

MY VACATION

Summer vacations are the best time to have fun. Every year, I and my family go on the holidays. We usually go to the beaches and amusement parks to spend the day. But, last time we went to Bali Island. It was wonderful! We stayed in a hotel which is located near the beach. So, we went to the beach at first where we surfed and swam in the sea. And, we went fishing and sailing on the boat. Then, we went to my grandparent's home and had a horse race there in their meadow. We then climb up a hill which was steep. We also went to water park where we splash with joy. It was the best vacation ever I went. We had a great time and hope to go back next year.

Emily Monosson, 2011-08-15 About half of the undergraduate and roughly 40 percent of graduate degree recipients in science and engineering are women As increasing numbers of these women pursue research careers in science many who choose to have children discover the unique difficulties of balancing a professional life in these highly competitive and often male dominated fields with the demands of motherhood Although this issue directly affects the career advancement of women scientists it is rarely discussed as a professional concern leaving individuals to face the dilemma on their own To address this obvious but unacknowledged crisis the elephant in the laboratory according to one scientist Emily Monosson an independent toxicologist has brought together 34 women scientists from overlapping generations and several fields of research including physics chemistry geography paleontology and ecology among others to share their experiences From women who began their careers in the 1970s and brought their newborns to work breastfeeding them under ponchos to graduate students today the authors of the candid essays written for this groundbreaking volume reveal a range of career choices the authors work part time and full time they opt out and then opt back in they become entrepreneurs and job share they teach high school and have achieved tenure The personal stories that comprise Motherhood the Elephant in the Laboratory not only show the many ways in which women can successfully combine motherhood and a career in science but also address and redefine what it means to be a successful scientist These valuable narratives encourage institutions of higher education and scientific research to accommodate the needs of scientists who decide to have children

Grandmothers at Work Madonna Harrington Meyer, 2014-05-02 A study of the lived experience of working grandmothers in early twenty first century America Young working mothers are not the only ones who are struggling to balance family life and careers Many middle aged American women face this dilemma as they provide routine childcare for their grandchildren while pursuing careers and trying to make ends meet Madonna Harrington Meyer's Grandmothers at Work explores the lived experience of working grandmothers While all of the grandmothers in the book are pleased to spend time with their grandchildren many are readjusting work schedules using vacation and sick leave time gutting retirement accounts and postponing retirement to care for grandchildren Some simply want to do this others do so because their adult children need assistance and may have less security and flexibility on the job than do their mothers Most of the grandmothers expect to continue feeling the pinch of paid and unpaid work for many years before their retirement Grandmothers at Work provides a unique perspective on a phenomenon faced by millions of women in America today Winner of the 2014 Richard Kalish Innovative Publication Award presented by the Gerontological Society of America The

The Silver Dollar Kid John Batchelor, 2014-07-21 I will be judged harshly by some for my actions but it is not about right or wrong or good or bad it is only about what happened and led me to develop into the person that I have become through my many adventures and what I did about them I have no intention of trying to flower it up to be more appealing it is not a fictional story I have included situations that stick out the most in my mind and just omitted many other experiences that were interesting to me but probably not to others I have also just omitted some names of those who do not wish to be identified My intention is not to embarrass anybody else but just maybe myself

Stumps in the Outfield Anthony N. Botta, 2014-05-14 Once upon a time children were allowed to play outside and explore the world Family dinners were the rule not the exception Rock and roll was new exciting and a little dangerous This may sound like the setting of an old movie but for author Anthony N Botta it formed the background of his life as he grew up in a large Italian family in a New York City borough In Stumps in the Outfield he narrates his life story beginning with his birth in 1952 He shares how as a young boy he didn't understand the war or the social revolutions about to take place All he knew was his love of baseball music and his family Botta tells a story filled with first crushes dreams and bitter disappointments From his memories of the nuns of his school to his early marriage and subsequent divorce Botta offers a rich account of a time many wish they knew Witty and sometimes heartbreaking this memoir captures and celebrates the joy drama and trauma of a generation of change The Report J.P. Ripple,2012-05-17 This book is about my efforts to get a divorce and visitation with my three kids My wife knew I wanted kids but when I wanted a divorce she refused visitation as a form of punishment Her unusual behavior prevented even my relatives from seeing our kids It shows how difficult it is to find someone that does a good job This book shows how too much outside interest produced an unprofessional atmosphere The book shows how favoritism creates what should have been a simple divorce and visitation into a nightmare
