Tompkins,1983-01-01 For the Aviation Facilities Plan, Santa Barbara Airport, Santa Barbara, Santa Barbara County ,2002 Stone Architecture in Santa Barbara ,2009 Building with stone requires a commitment to permanence like the extraordinary almost citywide conviction of builders in Santa Barbara from the 1870s through the 1930s As Santa Barbara was evolving from a dusty little port and outlying resort into a vibrant and growing city there occurred an extraordinary era of stone construction This was made possible by a fortuitous conjunction of factors abundant material a cadre of expert artisans and almost unlimited financing This period provided an atmosphere not only conducive to the building of public spaces homes bridges walls and an assortment of other stonework but encouraged some exceptional expressions of the stoneworkers art Many of these artistic fabrications remain a testimony to the skills and tastes of their creators and add a distinctive element to the particular ambiance that makes Santa Barbara the special place that it is

California's Frontier Naturalists Richard G. Beidleman,2006-03-02 In California s Frontier Naturalists Richard Beidleman has eloquently chronicled the history of explorations and discovery that revealed the grand legacy of California s biodiversity More than just a series of scholarly essays about naturalists collections and species this book provides lively insight into the motivation that lured diverse naturalists to California s natural cornucopia their personalities their remarkable experiences and their lasting contributions Dieter Wilken Santa Barbara Botanic Garden Wine By Design Victor W. Geraci,2020-03-18 From its eighteenth century beginnings the Santa Barbara wine industry achieved success by embracing a wine by design model In this process farmers winemakers and entrepreneurs overcome roadblocks like diseases government policies and regulations and environmental concerns by utilizing the latest technological advances coupled with agribusiness capitalism As the American demand for premium wine grapes intensified in the late twentieth century the Northern California wine industry rapidly grew its boutique and innovative local designer winemaking to increase profit to meet demand and compete on a global scale Set in the context of the regional national and global wine community this story illuminates a regional story of how the Santa Barbara wine industry found solutions to current market conditions while utilizing local traditions to develop a new version of local wine terroir An accomplishment that allowed them to compete in the global marketplace yet develop highly specialized wine that is unique to the region By employing leading edge technology and entrepreneurship the California Central Coast region of Santa Barbara became a model for the American vision of agricultural innovation and an integral part of the international wine trade developing a personalized version of local wine terroir Selling the City Lee M. A. Simpson,2004 Between 1880 and 1940 California cities were in the vanguard in creating comprehensive city plans and zoning ordinances that came to characterize modern American city growth This book reveals the means by which property owning middle class women achieved entry into the male dominated sphere of urban planning It suggests that women in California were not excluded from public life Instead they embraced the middle class ideology of propertied self interest and participated to the fullest extent possible in the urban struggle for regional dominance that shaped this period of western history Likewise as urban historians have presented this story as essentially male this work suggests that although California s urban elite often maintained a division of labor along traditional gender lines they clearly worked in a cross gender alliance to shape a regional identity based on a commitment to urban growth

Indigenous Landscapes and Spanish Missions Lee Panich,Tsim D. Schneider,2014-04-17 Spanish missions in North America were once viewed as confining and stagnant communities with native peoples on the margins of the colonial enterprise Recent archaeological and ethnohistorical research challenges that notion Indigenous Landscapes and Spanish Missions considers how native peoples actively incorporated the mission system into their own dynamic existence The book written by diverse scholars and edited by Lee M Panich and Tsim D Schneider covers missions in the Spanish borderlands from California to Texas to Georgia Offering thoughtful arguments and innovative perspectives the editors organized the book around three interrelated themes The first section explores power politics and belief recognizing that Spanish missions were established within indigenous landscapes with preexisting tensions alliances and belief systems The second part addressing missions from the perspective of indigenous inhabitants focuses on their social economic and historical connections to the surrounding landscapes The final section considers the varied connections between mission communities and the world beyond the mission walls including examinations of how mission neophytes missionaries and colonial elites vied for land and natural resources Indigenous Landscapes and Spanish Missions offers a holistic view on the consequences of missionization and the active negotiation of missions by indigenous peoples revealing cross cutting perspectives into the complex and contested histories of the Spanish borderlands This volume challenges readers to examine deeply the ways in which native peoples negotiated colonialism not just inside the missions themselves but also within broader indigenous landscapes This book will be of interest to archaeologists historians tribal scholars and anyone interested in indigenous encounters with colonial institutions Artful Lives Beth Gates Warren,2011 Sumario Prologue Edward Weston a Midwestern upbringing 1886 1905 Weston takes on Tropic 1906 1912 Margrethe Mather an inauspicious start 1886 1912 The City of the Angels 1850 1913 Getting established early 1913 Getting acquainted late 1913 to 1914 Challenges 1915 Outside influences 1916 The tide turns 1917 War and pestilence 1918 Exhilaration 1919 Seeking acclaim 1920 Fame and angst 1921 Tragedies and triumphs 1922 Endings and beginnings 1923 Epilogue Afterword Operation Storm John Geoghegan,2014-03-18 The riveting true story of Japan s top secret plan to change the course of World War II using a squadron of mammoth submarines a generation ahead of their time In 1941 the architects of Japan s sneak attack on Pearl Harbor planned a bold follow up a potentially devastating air raid this time against New York City and Washington DC The classified Japanese program required developing a squadron of top secret submarines the Sen toku or I 400 class designed as underwater aircraft carriers each equipped with three Aichi M6A1 attack bombers painted to look like U S aircraft The bombers called Seiran which translates as storm from a clear sky were tucked in a huge water tight hanger on the sub s deck The subs mission was to travel more than halfway around the world surface on the U S coast and launch their deadly air attack This entire operation was unknown to U S intelligence And the amazing thing is how close the Japanese came to pulling it off John Geoghegan s meticulous research including first person accounts from the I 401 crew and the U S capturing party creates a fascinating portrait of the Sen toku s desperate push into Allied waters and the U S Navy s dramatic pursuit masterfully illuminating a previously forgotten story of the Pacific war Arsenal of Defense J'Nell L. Salud! Victor W. Geraci, 2004-03-01 In 1965 soil and climatic studies indicated that the Santa Ynez and Santa Maria valleys of Santa Barbara County California offered suitable conditions for growing high quality wine grapes Thus was launched a revival of the area s two centuries old wine industry that by 1995 made Santa Barbara County an internationally prominent wine region Salud traces the evolution of Santa Barbara viticulture in the larger context of California s history and economy offering insight into one of the state s most important industries California has produced wine since Spanish missionaries first planted grapes to make sacramental wines but it was not until the late twentieth century that changing consumer tastes and a flourishing national economy created the conditions that led to the state s wine boom Historian Victor W Geraci uses the Santa Barbara wine industry as a case study to analyze the history and evolution of American viticulture from its obscure colonial beginnings to its current international acclaim As elsewhere in the state Santa Barbara County vintners faced the multiple challenges of selecting grape varieties appropriate to their unique conditions protecting their crops from disease and insects developing local wineries and of marketing their products in a highly competitive national and international market Geraci gives careful attention to all the details of this production agriculture science and technology capitalization and investment land use issues politics the specter posed by the behemoth Napa and multinational wine corporations and the social and personal consequences of creating and supporting an industry vulnerable to so many natural and economic crises His extensive research includes interviews with many industry professionals California is today one of the world s major wine producers and Santa Barbara County contributes significantly to the volume and renowned quality of this wine production Salud offers a highly engaging overview of an industry in which the ancient romance of wine too often obscures a complex and diverse modern vintibusiness that for better and sometimes for worse has shaped the regions it dominates

Santa Cruz Island John Gherini, 2015-07-08 Rising from the waters of the Pacific off the southern California Coast Santa Cruz Island captures the imagination Once home to a large Chumash population in the nineteenth century it became a self sufficient island rancho As with all islands of beauty and size it attracted people from the coastline But as author John Gherini tells us in his prologue The attractions of the island however routinely led people into conflict wrapping it in a shroud like its morning fog The modern history of the island would witness the passion to own it to protect it to use it and to fight over it For the first time a thorough history of Santa Cruz Island s tumultuous past is provided In pre Columbian times it was a source of wealth to the indigenous peoples the place where they made their shell bead money During the Spanish Mexican period it was a smuggler s haven where fur hunters avoided the customs officials As a land grant it passed through the hands of Andres Castillero William E Barron and eventually was purchased by Justinian Caire The island flourished under the direction of Caire and his family It was a secluded paradise off the Santa Barbara Coast with extensive sheep and cattle holdings as well as an esteemed winery Seeds of conflict were sown by Justinian Caire s will when the island was divided between family members The Stantons Rossis Gherinis the National Park Service and The Nature Conservancy all were involved over time The tortured legal and family disputes are recounted for the first time in this important new work Island ranching hunting and recreation and environmental challenges are described in detail Recent historical events involving the establishment of the Channel Islands National Park are explored as well A handsome volume with notes appendix bibliography and index Embellished with thirty six photographs and maps from the author s family archives Selling the City Lee Michelle August Simpson,1996 Race And Homicide In

Nineteenth-Century California Clare V.
