Bogoviz, Alexander E. Suglov, Alexander N. Maloletko, Olga V. Kaurova, 2021-12-03 This book presents a systematic view of the cooperative sector of the economy from the standpoint of sustainable development. On the one hand, the book reveals the consequences of business cooperation for the implementation of global sustainable development goals primarily in terms of environmental protection and food security. On the other hand, the book defines the essence of sustainable development of the cooperative sector of the economy as a demonstrative economic practice that reflects the general state of socio-economic systems. Scientific methodological and applied recommendations for the systemic optimization of the management of the cooperative sector of the economy in the interests of simultaneously achieving its maximum positive impact on the implementation of sustainable development goals as well as maintaining its stability are proposed. The book contains the best works based on the results of the International Scientific and Practical Conference Cooperation and Sustainable Development which was held on December 15-16 2020. Its target audience is scientists studying processes of business structures cooperation, business entities carrying out cooperation as well as public authorities which will find guidelines for improving state regulation of the cooperative sector of the economy in this book. Dictionary Catalog of the Oriental Collection New York Public Library. Reference Department, 1976 Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1980 Russia in the Economic War Boris Émmanuilovich Baron Nol'de, 1928 American Book Publishing Record, 2004 The Anti-Dumping Agreement and Developing Countries Aradhna Aggarwal, 2006-10-20 In the era of globalization trade policy has become a key development tool and expanding exports a major policy objective for developing countries. However, pressures for protectionism are threatening to reverse the gains. The surge of anti-dumping practices in the 1990s in many countries have triggered an intense debate on the anti-dumping agreement and its implementation. This volume analyses the importance of anti-dumping from a developing country's perspective. The author investigates the use of anti-dumping in a comparative framework and reviews the genesis and evolution of the Agreement and its legal provisions. She further discusses the economic and non-economic justifications of anti-dumping use and empirically analyses the macro-economic factors motivating countries to use anti-dumping. Finally, she examines the wide-ranging proposals to reform the WTO anti-dumping code. The analysis brings out a bias against developing countries and stresses the need for fundamental reform of current anti-dumping rules. The author also reflects on plausible approaches to refine existing provisions and explores the possibility of reform by including a Public Interest Test. She suggests updating the special and differential treatment provisions to remedy existing imbalances.
