International Handbook of English Language Teaching Jim Cummins, Chris

Davison, 2007-12-31 This two volume handbook provides a comprehensive examination of policy practice research and theory related to English language teaching (ELT) in international contexts. Nearly 70 chapters highlight the research foundation for the best practices frameworks for policy decisions and areas of consensus and controversy in the teaching and development of English as a second and/or additional language for kindergarten through to adult speakers of languages other than English. In doing so, it problematizes traditional dichotomies and challenges the very terms that provide the traditional foundations of the field. A wide range of terms has been used to refer to the key players involved in the teaching and learning of the English language and to the enterprise of English language teaching as a whole. At various times and in different contexts the following labels have been used in countries where English is the dominant language to describe programs, learners or teachers of English: English as a second language (ESL), English as an additional language (EAL), limited English proficient (LEP) and English language learners (ELL). In contexts where English is not the dominant language the following terms have been used: English as a foreign language (EFL), English as an international language (EIL) and English as a lingua franca (ELF).

Discipline-Specific Writing John Flowerdew, Tracey Costley, 2016-09-13 Discipline Specific Writing provides an introduction and guide to the teaching of this topic for students and trainee teachers. This book highlights the importance of discipline specific writing as a critical area of competence for students and covers both the theory and practice of teaching this crucial topic. With chapters from practitioners and researchers working across a wide range of contexts around the world, Discipline Specific Writing explores teaching strategies in a variety of specific areas including science and technology, social science and business. It discusses curriculum development, course design and assessment, providing a framework for the reader. It analyses the teaching of language features including grammar and vocabulary for academic writing. It demonstrates the use of genre analysis, annotated bibliographies and corpora as tools for teaching. It provides practical suggestions for use in the classroom, questions for discussion and additional activities with each chapter. Discipline Specific Writing is key reading for students taking courses in English for Specific Purposes, Applied Linguistics, TESOL, TEFL and CELTA.

Teaching Adult English Language Learners Betsy Parrish, 2019 Project-Based Second and Foreign Language Education Gulbahar H.

Beckett, Paul Chamness Iida, 2006-09-01 Dewey's idea of Project based Learning (PBL) was introduced into the field of second language education nearly two decades ago as a way to reflect the principles of student centered teaching. Hedge 1993. Since then PBL has also become a popular language and literacy activity at various levels and in various contexts see Beckett 1999, Fried Booth 2002, Levis Kobayashi 2003, Luongo Orlando 2001, Mohan Weinstein 2004. For example, it has been applied to teach various ESL and EFL skills around the world e.g. Fried Booth 2002. More recently PBL has been heralded as the most appropriate approach to teaching content based second language education Bunch et al 2001, Stoller 1997, English for specific purposes Fried Booth 2002, community based language socialization Weinstein 2004 and critical and higher order thinking as well as problem solving skills urged by the National Research Council 1999 Despite this emphasis there is a severe shortage of empirical research on PBL and research based frameworks and models based on sound theoretical guidance in general and second and foreign language education in particular Thomas 2000 Also missing from the second and foreign language education literature is systematic discussion of PBL work that brings together representative work identifying obvious gaps and guiding the field toward future directions This first of its kind volume bridges these obvious gaps through the original work of international scholars from Canada Israel Japan Singapore and the US

Teaching Adult Immigrants with Limited Formal Education Joy Kreeft Peyton, Martha Young-Scholten, 2020-07-07 Adult migrants who received little or no formal education in their home countries face a unique set of challenges when attempting to learn the languages of their new countries Few adult migrants with limited or no literacy in their native languages successfully attain higher levels of literacy in their additional languages even if they attain high levels of oral proficiency This book the result of a European and United States wide collaborative research project aims to assist teachers working with adult migrants to address this attainment gap and help students reach the highest possible levels of literacy in their new languages The chapters provide the latest research informed evidence on the acquisition of linguistic competence and the development of reading in a new language by adults The book concludes with a chapter that addresses the challenges and opportunities faced by this group of learners and their teachers with specific instructional strategies that can be used The book will be an invaluable resource for teachers tutors and training providers as well as volunteers who work with adult migrants
