Barnard, 2011-10-24 The Royal Entomological Society RES and Wiley Blackwell are proud to present this landmark publication celebrating the wonderful diversity of the insects of the British Isles and the work of the RES founded 1833 This book is the only modern systematic account of all 558 families of British insects covering not just the large and familiar groups that are included in popular books but even the smallest and least known It is beautifully illustrated throughout in full colour with photographs by experienced wildlife photographers to show the range of diversity both morphological and behavioural among the 24 000 species All of the 6 000 genera of British insects are listed and indexed along with all the family names and higher groups There is a summary of the classification biology and economic importance of each family together with further references for detailed identification All species currently subject to legal protection in the United Kingdom are also listed The Royal Entomological Society is one of the oldest and most prestigious of its kind in the world It is the leading organisation for professional entomologists and its main aim has always been the promotion of knowledge about insects The RES began its famous Handbooks for the Identification of British Insects in 1949 and new works in that series continue to be published The Royal Entomological Society Book of British Insects has been produced to demonstrate the on going commitment of the RES to educate and encourage each generation to study these fascinating creatures This is a key reference work for serious students of entomology and amateur entomologists as well as for professionals who need a comprehensive source of information about the insect groups of the British Isles they may be less familiar with The Collembola of Fennoscandia and Denmark, Part I: Poduromorpha Arne Fjellberg, 2024-03-11 management expenditures worldwide Cerambycidae of the World Biology and Pest Management is the first comprehensive text dealing with all aspects of cerambycid beetles in a global context It presents our current knowledge on the biology classification ecology plant disease transmission and biological cultural and chemical control tactics including biosecurity measures from across the world Written by a team of global experts this book provides an entrance to the scientific literature on Cerambycidae for scientists in research institutions primary industries and universities and will serve as an essential reference for agricultural and quarantine professionals in governmental departments throughout the world Identifying British Insects and Arachnids Peter Charles Barnard,1999-04-15 Essential guide to the specialist literature for the identification of British insects and arachnids Catalogue of Palaearctic Coleoptera Ivan Löbl,2003 This is the sixth volume of a comprehensive series which covers about 100 000 species of Coleoptera known to occur in the Palaearctic Region The information provided for each species is as follows primary taxonomic information of all available names in the genus and species levels published by the end of 1999 the taxonomic information below subfamily organized alphabetically and the type species of genera and subgenera including synonyms Distributional data of species and subspecies is given per country Detailed distributional information for strict endemics is provided and introduced species are indicated The series is a collective work of about one hundred coleopterists from Europe Japan America and Australia Provisional Atlas of the Longhorn Beetles (Coleoptera, Cerambycidae) of Britain P. Sindbæk,2022-07-01 In the early Middle Ages a network of maritime trading towns emporia emerged along the northern coasts of Europe These early urban sites are among archaeology s most notable contributions to our knowledge of the period between the disintegration of the Western Roman Empire and the growth of a maritime oriented world in the Viking Age Ribe on the western coast of Denmark is one of these sites In 2017 18 the Northern Emporium research project conducted seminal research excavations which provided new foundations for the study of this nodal point between Western Europe Scandinavia and the world beyond This first volume presents the results of these excavations and analyses to piece together the history of the emporium and its social fabric The research employs novel high definition methods to explore the networks of the site integrating an extensive use of geoarchaeology and 3D stratigraphic recording with intensive environmental sampling and artefact recovery resulting in more than 100 000 artefact finds The results transform our understanding of key points of the early history of the North Sea region Through the remains of dwellings and workshops the traces left by traders sailors weavers tailors comb makers and skilled producers of glass beads and metal ornaments we follow the creation of Viking Age social networks along with some of the most iconic artistic products of this world and the daily lives of some of its notable inhabitants Traces of Common Xylophagous Insects in Wood Magali Toriti,Aline Durand,Fabien Fohrer,2021-07-21 This atlas presents a concrete tool to identify xylophagous activity by the remains they left in wooded areas in Western Europe Xylophagous insects are among the largest predators of woody tissues They leave discriminating traces different for each species according to their bioecology and so it is necessary to know how to recognize and characterize them The book is a practical tool to help identify and interpret them through a standardized presentation of the most ubiquitous families and a key to their determination It presents descriptions of the galleries and of morphometry of the faecal pellets based on macroscopic features for xylophagous identification and includes information about the origin and distribution of the xylophagous biological cycles bioclimatic conditions and bioecology and the type of woods that are attacked The book will be a useful guide for forest managers heritage conservationists environmental engineers bioarchaeologists entomologists loggers and wood anatomists Proceedings of the Nova Scotian Institute of Science ,2002 Coleoptera Eduard Vives,2000 Proceedings and Transactions of the Nova Scotian Institute of Natural Science Nova Scotian Institute of Science, Halifax,1997 Invertebrater i Norden ,1998 The Bedfordshire Naturalist ,1992 A Review of the Scarce and Threatened Coleoptera of Great Britain P.
