R. Adams, 2013-12-11 In the last fifty years the investigation of maritime archaeological sites in the sea in the coastal zone and in their interconnecting locales has emerged as one of archaeology's most dynamic and fast developing fields No longer a niche interest maritime archaeology is recognised as having central relevance in the integrated study of the human past Within maritime archaeology the study of watercraft has been understandably prominent and yet their potential is far from exhausted In this book Jon Adams evaluates key episodes of technical change in the ways that ships were conceived designed built used and disposed of As technological puzzles they have long confounded explanation but when viewed in the context of the societies in which they were created mysteries begin to dissolve Shipbuilding is social practice and as one of the most complex artefacts made changes in their technology provide a lens through which to view the ideologies strategies and agency of social change Adams argues that the harnessing of shipbuilding was one of the ways in which medieval society became modern and while the primary case studies are historical he also demonstrates that the relationships between ships and society have key implications for our understanding of prehistory in which seafaring and communication had similarly profound effects on the tide of human affairs The Oxford Handbook of Engineering and Technology in the Classical World John Peter Oleson, 2008 Nearly every aspect of daily life in the Mediterranean world and Europe during the florescence of the Greek and Roman cultures is relevant to engineering and technology This text highlights the accomplishments of the ancient societies the research problems and stimulates further progress in the history of ancient technology Stories of Globalisation: The Red Sea and the Persian Gulf from Late Prehistory to Early Modernity Andrea Manzo, Chiara Zazzaro, Diana Joyce De Falco, 2018-11-26 This book contains a selection of papers presented at the Red Sea VII conference titled The Red Sea and the Gulf Two Maritime Alternative Routes in the Development of Global Economy from Late Prehistory to Modern Times The Red Sea and the Gulf are similar geographically and environmentally and complementary to each other as well as being competitors in their economic and cultural interactions with the Mediterranean and the Indian Ocean The chapters of the volume are grouped in three sections corresponding to the various historical periods Each chapter of the book offers the reader the opportunity to travel across the regions of the Red Sea and the Gulf and from the Mediterranean to the Indian Ocean from prehistory to the contemporary era With contributions by Ahmed Hussein Abdelrahman Serena Autiero Mahmoud S Bashir Kathryn A Bard Alemsege Beldados Ioana A Dumitru Serena Esposito Rodolfo Fattovich Luigi Gallo Michal Gawlikowski Caterina Giostra Sunil Gupta Michael Harrower Martin Hense Linda Huli Sarah Japp Serena Massa Ralph K Pedersen Jacke S Phillips Patrice Pomey Joanna K R dkowska Mike Schnelle Lucy Semaan Steven E Sidebotham Shadia Taha Husna Taha Elatta Joanna Then Ob uska and Iwona Zych Wonderful Things: A History of Egyptology, Volume 3 Jason Thompson, 2018-10-16 The discovery of ancient Egypt and the development of Egyptology are momentous events in intellectual and cultural history The history of Egyptology is the story of the people famous and obscure who constructed the picture of ancient Egypt that we have today recovered the Egyptian past while inventing it anew and made a lost civilization comprehensible to generations of enchanted readers and viewers thousands of years later This the third of a three volume history of Egyptology follows the progress of the discipline from the trauma of the First World War through the vicissitudes of the twentieth century and into Egyptology's new horizons at the beginning of the twenty first century Wonderful Things affirms that the history of ancient Egypt has proved continually fascinating but it also demonstrates that the history of Egyptology is no less so Only by understanding how Egyptology has developed can we truly understand the Egyptian past

Creating Shapes in Civil and Naval Architecture Horst Nowacki, Wolfgang Lefèvre, 2009 The design construction and verification of complex two and three dimensional shapes in architecture and ship geometry have always been a particularly demanding part of the art of engineering Before science based structural design and analysis were applied in the construction industries i.e. before 1800 the task of conceiving documenting and fabricating such shapes constituted the most significant interface between practitioner's knowledge and learned knowledge above all in geometry The history of shape development in these two disciplines therefore promises especially valuable insights into the knowledge history of shape creation This volume is a collection of contributions by outstanding scholars in their fields of study archaeology history of architecture and ship design in classic antiquity the Middle Ages and the early modern period The volume presents a comparative knowledge history in these two distinct branches of construction engineering Cedar Forests, Cedar Ships Sara A. Rich, 2017-04-19 It is commonly recognized that the Cedars of Lebanon were prized in the ancient world but how can the complex archaeological role of the Cedrus genus be articulated in terms that go beyond its interactions with humans alone Back to the Garden James H. S. McGregor, 2015-02-10 The garden was the cultural foundation of the early Mediterranean peoples they acknowledged their reliance on and kinship to the land and they understood nature through the lens of their diversely cultivated landscape Their image of the garden underwrote the biblical book of Genesis and the region's three major religions In this important melding of cultural and ecological histories James H S McGregor suggests that the environmental crisis the world faces today is a result of Western society's abandonment of the First Nature principle of the harmonious interrelationship of human communities and the natural world The author demonstrates how this relationship which persisted for millennia effectively came to an end in the late eighteenth century when nature came to be equated with untamed landscape devoid of human intervention McGregor's essential work offers a new understanding of environmental accountability while proposing that recovering the original vision of ourselves not as antagonists of nature but as cultivators of a biological world to which we innately belong is possible through proven techniques of the past Egyptian Deportations of the Late Bronze Age Christian Langer, 2021-09-20 Egyptian Deportations of the Late Bronze Age explores the political economy of deportations in New Kingdom Egypt ca 1550 1070 BCE from an interdisciplinary angle The analysis of ancient Egyptian primary source material and the international correspondence of the time draws a comprehensive picture of the complex and far reaching policies The dataset reveals their geographic scope economic and demographic impact in Egypt and abroad as well as their interconnection with territorial expansion international relations and labour management The supply chain profiting institutions and individuals in Egypt as well as the labour tasks origins and the composition of the deportees are discussed in detail A comparative analytical framework integrates the Egyptian policies with a review of deportation discourses as well as historical premodern and modern cases and enables a global and diachronic understanding of the topic The study is thus the first systematic investigation of deportations in ancient Egyptian history and offers new insights into Egyptian governance that revise previous assessments of the role of forced migration and unfree labour in ancient Egyptian society and their long term effects Ships, Saints and Sealore Dionisius A. Agius, Timmy Gambin, Athena Trakadas, 2014-07-28 A selection of conference papers and other contributions see the coming together of scholars and researchers from backgrounds as diverse as archaeology history ethnography maritime and heritage studies to offer an engaging and insightful study of the Mediterranean and the Red Sea and its influences on various factors of life past and present The Gordion Wooden Objects, Volume 1 The Furniture from Tumulus MM (2-vol. set) Elizabeth Simpson, 2010-12-15 The Furniture from Tumulus MM The Gordion Wooden Objects volume 1 is a study of the furniture from the largest tomb at Gordion Turkey excavated in 1957 by the University of Pennsylvania Museum The tomb dates to the eighth century BC and is thought to be the burial of the great Phrygian king Midas or his father The objects initially misunderstood are now identified as nine tables two serving stands two stools a chair and an open log coffin Three pieces are ornately carved and inlaid with religious symbols and complex geometric motifs The wooden objects from Gordion are now recognized as the most important collection of well preserved wooden artifacts excavated from the Near East Included in this volume are new photographs reconstruction drawings and eight scientific technical appendices Contributors include Harry Alden Burhan Aytu Mary W Ballard Robert A Blanchette Roland Cunningham Laure Dussubieux Patrick E McGovern Benjamin Held Walter Hopwood Joseph Koles Lynn E Roller Krysia Spirydowicz this work goes well beyond a typical site specific object catalogue and makes important contributions to a wide range of scholarly fields both technical and conceptual from textile and wood analysis to anthropological and religious studies Elizabeth P Baughan University of Richmond The book succeeds in its main aims of making available every scrap of information about the finds and it illuminates form techniques and function in a most convincing and stimulating manner Catherine M Draycott Courtauld Institute of Art
