A World Without Work Daniel Susskind, 2020-01-14 SHORTLISTED FOR THE FINANCIAL TIMES MCKINSEY 2020 BUSINESS BOOK OF THE YEAR One of Fortune Best Books of the Year One of Inc Best Business Books of the Year One of The Times UK Best Business Books of the Year A New York Times Book Review Editors Choice From an Oxford economist a visionary account of how technology will transform the world of work and what we should do about it From mechanical looms to the combustion engine to the first computers new technologies have always provoked panic about workers being replaced by machines For centuries such fears have been misplaced and many economists maintain that they remain so today But as Daniel Susskind demonstrates this time really is different Breakthroughs in artificial intelligence mean that all kinds of jobs are increasingly at risk Drawing on almost a decade of research in the field Susskind argues that machines no longer need to think like us in order to outperform us as was once widely believed As a result more and more tasks that used to be far beyond the capability of computers from diagnosing illnesses to drafting legal contracts from writing news reports to composing music are coming within their reach The threat of technological unemployment is now real This is not necessarily a bad thing Susskind emphasizes Technological progress could bring about unprecedented prosperity solving one of humanity's oldest problems how to make sure that everyone has enough to live on The challenges will be to distribute this prosperity fairly to constrain the burgeoning power of Big Tech and to provide meaning in a world where work is no longer the center of our lives Perceptive pragmatic and ultimately hopeful A World Without Work shows the way

Schiffrin,2014-08-07 While the current conversation about work family balance and having it all tends to focus on women both men and women are harmed when conditions make it impossible to balance meaningful work with family life Yet both will benefit from re evaluating what it means to have it all and fighting for changes in their relationships and society to make greater equality possible Here Miriam Liss and Holly Hollomon Schiffrin discuss the ways in which we all define having it all and how we can obtain it for ourselves through a better evaluation of what we want from ourselves our families our jobs and each other Determining a 50 50 division of labor around the house may not be the thing that works for everyone Working from home or not at all may not be the thing to bring us satisfaction but learning what studies show and how to feel balanced and make those decisions to bring balance is crucial The authors argue that people can find balance in their roles by doing things in moderation Although being engaged in both parenting and work is good for well being people can avoid the pitfalls of over parenting and over working They show that balance can come from a meaningful consideration of what happiness and contentedness mean to us as individuals and how best to achieve our goals within the limitations of our current circumstances They illustrate that balance is not simply an individual problem Social issues such as the lack of parental leave flexible work schedules and affordable high quality child care make balance difficult With attention now on the issue they argue that it s time men and women advocate for better services and better opportunities to achieve balance happiness and success in all their roles     Cambridge IGCSE® Business Studies Coursebook with CD-ROM Mark Fisher,Medi Houghton,Veenu Jain,2014-05-29 This revised set of resources for Cambridge IGCSE Business Studies syllabus 0450 and Cambridge O Level Business Studies syllabus 7115 is thoroughly updated for the latest syllabus for first examinations from 2015 Written by experienced teachers the Coursebook provides comprehensive coverage of the syllabus Accessible language combined with the clear visually stimulating layout makes this an ideal resource for the course Questions and explanation of key terms reinforce knowledge different kinds of activities build application analytical and evaluation skills case studies contextualise the content making it relevant to the international learner It provides thorough examination support for both papers with questions at the end of each chapter and an extensive case study at the end of each unit The CD ROM contains revision aids further questions and activities A Teachers CD ROM is also available     Supervision in the Hospitality Industry John R.
