Hawksworth,2003-06-26 Periodic comprehensive overviews of the status of the diverse organisms that make up wildlife are essential to determining trends threats and future prospects Just over 25 years ago leading authorities on different kinds of wildlife came together to prepare an assessment of their status of a wide range of organisms in Great Britain and Ireland in The Changing Flora and Fauna of Britain also edited by Professor David L Hawksworth CBE Now in The Changing Wildlife of Great Britain and Ireland he has gathered together some of the original and also new contributors to review changes since that time and look to the future Contributions range from viruses diatoms fungi lichens mites and nematodes through butterflies dragonflies flies and slugs to flowering plants ferns mammals birds and fish The state of knowledge in different groups is assessed and the effectiveness of statutory and other measures taken to safeguard wildlife considered The picture is far from bleak ameliorating sulphur dioxide levels have benefited sensitive lichens and mosses in a dramatic way water quality improvement has been beneficial there have been few certain extinctions and rediscoveries of species thought to have been lost Biodiversity Action Plans have also benefited targeted species but habitat restoration and management for some is not always good for others But there are worrying trends in declining populations with an increasing number being regarded as threatened or endangered especially in agricultural areas and where woodland management has changed particular threats from introduced species and concern over the effects of climate change Some of the smaller organisms remain poorly timed to coincide with the Glorious 12th This new paperback edition includes new material on what went on in 2015 including the devastating floods of that winter bringing the story right up to date Mark Avery continues to stir up a debate about fieldsports the countryside and big business in a book that all British conservationists will want to read Fighting for Birds Dr. Mark Avery, 2012-07-02 Devoted to birds and wildlife since childhood Mark's early scientific research at Oxford Aberdeen and the RSPB provided a solid background for his management ambassadorial and political lobbying activities which were to follow and his larger than life yet quietly humane personality has provided the final tools in his own unique nature conservationists toolbox In this book Mark mixes a great many stories from his professional life at the RSPB with personal anecdotes and passionate arguments on past and present issues in bird and nature conservation He shows us something of the many scientists whose work paves the way for conservation action places domestic conservation into an international context takes us behind the scenes to glimpse the politicians who have worked with him or against him along the way Mark leaves us armed with practical tips and a guiding philosophy to take wildlife conservation through the troubled years that lie ahead A personal philosophical and political history of 25 years of bird conservation this book provides an instructive and amusing read for all those who would like a glimpse into the birds and wildlife conservation world what the issues are what must be done how it can be done and the challenges highs and lows involved Investigating the oceans Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee, Great Britain.
