The Madness of Women Jane Professor

Ussher, Jane M. Ussher, 2011-03-28 Nominated for the 2012 Distinguished Publication Award of the Association for Women in Psychology Why are women more likely to be positioned or diagnosed as mad than men If madness is a social construction a gendered label as many feminist critics would argue how can we understand and explain women's prolonged misery and distress In turn can we prevent or treat women's distress in a non pathologising women centred way The Madness of Women addresses these questions through a rigorous exploration of the myths and realities of women's madness Drawing on academic and clinical experience including case studies and in depth interviews as well as on the now extensive critical literature in the field of mental health Jane Ussher presents a critical multifactorial analysis of women's madness that both addresses the notion that madness is a myth and yet acknowledges the reality and multiple causes of women's distress Topics include The genealogy of women's madness incarceration of difficult or deviant women Regulation through treatment Deconstructing depression PMS and borderline personality disorder Madness as a reasonable response to objectification and sexual violence Women's narratives of resistance This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of psychology gender studies sociology women's studies cultural studies counselling and nursing
