MYSTICISM (Complete Edition) Evelyn Underhill, 2018-12-21 This eBook has been formatted to the highest digital standards and adjusted for readability on all devices The spirit of Mysticism is romantic engaged and theoretical rather than historical or scientific Underhill has little use for theoretical explanations and the traditional religious experience formal classifications or analysis She dismisses William James' pioneering study The Varieties of Religious Experience 1902 and his four marks of the mystic state ineffability noetic quality transcendence and passivity Excerpt All men at one time or another have fallen in love with the veiled Isis whom they call Truth With most this has been a passing passion they have early seen its hopelessness and turned to more practical things But others remain all their lives the devout lovers of reality though the manner of their love the vision which they make of themselves of the beloved object varies enormously Some see Truth as Dante saw Beatrice an adorable yet intangible figure found in this world yet revealing the next

Revival: Mysticism (1911) Underhill Evelyn, 2018-05-08 This book falls naturally into two parts each of which is really complete in itself though they are in a sense complementary to one another Whilst the second and longest part contains a somewhat detailed study of the nature and development of man's spiritual or mystical consciousness in the first is intended rather to provide an introduction to the general subject of mysticism. Exhibiting it by turns from the point of view of metaphysics, psychology and symbolism it is an attempt to gather between the covers of one volume information at present scattered amongst many monographs and texts, books written in diverse tongues and to give the student in a compact form at least the elementary facts in regard to each of those subjects which are most closely connected with the study of the mystics. A Sacred Look: Becoming Cultural Mystics Nancy Usselman, 2018-04-18 How should a follower of Christ engage the popular media culture? By becoming a mystic, Sr. Nancy challenges Christians today to delve deep into the rich theological tradition of the church as the root and foundation for recognizing the beauty of God present in all that is truly human. The artists of popular culture sometimes unwittingly seek transcendence while grappling with some of humanity's most profound existential longings. The cultural mystics of today point out those needs of humanity in the culture's artifacts in order to enter into dialogue with those who seek something beyond what this world satisfies. The anthropological sacramental incarnation paradigm presented gives us this ability to take a sacred look of the culture and offer the joy of the Gospel Christ who is the answer of all humanity's yearnings.

Mystic Moderns James H. Thrall, 2020-01-21 Mystic Moderns examines the responses of three British authors: Evelyn Underhill (1875-1941), May Sinclair (1863-1946) and Mary Webb (1881-1927) to the emerging modernity of the long early twentieth century moment encompassing the First World War. As they explored divergent but overlapping understandings of what mystical experience might be, these authors rejected claims that modernity's celebration of the secular and rational left no place for the mystical; rather, they countered, sensitivity to a greater reality could both establish and validate personal agency and was integral to their identities as modern women. Their preoccupations with the dynamism of human connection drew on prevailing ideas of vital energy or life force developed by Arthur Schopenhauer and Henri Bergson in ways that channeled modernity's erotic energy of change. By using their fiction to describe new self-authenticating forms of mysticism separate from either the prevailing orthodoxy of establishment Christianity or the extreme heterodoxy of their era's enthusiasm for paranormal experimentation, they also contributed to the rise of a generic concept of spirituality. Mystic Moderns thus offers historical perspective on contemporary claims for self-constructed, non-institutional spiritual experience associated with the claim "I'm spiritual, not religious." Working as they did within the shadow of the First World War, Underhill, Sinclair, and Webb were in the end attempting to determine what might be of authentic value for a modern age marked by ubiquitous death. While not themselves utopian authors, each was touched by her era's complicated hunger for the best of all possible worlds. Their constructions of how an individual should be and act in the midst of modernity thus simultaneously projected visions of what that modernity itself should become. The Mystic World of Navajo Art and Culture Pasquale De Marco, 2025-03-08 The Mystic World of Navajo Art and Culture explores the rich and diverse artistic traditions of the Navajo people. Agents of uncertainty John Danvers,2012-01-01

Through an analysis of many different examples Danvers articulates a new way of thinking about mysticism and scepticism not as opposite poles of the philosophical spectrum but as two fields of enquiry with overlapping aims and methods Prompted by a deep sense of wonder at being alive many mystics and sceptics like the Buddha practice disciplines of doubt in order to become free of attachment to fixed appearances essences and viewpoints and in doing so they find peace and equanimity They develop ways of living with impermanence and the unexpected by letting go of adherence to dogmatic beliefs and by suspending judgement In common with many artists and poets they act as agents of uncertainty actively disturbing the routines and habits of day to day thought and behaviour in order to demonstrate how to maintain a sense of balance and spontaneity in the midst of life's difficulties Topics explored include being and self as process mysticism and language scepticism and dogmatism Buddhism interdependence and emptiness Daoism and impermanence dialectics of doubt in art and poetry Written in a lively and accessible style accompanied by drawings and photographs by the author this volume is aimed at scholars artists teachers and anyone interested in philosophy religion art poetry and ways of being
