Sadness At The Private University:

Sadness at the Private University Ralph Adamo,1978-04 Days of Sadness, Years of Triumph Geoffrey Perrett,1985 First published in 1973 Geoffrey Perrett's portrait of war time America was immediately hailed as a major retrospective Perrett vividly describes the social political and economic fabric of American domestic life from 1939 to 1945 and argues that the World War II years precipitated a crucial if silent social revolution at home one that continues to reverberate today The Public and Private Management of Grief Caroline Pearce,2019-05-09 Through a critical analysis of theory policy and practice The Public and Private Management of Grief looks at how recovery is the prevailing discourse that measures and frames how people grieve and considers what happens when people fail to recover Pearce draws on in depth interviews with bereaved people and a range of bereavement professionals to contemplate how failures to recover are socially perceived and acted upon Grounded in Foucauldian theory this book problematises the notion of recovery and instead argues for the acknowledgment of the experience of non recovery highlighting how recovery is a socially and historically constructed notion linked to the individualised vision of health and happiness promoted by neo liberal governmentality This book will be of interest to students and scholars across sociology anthropology social work and psychology with a focus on death dying and bereavement grief studies health and social care as well as counsellors clinical psychologists and social workers Contemporary American Poetry Lloyd M. Davis,1985 Lists over 5 200 titles of books published by American poets between 1973 and 1983 Non-Death Loss and Grief Darcy L. Harris,2019-10-16 Non-Death Loss and Grief offers an inclusive perspective on loss and grief exploring recent research clinical applications and current thinking on non death losses and the unique features of the grieving process that accompany them The book places an overarching focus on the losses that we encounter in everyday life and the role of these loss experiences in shaping us as we continue living A main emphasis is the importance of having words to accurately express these living losses such as loss of communication with a loved one due to disease or trauma which are often not acknowledged for the depth of their impact Chapters showcase a wide range of contributions from international leaders in the field and explore individual perspectives on loss as well as experiences that are more interpersonal and sociopolitical in nature Illustrated by case studies and clinical examples throughout this is a highly relevant text for clinicians looking to enhance their support of those living with ongoing loss and grief The Poetics of Grief and Melancholy in East-West Conflicts and Reconciliations Chi Sum Garfield Lau,Kelly Kar Yue Chan,2024-03-01 This book is a collection of academic essays that examines the representation esthetics and dichotomy of the notions of grief and melancholy in East West exchanges and cultural dialogues It explores the topic in the dimensions of individual behaviors under specific social norms and cultural products such as literature film and any other forms of arts genres etc In his 1917 work Mourning and Melancholia Trauer und Melancholie Sigmund Freud connected the grief of loss with melancholic emotions which may give rise to acts of mourning He suggested that in mourning it is the world which has become poor and empty in melancholia it is the ego itself Freud 1917 246 Inspired by Freud's stance and with the goal of providing up to date intellectual resources for academics researchers and students with ardent interests in the varying exemplifications of grief and melancholy in Sino Western contexts the book serves more than a discussion over the pragmatic and ritualistic connections of grief and melancholy in relation to the inner self and the external world It aims at the pursuit of a contemporary theorization of grief and melancholy beyond its modern limits

Decision Making and Problem Solving in Organizations: Assessing and Expanding the Carnegie Perspective Daniella Laureiro

Martinez,Pino Audia,Daniel A. Newark,2024-09-04 Within the broader study of decision making the Carnegie perspective occupies a unique place Initially developed by pioneering scholars such as Herbert Simon and James March it views organizational decisions as resulting from the combined influences of a psychological processes of attention allocation interpretation of experience and motivated search and b features of the organizational context that direct attention influence preferences contend with ambiguity contain conflict and divide labor Despite its unique strengths and a considerable body of work see below some foundational references research that adopts the Carnegie perspective is still relatively unknown outside the field of organization studies As James March noted Carnegie has been primarily an importer of ideas rather than an exporter The goal of this research topic is to facilitate dialogue and integration between this well established Carnegie perspective and other lines of inquiry into the study of decision making and problem solving We are interested in bringing to the fore what is distinctive in the accumulated body of evidence produced by the Carnegie perspective and highlighting similarities differences and potential points of connection with other research done on similar topics To achieve this goal we hope that the front end of each submission will cover the following four components

The Grief of God Ellen M. Ross, 1997-03-20 Graphic portrayals of the suffering Jesus Christ pervade late medieval English art literature drama and theology These images have been interpreted as signs of a new emphasis on the humanity of Jesus To others they indicate a fascination with a terrifying God of vengeance and a morbid obsession with death In The Grief of God however Ellen Ross offers a different understanding of the purpose of this imagery and its meaning to the people of the time Analyzing a wide range of textual and pictorial evidence the author finds that the bleeding flesh of the wounded Savior manifests divine presence in the intensified corporeality of the suffering Jesus whose flesh not only condemns but also nurtures heals and feeds believers meet a trinitarian God of mercy Ross explores the rhetoric of transformation common to English medieval artistic literary and devotional sources The extravagant depictions of pain and anguish the author shows constitute an urgent appeal to respond to Jesus expression of love She also explains how the inscribing of Christ's pain on the bodies of believers at times erased the boundaries between human and divine so that holy persons and in particular holy women participated in the transformative power of Christ In analyzing the dialects of mercy and justice the construction of sacred space and time sacraments and ritual celebration social action and divine judgment and the dynamics of women's public religious authority this study of religion and culture explores the meaning of the late medieval Christian affirmation that God bled and wept and suffered on the cross to draw persons to Godself This interdisciplinary study of sermon literature manuscript illuminations and church wall paintings drama hagiographic narratives and spiritual treatises illuminates the religious sensibilities practices and beliefs that constellate around the late medieval fascination with the bleeding body of the suffering Jesus Christ
