KRISTEVA ON WOMEN AND VIOLENCE

MARTHA J. REINEKE

"An important and exciting contribution to the field of feminist theory, social theory, and continental philosophy . . . that will interest not only students of Kristeva, but those who are interested in all forms of social violence, feminist theory, and women's issues as well." —Tamzin Lorraine, Swarthmore College

Why did medieval women mystics starve themselves? What caused the European witch hunts, and why were its victims tortured and killed? Why has the Christian West regularly found maternal figures threatening? To answer these questions, Martha Reineke advances a theory of sacrifice, inspired by Julia Kristeva and René Girard, that attempts to account for violence in Western culture, the human proclivity for bodily mutilation and abuse, and women's special vulnerability to violence.

Reineke understands sacrifice as an effort to counter unrest and disorder in society. She gives special attention to two especially perplexing questions: Why must victims die in order for the sacrificial gesture to be effective? What accounts for the ritual probing, mutilation, and slow death of the victim? With Kristeva, Reineke traces the logic of sacrifice to the infant's struggle to separate from the maternal body and acquire its own place in the world. During times of crisis, humans recall those long-forgotten efforts and ritually reinvoke them, often with lethal consequences. Reading the stories of mystics, witches, and mothers in light of this scenario, Reineke explains how the pattern of violence described here has placed women especially at risk — and why religion has played a pivotal role.

A challenging and controversial book, Sacrificed Lives constructs an important bridge between "esoteric," postmodern theory and "ordinary" human life, as it furthers a vital philosophical debate on the question of violence.

MARTHA J. REINEKE is Associate Professor of Religion and Director of the Graduate Program in Women's Studies at the University of Northern Iowa.

The Politics to Come Arthur Bradley,Paul Fletcher,2010-02-18 The Politics to Come brings together an international collection of thinkers to consider the meaning of liberal democratic modernity at a moment when its future has never been less certain It examines the explosive threats the liberal order confronts today financial meltdown religious extremism environmental catastrophe Yet it also seeks to place these singularly modern crises within a much longer history For the contributors to this collection it is the ancient religious tradition called the messianic that provides the critical lens through which modernity may be interrogated In its ongoing struggles with the messianic liberal modernity confronts the promise and threat of a radically new Politics to Come So what are the Politics to Come How do they manifest themselves throughout history Why does the possibility of a messianic judgement continue to haunt the western political imaginary This collection offers a series of political philosophical and theological perspectives from which the future of liberal modernity if it has one can be imagined     Where Children Fly Ann Stewart-Porter,2008-07-28 Were you the one I saw at the mall with the T shirt WHO ARE THESE KIDS AND WHY ARE THEY CALLING ME DADDY Youre a dad or mom or a cross juggler or a grandparent or a teacher Youre looking at this book because you love a child or it just popped up I wrote this book because I love children

I also wrote Where Children Fly because I wanted to be parentally inspiring. Everyone says parenting is so important but many of us just pray we don't go insane trying to potty train or get through the teenage hormones. We hardly consider what we do as inspirational. So much of what we do in loving children is out of what we were given, not what we really want them to be. Parenting is a very overwhelming, demanding work of the heart. We finally feel we've got the knack of changing their diaper when those cute little mood swings begin. We manage to get them to school and we find the issues changing whether we are ready or not. After all, are we really all that grown up ourselves? Once in a while we look back to the way we were raised or around to our peers raising children and then up with a silent, serious plea: the heavens have heard before. God help me. You think you want a smart, cute, rich, funny kind of child, but all those things are well just opinions. As a general rule, we've got beauty pageants, SAT rock stars, and others to decipher our perspectives. There's really a great deal more to those of us who want children with respectable manners, compassion, vision, and parental pride. I see you looking at me saying, "I can't even get them to pick up their toys, and I'm supposed to create the next amazing humanitarian." Before you walk away, consider the possibility. Not long ago, my husband and I were at a local eatery. I walked an elderly woman in an old brown coat followed by four stair-step brothers, maybe age ten to sixteen. They found a table. One helped Grandma with her coat and cane. An older one brought her a plate. As they flanked her sides and talked, I noticed the youngest one took a bite, then without missing a beat, leaned over and cut her meat in bite-size pieces. We never saw a parent. Just Grandma and her grandsons. I assumed because even if they weren't sons, they were GRAND indeed. I wanted to tell them how proud I was of them, but my tears would have scared them silly. It was I am certain quite a natural thing for them to do. I want to see generations of this kind of precious afterglow, and so I have come to this writing. I call INSPIRATIONAL PARENTING. Inspiration comes first by example. I know that seems obvious, but believe me, I counsel many a child who lost their way because there was no example. I'm not writing Where Children Fly as a course from my archives of perfection or from my trials and experiments. I began to think about how inspiring God speaks of me, and how it sets my standard for successful living. I realized that maybe we had forgotten that just to live is holy, to breathe is divinity, to inspire is to create eternal beauty. I hope this book will inspire you. If you have by godly destiny been placed in the life of a child, it is because you can make a difference in their life. It's not about teaching children to do as much as it is teaching them to be. God is a 24/7 inspirationally available parent. Armed and amazing is my call to you who are weary. Thinking of all this inspiration makes you wonder if I've lost my mind and wasted your time. I don't want to scare you, but the best parents are real people who inspire others by the life they lead. They are not always the richest or poorest, the well or ill, the educated or not. They are people who open their hearts wide and grow out of bounds. I love children, I love their stories, I love to see them believe their Dad turned on the sun and Mom can make any boo-boo better with a single kiss. We forget how powerful inspiration can be. We tend to think in the ordinary, practical, and t

Neoliberal Citizenship Luca Mavelli, 2022-02-15 With cosmopolitan illusions put to rest Europe is now haunted by a pervasive neoliberal transformation of citizenship that subordinates inclusion protection and belonging to rationalities of value Against the backdrop of four major crises Eurozone refugee Brexit and the COVID 19 pandemic this book explores how neoliberal citizenship rewrites identities and solidarities in economic terms The result is a sacralized market order in which those superfluous to economic needs and regarded as unproductive consumers of resources be they undocumented migrants debased citizens of austerity or the elderly in care homes are excluded and sacrificed for the well being of the economy Pushing biopolitical theorizing in novel directions through an investigation of the political economy of scarcity and the theology of the market Neoliberal Citizenship reveals how a common thread connects the suspension of search and rescue missions in the Mediterranean the punitive bailout of Greece the widespread adoption of austerity measures the normalization of racism the celebration of resilience and the fact that in Europe and North America during the first wave of the pandemic almost half of all COVID 19 deaths were care home residents This thread is the sacralization of the market that by making life conditional upon its economic and emotional value turns less valuable individuals into sacrificial subjects Neoliberal Citizenship challenges established understandings of citizenship brings to light new regimes of inclusion and exclusion and advances critical insights on the future of neoliberalism in a post COVID 19 world

Women and Militant Wars Swati Parashar, 2014-03-05 This book explores women s militant activities in insurgent wars and seeks to understand what women do in wars In International Relations inter state conflict anti state armed insurgency and armed militancy are essentially seen as wars where collective violence against civilians and security forces is used to achieve political objectives Extending the notion of war as politics of injury to the armed militancy in Indian administered Kashmir and the Tamil armed insurgency in Sri Lanka this book explores how women participate in militant wars and how that politics not only shapes the gendered understandings of women s identities and bodies but is in turn shaped by them The case studies discussed in the book offer new comparative insight into two different and most prevalent forms of insurgent wars today religio political and ethno nationalist Empirical analyses of women s roles in the Sri Lankan Tamil militant group the LTTE and the logistical ideological support women provide to militant groups active in Indian administered Kashmir suggest that these insurgent wars have their own gender dynamics in recruitment and operational strategies Thus Women and Militant Wars provides an excellent insight into the gender politics of these insurgencies and women s roles and

Genocide and the Geographical Imagination James A. Tyner, 2012-05-31 This groundbreaking book brings an important spatial perspective to our understanding of genocide through a fresh interpretation of Germany under Hitler Cambodia under the Khmer Rouge and China's Great Leap Forward famine under Mao James A Tyner's powerful analysis of these horrifying cases provides insight into the larger questions of sovereignty and state policies that determine who will live and who will die Specifically he explores the government practices that result in genocide and how they are informed by the calculation and valuation of life and death A geographical perspective on genocide highlights that mass violence in the minds of perpetrators is viewed as an effective and legitimate strategy of state building These three histories of mass violence demonstrate how specific states articulate and act upon particular geographical concepts that determine and devalue the moral worth of groups and individuals Clearly and compellingly written this book will bring fresh and valuable insights into state genocidal behavior

Atonement Eleonore Stump, 2018 The doctrine of the atonement is the distinctive doctrine of Christianity Over the course of many centuries of reflection highly diverse interpretations of the doctrine have been proposed In the context of this history of interpretation Eleonore Stump considers the doctrine afresh with philosophical care Whatever exactly the atonement is it is supposed to include a solution to the problems of the human condition especially its guilt and shame Stump canvasses the major interpretations of the doctrine that attempt to explain this solution and argues that all of them have serious shortcomings In their place she argues for an interpretation that is both novel and yet traditional and that has significant advantages over other interpretations including Anselm's well known account of the doctrine In the process she also discusses love union guilt shame forgiveness retribution punishment shared attention mind reading empathy and various other issues in moral psychology and ethics
