poems Beginning with Plato and Aristotle Simon Brittan moves from classical theory to the lesser known medieval exegetical theories of such notables as Augustine Aquinas and Origen addresses theory pertaining to Renaissance Italy and Dante English theory of the Middle Ages the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries and the Romantic period and concludes by weighing the poetry of T E Hulme T S Eliot and Ezra Pound on the larger historical scale of literary theory By acknowledging interpretive theories of the past Brittan provides a proper historical frame of reference in which today's student can better understand figurative language in poetry Simon Brittan is an independent scholar who divides his time between England and Michigan He has taught at the University of East Anglia and in the Department for Continuing Education at the University of Oxford and written for Renaissance Forum the Times Literary Supplement and Gravesiana
