Established corpus linguistic methods such as concordancing and textual statistics are increasingly being complemented by visualization and geolocation of digital language data. Empirically there is a growing need to document and analyse what people do with language in the increasingly technologized communicative ecology of the 21st century.

Language and Computers

Studies in Digital Linguistics invites contributions which explore innovative intelligent and creative ways of using digital language data resources and infrastructure for linguistic description. Contributions that contribute to the development and refinement of usage based models in linguistics using both quantitative and qualitative methods analyse all aspects of digitally mediated communication from orthography to pragmatics and sociolinguistics.

Recent Advances in Natural Language Processing

Ruslan Mitkov, Nicolas Nicolov, 1997-01-01

This volume is based on contributions from the First International Conference on Recent Advances in Natural Language Processing RANLP 95 held in Tzigov Chark Bulgaria 14-16 September 1995. This conference was one of the most important and competitively reviewed conferences in Natural Language Processing NLP for 1995 with submissions from more than 30 countries. Of the 48 papers presented at RANLP 95 the best revised papers have been selected for this book in the hope that they reflect the most significant and promising trends and latest successful results in NLP. The book is organised thematically and the contributions are grouped according to the traditional topics found in NLP: morphology, syntax, grammars, parsing, semantics, discourse, grammars, generation, machine translation, corpus processing and multimedia. To help the reader find his/her way the authors have prepared an extensive index which contains major terms used in NLP, an index of authors which lists the names of the authors and the page numbers of their papers, a list of figures and a list of tables. This book will be of interest to researchers, lecturers and graduate students interested in Natural Language Processing and more specifically to those who work in Computational Linguistics, Corpus Linguistics and Machine Translation.

Language, Discourse, and Translation in the West and Middle East

Robert De Beaugrande, Abdulla Shunnaq, Mohamed Helmy Heliel, 1994

The papers collected in this volume are a selection of papers presented at a conference on Language and Translation Irbid Jordan 1992. In their revised form they offer comparisons between Western and Arabic language usage and transfer. The articles bring together linguistic and cultural aspects in translation in a functional discourse framework set out in Part One: Theory, Culture, Ideology. Part Two addresses aspects for comparisons among translations and their cultural contexts: equivalence, stylistics and paragraphing. Part Three features Arabic-English language contact specifically in technical writing, the media and academia. Part Four deals with problems in lexicography and grammar terminology: verb-particle combinations and semantic diversity of radical doubling forms and includes a proposal for a new approach to English Arabic dictionaries Part Five turns to issues of interest to language teachers with practical proposals and demonstrations Part Six deals with geopolitical factors linking the West and Middle East focusing on equality in communication and exchange of information

The Moral Metaphor System Ning Yu, 2022-06-27 This book investigates moral metaphors in English and Chinese applying conceptual metaphor theory to a comparative study of the linguistic manifestation of the moral metaphor system rooted in the domains of bodily and physical experience Ning Yu sheds light on the metaphorical nature of moral cognition and how it is systematically manifested in language and explores the potential commonalities that define moral cognition in general as well as the differences that characterize distinct cultures The work investigates moral cognition at the cultural level as reflected in language based on linguistic evidence from both English and Chinese and to a limited extent multimodal evidence from the corresponding cultures The moral metaphor system is taken to consist of three major subsystems referred to as physical visual and spatial These subsystems are clusters of conceptual metaphors whose source concepts are from domains of embodied experiences in the physical world and which are formulated in contrastive categories with bipolar values for the target concepts of moral and immoral The study is characterized by two keywords system and systematicity The former refers to the fact that metaphors conceptual and linguistic are connected within networks and the latter to the need for those metaphors to be studied in such networks listening skill development in which learners track heard speech and vocalize it simultaneously is gradually becoming recognized. However, there remain a lot of mysteries and misunderstandings about it. This book uncovers shadowing in terms of theory and practice. This book cements shadowing as a separate technique from other similar techniques such as Elicited Imitation, Mirroring, and simple repetition and provides ample empirical data to explain the function of Shadowing. It also elaborates on how Shadowing should be used in terms of materials, procedure, and learners' psychology which would aid in instructors' use of Shadowing in teaching. A guide on a method effective in improving learners' bottom-up listening skills, this book will certainly prove useful to English Language learners and instructors in their linguistic pursuits. Blue Diamond

Allan, 2010-04-06. Concise Encyclopedia of Semantics is a comprehensive new reference work aiming to systematically describe all aspects of the study of meaning in language. It synthesizes in one volume the latest scholarly positions on the construction, interpretation, clarification, obscurity, illustration, amplification, simplification, negotiation, contradiction, contraction, and paraphrasing of meaning and the various concepts, analyses, methodologies, and technologies that underpin their study. It examines not only semantics but the impact of semantic study on related fields such as morphology, syntax, and typologically oriented studies such as grammatical semantics, where semantics has made a considerable contribution to our understanding of verbal categories like tense or aspect, nominal categories like case or possession, clausal categories like causatives, comparatives, or conditionals, and discourse phenomena like reference and anaphora. COSE also examines lexical semantics and its relation to syntax, pragmatics, and cognitive linguistics, and the study of how logical semantics develops and thrives often in interaction with computational linguistics. As a derivative volume from Encyclopedia of Language and Linguistics, Second Edition, it comprises contributions from 150 of the foremost scholars of semantics in their various specializations and draws on 20 years of development in the parent work in a compact and affordable format. Principally intended for tertiary level inquiry and research, this will be invaluable as a reference work for undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as academics inquiring into the study of meaning and meaning relations within languages. As semantics is a centrally important and inherently cross-cutting area within linguistics, it will therefore be relevant not just for semantics specialists but for most linguistic audiences. The first encyclopedia ever published in this fascinating and diverse field combines the talents of the world's leading semantics specialists. The latest trends in the field are authoritatively reviewed and interpreted in context of related disciplines. Drawn from the richest, most authoritative, comprehensive, and internationally acclaimed reference resource in the linguistics area. Compact and affordable single volume reference format. Vocabulary
