Explores Victorian literature through scent and perfume presenting an extensive range of well known and unfamiliar texts in intriguing and imaginative new ways that make us re think literature s relation with the senses A selection of poems essays and fiction exploring these texts with reference to both the little known cultural history of perfume use and the appreciation of natural fragrance in Victorian Britain It shows how scent and perfume are used to convey not merely moods and atmospheres but the nuances of the aesthete or decadent s carefully cultivated identity personality or sensibility Garden Life ,1913 Paxton's Flower Garden John Lindley,Sir Joseph Paxton,1852 Tell about Night Flowers Julia Eichelberger,2015-07-08

Tell about Night Flowers presents previously unpublished letters by Eudora Welty selected and annotated by scholar Julia Eichelberger Welty published many of her best known works in the 1940s A Curtain of Green The Wide Net The Robber Bridegroom Delta Wedding and The Golden Apples During this period she also wrote hundreds of letters to two friends who shared her love of gardening One friend Diarmuid Russell was her literary agent in New York the other John Robinson was a high school classmate and an aspiring writer who served in the Army in WWII and long the focus of Welty s affection Welty s lyrical witty and poignant discussions of gardening and nature are delightful in themselves they are also figurative expressions of Welty s views of her writing and her friendships Taken together with thirty five illustrations they form a poetic narrative of their own chronicling artistic and psychic developments that were underway before Welty was fully conscious of them By 1949 her art like her friendships had evolved in ways that she would never have predicted in 1940

Tell about Night Flowers not only lets readers glimpse Welty in her garden it also reveals a brilliant and generous mind responding to the public events people art and natural landscapes Welty encountered at home and on her travels during the 1940s This book enhances our understanding of the life landscape and art of a major American writer Visions of Loveliness Judith M. Taylor,2014-12-01

Gardeners of today take for granted the many varieties of geraniums narcissi marigolds roses and other beloved flowers for their gardens Few give any thought at all to how this incredible abundance came to be or to the people who spent a good part of their lives creating it These breeders once had prosperous businesses and were important figures in their communities but are only memories now They also could be cranky and quirky In the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries new and exotic species were arriving in Europe and the United States from all over the world and these plants often captured the imaginations of the unlikeliest of men from aristocratic collectors to gruff gardeners who hardly thought of themselves as artists But whatever their backgrounds they all shared a quality of mind that led them to ask What if and to use their imagination and skills to answer that question themselves The newest rose from China was small and light pink but what if it were larger and came in more colors Lilac was very nice in its way but what if its blossoms were double and frilly While there are many books about plant collectors and explorers there are none about plant breeders Drawing from libraries archives and the recollections of family members horticultural historian Judith M Taylor traces the lives of prominent cultivators in the context of the scientific discoveries and changing tastes of their times Visions of Loveliness is international in scope profiling plant breeders from many countries for example China and the former East Germany whose work may be unknown to the Anglophone reader In addition to chronicling the lives of breeders the author also includes chapters on the history behind the plants by genus from shrubs and flowering trees to herbaceous plants

Amateur Gardening for Town and Country ,1905 The Scent of Mastranto Flowers - Memories of a Journey through a Divided Venezuela Franklin Díaz, It tells the story of a young girl who embarks on a journey with her father to discover her native country Venezuela which she had not had the chance to return to since she had to emigrate to Spain as a baby During her travels she will encounter a society deeply divided by radicalism hatred and political fanaticism She will learn about social inequalities the vast gap between the rich and the poor the causes and consequences of crime insecurity food shortages and the idolatry and exaltation of figures like Sim n Bol var Fidel Castro and Hugo Ch vez Through her interactions with people she will learn about the causes and consequences of contemporary Venezuelan history the deep rooted reasons for the divided factions and the most significant social and political events drawing her own conclusions from them At the same time she will try to offer through her childlike ideas a way out of the confusion hatred and ideological intolerance Additionally she will learn firsthand about the tragedy known as The Cantaura Massacre and its connection to the terrible fates that befell her own family The Delineator R. S. O'Loughlin,H. F. Montgomery,Charles Dwyer,1905
