The Idea of Europe in British Travel Narratives, 1789-1914 Katarina Gephardt, 2016-03-03 The nineteenth century was the heyday of travel with Britons continually reassessing their own culture in relation to not only the colonized but also other Europeans especially the ones that they encountered on the southern and eastern peripheries of the continent Offering illustrative case studies Katarina Gephardt shows how specific rhetorical strategies used in contemporary travel writing produced popular fictional representations of continental Europe in the works of Ann Radcliffe Lord Byron Charles Dickens and Bram Stoker She examines a wide range of autobiographical and fictional travel narratives to demonstrate that the imaginative geographies underpinning British ideas of Europe emerged from the spaces between fact and fiction Adding texture to her study are her analyses of the visual dimensions of cross cultural representation and of the role of evolving technologies in defining a shared set of rhetorical strategies Gephardt argues that British writers envisioned their country simultaneously as distinct from the Continent and as a part of Europe anticipating the contradictory British discourse around European integration that involves both fear that the European super state will violate British sovereignty and a desire to play a more central role in the European Union

The Representation of the Ottoman Orient in Eighteenth Century English Literature Hasan Baktir, 2010-08-01 Inspired by the growing interest in oriental countries and cultures Hasan Baktir examines the representation of the Ottoman Orient in 18th century English literature taking a new perspective to achieve a comprehensive understanding and investigating different aspects of the interaction between the Ottoman Orient and 18th century Europe A number of questions continue to arise in the wake of Said's 1978 landmark study Orientalism How monodirectional was the flow of power in such representations To what extent did the travelling observer also participate and become influenced by the phenomena he tried to depict without attachment What variety of motivations lay behind the desire to know and represent the Oriental other was it simply a question of political control Or were there deeper more enigmatic factors at play sexuality existential affirmation even utter idiosyncrasy How various and diverse was the Western response to the East can we discern degrees of sympathy knowledge and difference in the various Orientals offered to us by the canonical and non canonical figures of 18th century English letters Baktir's study provides answers to many aspects of these questions through a detailed examination of very different texts Baktir does not completely reject Said's argument that European writers created a separate discourse to represent the Orient rather he shows us that there was also a dialogic and negotiating tendency which did not make a radical distinction between the East and the West Relying his argument on 18th century pseudo oriental letters oriental tales and oriental travelogues Baktir demonstrates that the representation of the Ottoman Orient in 18th century English literature differs essentially from earlier centuries because a developing critical and liberal spirit established a negotiation between the two worlds In this book he indicates how the critical and inquisitive spirit of the age of Enlightenment interanimated Oriental and European cultures

Encountering Ephemera 1500-1800 Joshua B. Fisher, Rebecca Steinberger, 2014-07-24 This volume addresses two key questions 1 How can ephemera be understood as a critical category of literary and historical inquiry and 2 How can ephemera serve pedagogical purposes in the classroom Each of the essays in Encountering Ephemera 1550 1800 Scholarship Performance Classroom addresses these questions by exploring a diverse range of materials as well as periods The essays collectively work to define ephemera as a complex and multi faceted critical category in terms of its literary cultural and historical significance Each contributor works to complicate the traditional binary opposition between the ephemeral transitory and the canonical enduring in part by recognizing how attending to the material processes of textual production transmission and dissemination highlights the potential instability and mutability of texts and textual relationships whether discussing broadside ballads or coterie poetry By shifting the focus to the processes by which texts are constructed and construed the prospect of recognizing any text regardless of its canonical status as a static and fixed entity becomes difficult and in turn the ephemeral qualities that define and constitute the text's materiality come more sharply into focus Along these lines the ephemeral spaces across and between discourses what might be called the ephemera of cultural poetics play a key role in shaping literary texts Thus early modern and eighteenth century ephemera constitute both the material texts not intended to last or designed for limited cultural life and the process fleeting and transitory aspects of cultural production Whether discussing the circulation of cheap print the performative traces of music and gesture in Shakespeare's plays or the diffuse cultural influences that both surround and pervade literary texts attending to ephemeral matters underscores the dynamic unfixedness of early modern and eighteenth century cultural practices Aphra Behn Mary Ann O'Donnell, 2017-03-02 This annotated bibliography constitutes a thoroughly revised and more easily readable study of Behn's publications of those edited or translated by her of publications that included her works and of writings ascribed to her along with an annotated bibliography of over 1600 works about her from 1671 to 2001 with an unannotated update covering 2002 The augmented primary bibliography describes all known editions and issues of her works to 1702 and adds a catalogue of editions to 2002 including on line sources The secondary bibliography adds close to 1000 items published since 1984 to the original 600 of the first edition along with about 175 more from 1671 to 1984 with attention to materials not in English New appendices include a list of dedicatees actors recent productions with reviews and provenances This volume will be invaluable for book dealers collectors and librarians as well as students and scholars of Aphra Behn and of Restoration literature Being and Building up the Church in My Father's Home Alozie Oliver Onwubiko, 2020-05-29 The rehabilitation by St Pope Paul VI of African traditional religions and cultures has made them more objective for philosophical theological and anthropological investigation and reflection And the investigating and reflecting subject is a native African himself The repatriation of missiology into ecclesiology in the Catholic Church towards the end of the 20th Century was a new development and the result of it is what we have before us in this book Here personal native anthropological philosophical and theological studies and experience have combined with in depth reading of some African novelists necessarily Afrocentric distillation of African culture has nourished thinking and reflection at a new level in terms of ecclesial implications of living Christianity authentically and of being and building the Church in my father's home beyond deference as defect Signs That Sing Heather Maring, 2017-06-13 Maring considers several types of Old English verse oral poetry with its simultaneity of composition dissemination and reception and dynamic of performance written poetry and its reliance on intertextual referencing and liturgical works heavily laden with Christian meaning Maring s project examines the expressive possibilities created by hybridization as well as how these expressions influence our interpretation of individual poems from the ninth to eleventh centuries Blake and Kierkegaard James Rovira,2010-04-26 This study applies Kierkegaardian anxiety to Blake s creation myths to explain how Romantic era creation narratives are a reaction to Enlightenment models of personality
