Sad Dances In A Field Of White:

Whiteness Fractured Cynthia Levine-Rasky, 2016-02-11 Whiteness Fractured examines the many ways in which whiteness is conceptualized today and how it is understood to operate and to effect social relationships Exploring the intersections between whiteness social class ethnicity and psychosocial phenomena this book is framed by the question of how whiteness works and what it does With attention to central concepts and the history of whiteness it explains the four ways in which whiteness works In its examination of the outward and inward fractures of whiteness the book sheds light on both its connections with social class and ethnicity and with the epistemology of ignorance and the psychoanalytic Representing the long career of whiteness on the one hand and investigating its expansion into new areas on the other Whiteness Fractured reflects the growing maturity of critical whiteness studies It undertakes a critical analysis of approaches to whiteness and proposes new directions for future action and enquiry As such it will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in race and ethnicity intersectionality colonialism and post colonialism and cultural studies

Odysseys Home George Elliott Clarke, 2017-06-22 Odysseys Home Mapping African Canadian Literature is a pioneering study of African Canadian literary creativity laying the groundwork for future scholarly work in the field Based on extensive excavations of archives and texts this challenging passage through twelve essays presents a history of the literature and examines its debt to and synthesis with oral cultures George Elliott Clarke identifies African Canadian literature s distinguishing characteristics argues for its relevance to both African Diasporic Black and Canadian Studies and critiques several of its key creators and texts Scholarly and sophisticated the survey cites and interprets the works of several major African Canadian writers including Andr Alexis Dionne Brand Austin Clarke Claire Harris and M Nourbese Philip In so doing Clarke demonstrates that African Canadian writers and critics explore the tensions that exist between notions of universalism and black nationalism liberalism and conservatism These tensions are revealed in the literature in what Clarke argues to be paradoxically uniquely Canadian and proudly apart from a mainstream national identity Clarke has unearthed vital but previously unconsidered authors and charted the relationship between African Canadian literature and that of Africa African America and the Caribbean In addition to the essays Clarke has assembled a seminal and expansive bibliography of texts literature and criticism from both English and French Canada This important resource will inevitably challenge and change future academic consideration of African Canadian literature and its place in the international literary map of the African Diaspora

Writing Permitted in Designated Areas Only Linda Brodkey, 1996 In the early 1990s Linda Brodkey landed on the front page of the New York Times and in the columns of George Will and other conservative pundits The furor was over the Writing about Difference syllabus she helped create at the University of Texas an effort that came to be more casualty in the debate over multiculturalism in the academy Writing Permitted in Designated Areas Only is made up of Brodkey s dispatches from the front lines of the culture wars Comprising specific examples of student work in addition to Brodkey's own essays Writing Permitted in Designated Areas Only ranges from personal essay Writing on the Bias to hard hitting polemic Writing Permitted in Designated Areas Only Touching on many of the major issues in the teaching of writing today Brodkey explores alternatives to the standard methods for teaching composition The result is a passionate plea for the loosening of writing to achieve its full power and potential to unharness writing and its teachers from the institutional structures that stifle both creativity and independent thought

Not Just Green, Not Just White Mary E. Mendoza, Traci Brynne Voyles, 2025-02 Not Just Green Not Just White brings together a group of diverse contributors to explore the rich intersections between race and environment Together these contributors demonstrate that the field of environmental history with its core questions and critical engagement with the nonhuman world provides a fertile context for understanding racism and ongoing colonialism as power structures in the United States Earlier historiography has defined environmental history as the study of the changing relationships between humans and the environment or nature This volume aims to redefine the field arguing that neither humans nor environment is a monolithic actor in any given story Both humans and the environment are diverse and often the environment causes conflict between and among peoples leaving unequal access and power in its wake Just as important these histories often reveal how despite unequal power those who carry less privilege still persist Together these essays demonstrate the promise of the field of environmental history and reveal how when practitioners in the field decide to move away from green and white topics they will be able to explain much more about our collective past than anyone ever imagined

The Magnetic Fields' 69 Love Songs LD Beghtol, 2006-11-03 A fully illustrated oral history of the Magnetic Fields 1999 triple album 69 Love Songs an album that was afforded classic status by many almost as soon as it was released LD Beghtol's book is chatty incestuous funny dark digressive sexy maddening and delightful in equal measures It documents a vital and influential scene from the inside involving ukuleles and tears citations and footnotes analogue drum machines and floods of cognac Oh and a crossword puzzle too The centre of the book is the secret history of these tuneful acerbic and sometimes heartbreaking songs of old love new love lost love punk rock love gay love straight love experimental music love true love blue love and the utter lack of love that fill the album as told by participants fans imitators naysayers and others Also included are a lexicon of words culled from the album's lyrics recording details performance notes from the full album shows in New York Boston and London plus rare and unpublished images personal memorabilia and much much more

Exhausting Dance Andre Lepecki, 2006-07-13 The only scholarly book in English dedicated to recent European contemporary dance Exhausting Dance Performance and the Politics of Movement examines the work of key contemporary choreographers who have transformed the dance scene since the early 1990s in Europe and the US Through their vivid and explicit dialogue with performance art visual arts and critical theory from the past thirty years this new generation of choreographers challenge our understanding of dance by exhausting

the concept of movement Their work demands to be read as performed extensions of the radical politics implied in performance art in post structuralist and critical theory in post colonial theory and in critical race studies In this far ranging and exceptional study Andre Lepecki brilliantly analyzes the work of the choreographers Jerome Bel France Juan Dominguez Spain Trisha Brown US La Ribot Spain Xavier Le Roy France Germany Vera Mantero Portugal and visual and performance artists Bruce Nauman US William Pope L US This book offers a significant and radical revision of the way we think about dance arguing for the necessity of a renewed engagement between dance studies and experimental artistic and philosophical practices

The LAST FRACTION: An incredible journey into the gold fields of the Yukon D. L. Sigler, 2017-12-14 The Sawyer saga continues when Tom takes his teenage daughter and young son on an adventure that will change their lives forever It was the Gay Nineties for an elite few but most of America suffered from severe economic depression When gold was discovered in a remote part of the Yukon territories a hundred thousand desperate souls packed up and headed north to seek their fortune in the shadow of the North Pole The Sawyer family was among them

Blackening Europe Heike Raphael-Hernandez, 2012-11-12 Traditional Scholars have often looked at African American studies through the lens of European theories resulting in the secondarization of the African American presence in Europe and its contributions to European culture Blackening Europe reverses this pattern by using African American culture as the starting point for a discussion of its influences over traditional European structures Evidence of Europe's blackening abound from French ministers of Hip hop and British incarnations of Shaft to slavery memorial in the Netherlands and German youth sporting dreadlocks Collecting essays by scholars from both sides of the Atlantic and fields as diverse as history literature politics social studies art film and music Blackening Europe explores the implications of these cultural hybrids and extends the growing dialogues about Europe's fascination with African America
