Metaphoric Process:

Metaphoric Process Mary Gerhart, Allan Melvin Russell, 1984 The Metaphoric Process Gemma Corradi Fiumara, 2005-08-16 Metaphor is much more than just a linguistic phenomena argues Gemma Corradi Fiumara it is in fact the key process by which we construct and develop our ability to understand the world and the people we share it with Rationality as understood by philosophers has led to a disembodied view of ourselves in which interaction between life and language has been downplayed By looking at the metaphoric process in an interpersonal rather than a formal way its importance in allowing us access to new worlds of experience is revealed The metaphoric potential in us all exposes us to the world and initiates our involvement in it The Metaphoric Process Gemma Corradi Fiumara, 1995 Metaphor is much more than just a linguistic phenomena argues Gemma Corradi Fiumara it is in fact the key process by which we construct and develop our ability to understand the world and the people we share it with Rationality as understood by philosophers has led to a disembodied view of ourselves in which interaction between life and language has been downplayed By looking at the metaphoric process in an interpersonal rather than a formal way its importance in allowing us access to new worlds of experience is revealed The metaphoric potential in us all exposes us to the world and initiates our involvement in it The Cambridge Handbook of Metaphor and Thought Raymond W. Gibbs, Jr., 2008-09-22 A comprehensive collection of essays in multidisciplinary metaphor scholarship that has been written in response to the growing interest among scholars and students from a variety of disciplines such as linguistics philosophy anthropology music and psychology These essays explore the significance of metaphor in language thought culture and artistic expression There are five main themes of the book the roots of metaphor metaphor understanding metaphor in language and culture metaphor in reasoning and feeling and metaphor in non verbal expression Contributors come from a variety of academic disciplines including psychology linguistics philosophy cognitive science literature education music and law Metaphor and Fields S. Montana Katz, 2013-01-03 Metaphor and Fields is an explanation and demonstration of the value of metaphoric processes and fields in psychoanalysis In this book Montana Katz articulates a future direction for psychoanalysis which is progressively explored taking into account features essential to psychoanalysts of all persuasions clinically and theoretically In this way psychoanalysis is brought into the postmodern future by fashioning an umbrella for the discipline With this umbrella the barriers to mutual understanding may be dismantled and a path permanently forged to the possibility of meaningful international intercultural interdisciplinary and poly perspectival psychoanalytic exchange Metaphor and Fields organically merges work on metaphoric processes with work on fields The use of a framework with metaphoric processes and fields combined exhibits the uniqueness of psychoanalysis and shows how it explores and explains human experience The relational fields of the North American school of relational theory intersubjective matrices self object matrices and the ground breaking work of Madeleine and Willy Baranger are all examples of field concepts that have been successfully employed in theoretical frameworks and clinical technique They show how other schools of thought can be understood as using an implicit field concept The chapters in this book approach the subject from diverse vantage points Taken together they form an intricate web of psychoanalytic thought that moves the scope of psychoanalysis beyond dispute towards the open inclusive discussion of core concepts and technique Metaphor and Fields will be of interest to psychoanalysts psychiatrists mental health clinicians psychologists social workers and a wide academic audience drawn from the fields of philosophy linguistics comparative literature anthropology and sociology

New Maps for Old Mary Gerhart, Allan Melvin Russell, 2016-10-06 This collection of eleven essays written jointly by the authors argues that science and religion should be seen as mutually enriching worldviews with no need of reconciliation The essays are organised in three parts which deal with the definition and development of the concept of metaphoric process and its implications for illuminating what it means to understand something the exploration of the so called bidisciplinary dialogue and the differences and similarities between studying science and religion respectively

Metaphor and Belief in The Faerie Queene Rufus Wood, 1997-08-29 Rufus Wood contextualizes his study of The Faerie Queene through an initial discussion of attitudes towards metaphor expressed in Elizabethan poetry He reveals how Elizabethan writers voice a commitment to metaphor as a means of discovering and exploring their world and shows how the concept of a metaphoric principle of structure underlying Elizabethan poetics generates an exciting interpretation of The Faerie Queene The debate which emerges concerning the use and abuse of metaphor in allegorical poetry provides a valuable contribution to the field of Spenser studies in particular and Renaissance literature in general

Spaces and Meanings Olga Lavrenova, 2019-03-25 This book examines the problem of relationships between culture and space Highlighting the use of semiotics of culture as a basic concept of research it describes the power of the cultural landscape in the context of culture philosophical research Opening with a discussion of the existence of culture in space it establishes basic concepts such as noosphere and pneumatosphere The author acknowledges the early contributions of thinkers like Vladimir Vernadsky and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin who first observed that human activity has become a geological force Introducing time and space to the discussion the author then describes the nature of mythological time eternity versus timelessness and the semantics of sacred landscapes space and ritual These concepts are further developed in discussions of the metaphorical nature of cultural landscape and the city as metaphor The book explores semiotics in the cultural landscape examining the genesis of concepts from geographical images to signs and the axiological dimension of geographical images In her approach to the idea of cultural landscape as text she provides detailed examples including the Russian landscape as agent provocateur of the text and the culture philosophical aspects and semantics of travel It establishes the cultural landscape as a phenomenon of culture that is fixed in geographical space with the help of semiotic mechanisms a specific area of culture of life possessing functional and ontological self sufficiency This book appeals readers and researchers interested in the philosophy of culture semiotics of space and the philosophical dimensions of culture and geography

Context and the Lexicon in the Development of Russian Aspect Neil Bermel, 1997-01-01 This study advances a new approach to the history of Russian aspect integrating recent work on aspectology with contemporary theories of language changes and development Using data from five Old Russian texts the author traces the development of the aspectual opposition from its early lexical roots to the sixteenth century when contextual and discourse concerns came to the fore

Metaphor Robert Rogers, 1978-01-01 Theology and Conversation Jacques Haers, P. De Mey, 2003 This collection of articles presents the main contributions to the third LEST Louvain Encounters in Systematic Theology conference held at the K U Leuven s Faculty of Theology November 2001 Its theme Theology and Conversation Towards a Relational Theology continues the explorations in contemporary theology as set out in the 1997 LEST I conference on The Myriad Christ BETL 152 and in the 1999 LEST II conference on Sacramental Presence in Postmodern Context BETL 160 In LEST III also the plurality and diversity of theological approaches play a major role and the question is raised whether the contemporary theological endeavour in a global world contains in itself the tools to respectfully and constructively approach this diversity The ideas of relation and conversation as found in the theologies of the Trinity and of creation as presupposed in ecclesial praxis and as articulated in reflections that take their bearings from spiritual experience provide a powerful means for renewed theological reflection capable of confronting plurality and diversity Researching Discourse Christopher Hart, 2020-03-19 This book offers a how to guide to conducting research in discourse analysis Organised around different approaches to discourse analysis and working with different types of discourse data the book will help students answer questions such as Which approach should I take What kind of data should I analyse and how do I set about collecting it What consideration should I give to ethics How do I make my analyses systematic and rigorous How do I report my findings Both qualitative and quantitative corpus based and experimental methods are covered Illustrated with far ranging detailed and original case studies each chapter follows a consistent format that takes readers step by step through the research process from design to implementation and presentation Chapters can be read independently of one another This is the ideal companion for any student undertaking research in discourse analysis within English language linguistics applied linguistics and communication studies programmes The Semantics of Metaphor Samuel R. Levin, 2019-12-01 Originally published in 1977 The Semantics of Metaphor presents a theory for the metaphoric construal of deviant sentences The theory has two aspects The first relates to metaphor considered as a productive process of language and describes the mechanisms that operate in its semantic interpretation This part of the theory is presented in chapters III and IV The second aspect bears on metaphor considered in the context of poetry and develops a conception of metaphoric truth This part of the theory is presented in chapters VI and VII The study is semantic in the sense of dealing with both meaning and truth as these properties pertain to metaphor Of the remaining chapters the first isolates certain problems of a pragmatic nature from the central semantic concern chapter II follows with a survey of recent scholarship on the question of semantic deviance and chapter V compares the theory expounded in chapters III and IV with three other accounts of metaphor Gender, Genre and Religion Morny Joy, Eva K. Neumaier-Dargyay, 2006-01-01 Many feminists today are challenging the outmoded aspects of both the conventions and the study of religion in radical ways Canadian feminists are no exception Gender Genre and Religion is the outcome of a research network of leading women scholars organized to survey the contribution of Canadian women working in the field of religious studies and further to plot the path forward This collection of their essays covers most of the major religious traditions and offers exciting suggestions as to how religious traditions will change as women take on more central roles Feminist theories have been used by all contributors as a springboard to show that the assumptions of unified monolithic religions and their respective canons is a fabrication created by a scholarship based on male privilege Using gender and genre as analytical tools the essays reflect a diversity of approaches and open up new ways of reading sacred texts Superb essays by Pamela Dickey Young Winnie Tamm Morny Joy and Marsha Hewitt among others honour the first generation of feminist theologians and situate the current generation showing how they have learned from and gone beyond their predecessors The sensitive and original essays in Gender Genre and Religion will be of interest to feminist scholars and to anyone teaching women and religion courses Animal Myths and Metaphors in South America Gary Urton, 1985 What similarities and differences do humans see between themselves and animals Why do people commonly make metaphorical comparisons between human beings or social groups and animals and to what degree are people's attitudes and beliefs about animals parallel to or contingent upon their attitudes and beliefs about human beings and human society This collection of articles considers these issues The issues are basic in any study of totemism or human and animal relationships and they have been discussed in anthropological literature since the time of Lewis Henry Morgan's work on Iroquois social organization The contributors to this anthology have not limited themselves to the notion that clans and moieties are the only sources and objects of metaphorical comparisons between humans and animals They suggest a shift in perspective that has metaphorical comparisons generated by conceived similarities and differences between animals and particular types of human beings Some examples of this include macaw fledglings as adolescents pumas as fully initiated men and foxes as young married men With this shift of emphasis a significantly different analytic focus in the study of human animal relations is produced The Poetic of Reason: Introducing Rational Poetic Experimentalism Stéfán

Snævarr, 2022-09-26 This book makes the attempt to wed reason and the poetic The tool for this attempt is Rational Poetic Experimentalism RPE which is introduced and explored in this book According to RPE it makes sense to look for poetic elements in human reality including reason outside of the realm of imaginative literature Provocatively RPE contends that philosophy's search for truth has not been a great success so far So why not experiment with philosophical concepts and look for thought provoking ideas by employing the principles of RPE instead of fruitlessly searching for truths using conventional methods Metaphor and Parable Kjærgaard, 2024-03-11 Towards a Radical Redefinition of Psychology Miller

Mair, 2014-10-10 The World Library of Mental Health celebrates the important contributions to mental health made by leading experts in their individual fields. Each author has compiled a career long collection of what they consider to be their finest pieces: extracts from books, journals, articles, major theoretical and practical contributions, and salient research findings.

Miller Mair, clinical psychologist and psychotherapist, devoted his life to developing a psychology that provided a radical alternative to the behavioural and latterly cognitive behavioural approaches that have dominated the field. He presented this work in a wide range of publications and conference papers, and prior to his untimely death in 2011 he had selected a number of these for a volume of his collected works. This book is based upon Miller's selection and includes several previously unpublished papers as well as others that are now out of print. Miller was considerably influenced by George Kelly's personal construct psychology, as is apparent in most of his writings. However, his papers on psychology and psychotherapy also draw upon an extraordinarily wide range of other fields of knowledge, including imagery, metaphor, storytelling, and narrative rhetoric, discourse, and conversation, poetry, and spirituality. These concerns are reflected in the contributions selected for this volume, which also demonstrate the variation in his style of writing, from the more conventionally academic to the personal and poetic, as he developed a poetics of experience and a stance of conversational inquiry. Miller's final publication was entitled Enchanting psychology, and it is hoped that this volume will provide an antidote to the disenchantment that many readers may feel with mechanistic and reductionist approaches in psychology and its clinical applications, and more generally in health service rhetoric and policies. As these writings vividly demonstrate, a clinical psychologist and psychotherapist can and should also be a poet, artist, and storyteller. The volume will be of value to readers previously unfamiliar with Miller's ideas, but also to those who know his work, who will find here the first published selection of his papers.

Putting God on the Map Erin Kidd, Jakob Karl Rinderknecht, 2018-09-15

Since the middle of the last century, the emergence and development of fields as diverse as artificial intelligence, evolutionary science, cognitive linguistics, and neuroscience have led to a greater understanding of the ways in which humans think. One of the major discoveries involves what researchers refer to as conceptual mapping. According to theories of conceptual mapping, human thought is profoundly shaped by the ability to make connections. Simply put, human thinking is metaphorical all the way down. This insight has revolutionized the way in which scientists and philosophers think about the mind-body problem, the formation and function of language, and even the development of scientific progress itself. Until recently, however, this research has gone largely unnoticed within Christian theology. But this revolution in understanding human cognition calls for broader and richer engagement with theology and religious studies. How does this new insight into human meaning-making bear on our understanding of religious meaning-making? And how might Christian theology interpret and respond to this new understanding of the development of human thought? This edited volume offers an introduction to conceptual mapping that is accessible to those with no previous knowledge of the field and demonstrates the substantial resources this interdisciplinary research has for thinking about a variety of theological questions The book begins with a chapter introducing the reader to the basics of conceptual mapping The remaining chapters apply these insights to a variety of theological topics including anthropology sacramental theology biblical studies ecumenical theology and ethics Clinical Research in Psychoanalysis Marina Altmann de Litvan, 2021-07-19 This book offers different theoretical approaches about what clinical research is Clinical Research in Psychoanalysis is a unique contribution to the attempts to bridge the gap between clinicians and researchers and to create a culture of a more rigorous and systematic inquiry It provides an innovative experience because for the first time different methods and perspectives were used to analyse one same clinical material This was done by analysts from different working parties of the International Psychoanalytical Association IPA from a range of different schools of psychoanalytic thought This allows the reader to have a vision of the different methods that are currently being used by some working parties of the IPA and to learn about the strengths of each one for certain situations and types of research This book reevaluates clinical research intending to make links between the analysts working through the working parties and the different ways of thinking in clinical research By covering key topics such as how working parties can facilitate different types of research the place of metaphor in psychoanalytic research and practice and the future for psychoanalytic research this text is a fruitful dialogue between different theoretical conceptions and between clinicians and researchers that will expand our perspectives on the evidence we find in clinical material and will broaden our views on the patient This book offers a unique and invaluable experience to psychologists and psychoanalysts who are trying to improve their clinical practice and bring research evidence into their psychoanalytic practice It is an invaluable contribution to psychoanalytic training of candidates teachers and students
