Royal Canon Of Turin:

The Political Situation in Egypt During the Second Intermediate Period, C. 1800-1550 B.C. K. S. B. Ryholt, Adam Bülow-Jacobsen, 1997 The Second Intermediate Period designates the 250 year period 1800-1550 BC which separates the two glorious periods of the Middle Kingdom and the New Kingdom During the 19th century BC an invasion by Canaanite tribes into the Delta took place Around 1800 BC these people proclaimed their own king and the Delta thus became independent from the rest of Egypt Egypt remained split between the Canaanitic rulers in North and the native Egyptian Kings in the South for the rest of the Second Intermediate Period The division of Egypt brought about an economic decline and the entire period is characterized by a lack of royal monuments This circumstance has greatly hampered any attempts to establish a chronology of the period and as a consequence it has been very difficult to date many sources which are relevant for the social and political situation of the period The Second Intermediate Period has therefore remained one of the most obscure periods of Egypt's ancient history The dissertation is a new attempt to establish a chronology for the Second Intermediate Period and define the different kingdoms their territories and political relations The study consists of four main chapters three appendixes a catalogue of sources bibliography and indices Included is a catalogue of all the historical sources about 1500 known to certify the names of the Egyptian kings of the Second Intermediate Period Each source is described in terms of type origin and present location followed by bibliographical references

Kimuhu, 2008 Whereas many books in this field deal with individual aspects or texts of the study of family laws Leviticus The Priestly Laws and Prohibitions from the Perspective of Ancient Near East and Africa examines extensively biblical texts ancient Near Eastern text and oral traditions from Africa Thus three different cultures converge the world of the Hebrew Bible the world of the ancient Near East and the world of Africa This volume examines in detail the history of the development of ancient laws in general and family laws in particular especially the laws relating to marriages between close relatives Furthermore Johnson M Kimuhu looks at prohibitions and taboos in Africa and the problems they pose with regard to the interpretation and translation of difficult biblical concepts into African languages In that sense Kimuhu provides an example of how to contextualize or integrate African traditions into the study of biblical Hebrew and he also offers insights into the current debate on the study of kinship from the point of view of social cultural anthropology and the Hebrew Bible legal system Teachers students and researchers in biblical studies ancient Near Eastern studies African traditions and social cultural anthropology will find this book helpful in their quest to understand family laws prohibitions and taboos      A Biographical Dictionary of Ancient Egypt Anthony E. Bull, 2018-09-24 In The Tradition of Hermes Trismegistus Christian H Bull argues that the treatises attributed to Hermes Trismegistus reflect the spiritual exercises and ritual practices of loosely organized brotherhoods in Egypt These small groups were directed by Egyptian priests educated in the traditional lore of the temples but also conversant with Greek philosophy. Such priests who were increasingly dispossessed with the gradual demise of the Egyptian temples could find eager adherents among a Greek speaking audience seeking for the wisdom of the Egyptian Hermes who was widely considered to be an important source for the philosophies of Pythagoras and Plato. The volume contains a comprehensive analysis of the myths of Hermes Trismegistus, a reevaluation of the Way of Hermes and a contextualization of this ritual tradition.

The Ancient World Revisited: Material Dimensions of Written Artefacts Marilina Betrò, Michael Friedrich, Cécile Michel, 2024-03-04. Written artefacts are traditionally studied because of their content. Material aspects of these artefacts enrich the study of ancient history in many ways. Eleven case studies in five sections on the ancient world including the Near East, Egypt, the Mediterranean, China, and India demonstrate the impact of a holistic approach that considers materiality and content alike. Following an introductory sketch of relevant research, the first section, Methodological Considerations, critically examines the limitations the evidence available imposes on our understanding. Early Uses of Writing addresses material and spatial aspects of inscriptions and their communicative functions over the textual ones. The third section, Material Features, deals with clay, wooden, and papyrus manuscripts and demonstrates the importance of an integrated approach. The contributions to Co presence of Written Artefacts take into account that written artefacts come in clusters. The final section, Cultural Encounters, presents studies on the interactions between social strata and ethnic groups, challenging previous ideas. The volume contributes to the comparative study of written artefacts in ancient history, stimulating cross disciplinary and cultural research.

"Ra is My Lord" Jochem Kahl, 2007. Due to extremely poor and difficult sources we are as much in the dark about the history of the Egyptian 2nd Dynasty c. 2850-2700 BCE as we are about the Gods worshipped at that time. Nor are we sure about the reigns and order of kings from this period, having assumed that veneration of the Sun God Re began during the 2nd Dynasty. Opinion has changed over the last thirty years; evidence for the worship of Re has been found only for the beginning of the 3rd Dynasty.

The Ancient Near East, C. 3000-330 BC Amélie Kuhrt, 1995. A single authored two volume work which makes no claims to comprehensiveness but selectively treats periods and areas usually studied in universities. Treatment of Egypt is brief because of the availability of studies of Egyptian history at all levels. It is intended as an introduction to ancient Near Eastern history, to the main sources used for reconstructing societies and political systems, and to some historical problems and scholarly debates. The area discussed extends from Turkey, Anatolia, and Egypt in the west through the Levant which includes Israel, Lebanon, Jordan, and Syria, west of the Euphrates to Mesopotamia, into Iran. Volume I covers c. 3000 BC to c. 1200 BC; volume II, 1200 BC to 330 BC. The author is a Reader in Ancient History at University College London. Annotation copyright by Book News Inc, Portland, OR.
