White World Order, Black Power Politics Robert Vitalis, 2015-12-09 Racism and imperialism are the twin forces that propelled the course of the United States in the world in the early twentieth century and in turn affected the way that diplomatic history and international relations were taught and understood in the American academy Evolutionary theory social Darwinism and racial anthropology had been dominant doctrines in international relations from its beginnings racist attitudes informed research priorities and were embedded in newly formed professional organizations In White World Order Black Power Politics Robert Vitalis recovers the arguments texts and institution building of an extraordinary group of professors at Howard University including Alain Locke Ralph Bunche Rayford Logan Eric Williams and Merze Tate who was the first black female professor of political science in the country Within the rigidly segregated profession the Howard School of International Relations represented the most important center of opposition to racism and the focal point for theorizing feasible alternatives to dependency and domination for Africans and African Americans through the early 1960s Vitalis pairs the contributions of white and black scholars to reconstitute forgotten historical dialogues and show the critical role played by race in the formation of international relations

Jews in China Irene Eber, 2019-10-21 Irene Eber was one of the foremost authorities on Jews in China during the twentieth and twenty first centuries a field that in contrast to the study of the Jewish diaspora in Europe and the Americas has been critically neglected This volume gathers fourteen of Eber's most salient articles and essays on the exchanges between Jewish and Chinese cultures making available to students scholars and general readers a representative sample of the range and depth of her important work in the field of Jews in China Jews in China delineates the centuries long reciprocal dialogue between Jews Jewish culture and China all under the overarching theme of cultural translation The first section of the book sets forth a sweeping overview of the history of Jews in China beginning in the twelfth century and concluding with a detailed assessment of the two crucial years leading up to the Second World War The second section examines the translation of Chinese classics into Hebrew and the translation of the Hebrew Bible into Chinese The third and final section turns to modern literature bringing together eight essays that underscore the cultural reciprocity that takes place through acts of translation The centuries long relationship between Judaism and China is often overlooked in the light of the extensive discourse surrounding European and American Judaism With this volume Eber reminds us that we have much to learn from the intersections between Jewish identity and Chinese culture
