Ex Libris Charles Dexter Allen, 1896      Whitaker's Books in Print, 1998      Dated Book-plates (Ex Libris) with a Treatise on Their Origin and Development Walter Hamilton, 1895      The Language of the Foreign Book Trade Jerrold Orne, 1976      Literary Agents in the Transatlantic Book Trade Cécile Cottenet, 2017-04-07 By way of a case study of one of the oldest French book agencies Agence Hoffman this book analyzes the role played by French literary agents in the importation of US fiction and literature into France in the years following World War II It sheds light on the material conditions of the circulation of texts across the Atlantic between 1944 and 1955 exploring the fine mechanisms of agents negotiations which allowed texts and ideas to cross borders While providing comparative insights into the history of publishing in France and in the United States in the immediate aftermath of the war this book aims at foregrounding the role of the book agent an all too often neglected intermediary in the field of book history Grounded in archival work conducted both in France and the United States this study is based on previously unexamined correspondence Considering the concept of mediation as central in the field of print culture this book addresses the dearth of scholarship on literary agents on both sides of the Atlantic and intersects with the current scholarship on transatlantic internationalism and transnational cultural and trade networks as evidenced by the recently emerged field of sociology of translation in Europe      The Publisher, 1903      The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1904      Tinker Tales Untold Allan Lowson, 2009-10-27 Tinker Tales Untold is a collection of previously unpublished stories celebrating magic and motorcycles Tinker is the son of an absentee Irish gypsy dad and a Scottish mum raised poor and hitting the streets after her death in his early teens Becoming a trader in old iron ponies he falls in with Magic John and survives a sorcerer's apprenticeship to that gutter mage as described in the previous collection Tinker Tales Now he frequents a pub in Faerhame tangles with ghosts demi gods and demons life isn't easy for a biker dabbling in magic      Something Sensational William Guy, 2008-09-10 This is a book of travel essays but it is not about what is commonly meant today by travel e.g. package tours for middle aged middle class tourists who pile in and out of airconditioned buses around the world for their hour at the obligatory sights passive entertainment These essays are about travel warts and all the agony and the ecstasy of a do it yourself process from traffic jams in southern Italy to swiftly gliding dream trains in northern Germany and quite a bit in between They depict a passionate quest for art music beauty journeys to that realm of supreme aesthetic experience which is to be found in front of paintings by the masters and at great performances of operas in Tyrolian villages epiphanies in dusty Italian squares or in Imperial palaces They describe an immersion in the history the landscape and the daily life of other countries They also describe the complex fate of being an American in strange lands They sometimes toy with the Jamesian question where can Americans possibly truly belong      The Paradise Club John Slavin, 2024-06-16 This is a Mediterranean love story At the height of the Swinging Sixties Viola and Adam meet on an old Greek liner packed with like minded young

Australians looking for adventure and experience in Europe Rejecting the conventional path to Earls Court the couple find themselves after a series of fateful choices heading for the island of Crete There they fall in with an international community of expatriates an exotic mixture of castaways eccentrics sybarites and artists In spite of their meagre funds the young lovers rent a dilapidated villa overlooking the ancient Venetian harbour of Chania But Crete is a difficult location to fit into particularly for an attractive young woman like Viola In 1967 the Greek government is overthrown by a military coup and its colonels attempt to repress the Greeks natural joie de vivre in the name of Christian Hellenic values Chania becomes a powder keg of vice and passion It contains a naval base on its outskirts that is the barracks for eight thousand Greek sailors doing national service After Viola is abducted and almost raped by one of the ratings she and Adam are encouraged by an American painter called Sylvia Naughton to move to a village where she has lived for eleven years on the island of Lesbos Her work is dedicated to capturing the disappearing traditional currents of village life in her paintings The move proves fortuitous In contrast to the macho south this island is sophisticated filled with evidence of a glorious past and haunted by the presence of the sixth century BC poet Sappho Could this be the exceptional life Viola is searching for The expatriate clan on Lesbos is dominated by various powerful personalities like Isaac Romberg a Canadian and self declared poet laureate His extrovert exuberance and domination of his wife Vita is challenged by an English classicist called Charity Lane who has experienced war first hand and whose scepticism as a result towards human ideals brings the two men into witty wordy conflict with no hold barred The island itself and its natural magnificence cast a seductive spell over these comic tragic adventurers distorting their pasts and exposing the vulnerability of their secret desires

Rockin' the Classics and Classicizin' the Rock: Janell R. Duxbury, 2001-02-05 Rock music of all varieties has been influenced by classical music and vice versa both in the form of direct quotes and in the form of borrowings of style composition and instrumentation The average listener may be unaware of the many links between rock music and the classics One might remember a few examples such as Walter Murphy's chart topping A Fifth of Beethoven or Eric Carmen's All by Myself but pass them off as interesting anomalies However the influence of the classics on rock music is pervasive and grows from a long line of precedents This second supplement to Janell R Duxbury's original 1985 discography Rockin the Classics and Classicizin the Rock brings the earlier work and first supplement up to date with hundreds of new entries documenting recently released or newly discovered examples of the interconnection between these musical genres Duxbury details nearly 700 new examples of recorded rock instrumentals and songs that borrow musical themes from the classics Variations range from contemporary renditions of complete classical works to brief classical quotes or phrases subtly incorporated into rock compositions Duxbury also gives additional examples of recorded orchestral versions of songs originally composed and or written by rock artists In these examples the musical style varies from strict classical interpretations to pop style orchestral renditions The second supplement then expands Duxbury's original compilation of sound recordings and live performances of rock groups performing with established orchestras and choruses selected samples of recorded rock music that simulate baroque or classical sound structure examples of the manifest influence of rock on classical music and instances of rock artists and classical artists switching roles Lastly this discography updates the 1985 version and the first supplement with new information expanded details and minor corrections to the earlier works An extended list of selected non rock background examples is included in several new appendixes The Preface is updated A general index includes the names of classical composers rock artists and groups orchestras choruses orchestra conductors sound recording producers and song or instrumental titles With its incomparable scope and content this supplement together with Duxbury s previous discography and its first supplement will be appreciated by students researchers record collectors trivia buffs music industry employees and fans of rock music and the classics
