between climate change and peace in the world Pentoutopia Thomas Diefenbach, 2022-09-26 This book is about Pentoutopia the model of a good society It shows how a society could be how a society should be a society where everyone is as free as possible where all institutions are as democratic as possible where all people have relatively equal conditions where life is just and where systems and processes are sustainable The book illustrates comprehensively and in detail how institutions organisations the economy and society can be based on and function according to the principles of freedom democracy equality justice and sustainability Moreover it demonstrates how Pentoutopia works how its people and institutions establish and maintain a society that is not just a distant utopia but a realistic achievable and doable utopia Quality of Life Shruti Tripathi, Rashmi Rai, Ingrid Van Rompay-Bartels, 2021-08-09 Quality of Life An Interdisciplinary Perspective presents the Quality of Life using a contemporary and interdisciplinary approach Various socio cultural spiritual technological and human factors aspects which have an immense bearing on our lives are an integral part of this book This book highlights cultural differences in terms of Quality of Life It recognizes the presence of cultural differences resulting from the social status attributed to an individual's age gender class race and ethnicity It can be used as a guide in the field of global well being and for future research It presents clues to complex problems and empirical materials and attempts to bring out a more comprehensive picture of global and contemporary Quality of Life and well being This book can also fill a gap in teaching and research Those who will find this book useful are researchers academicians practitioners and students of management behavioral science human factors psychology health economics sociology public health and politics International Environment Reporter
