The Empire of the Text Christopher Leigh Connery,1998 This unique study argues that in the Qin Han period there arose in China a regime of textual authority_one that overlapped but did not coincide with imperial authority Drawing on a wide range of research and theory Connery makes an original contribution to the analysis of early imperial elite culture particularly in the fields of literature and linguistics intellectual and institutional history The author provides new contexts for thinking about canonization and textual transmission systems an innovative framework for analysis and discussion of the early imperial elite a socio ideological exploration of one strand of late Han Confucian thought and a critique of the concepts of subjectivity and the birth of lyricism in China      The Limits of Literary Historicism Allen Dunn,Thomas

Haddox,2012-02-28 The Limits of Literary Historicism is a collection of essays arguing that historicism which has come to dominate the professional study of literature in recent decades has become ossified By drawing attention to the limits of historicism its blind spots overreach and reluctance to acknowledge its commitments this provocative new book seeks a clearer understanding of what historicism can and cannot teach us about literary narrative Editors Allen Dunn and Thomas F Haddox have gathered contributions from leading scholars that challenge the dominance of contemporary historicism These pieces critique historicism as it is generally practiced propose alternative historicist models that transcend mere formula and suggest alternatives to historicism altogether The volume begins with the editors extended introduction The Enigma of Critical Distance or Why Historicists Need Convictions and then is divided into three sections The Limits of Historicism Engagements with History and Alternatives to History Defying convention The Limits of Literary Historicism shakes up established modes to move beyond the claustrophobic analyses of contemporary historicism and to ask larger questions that envision more fulfilling and more responsible possibilities in the practice of literary scholarship      Look Who's Reading! ,1995
