Weekly Memory Fragments from the Armenian Genocide Margaret DiCanio,2002 Memory Fragments from the Armenian Genocide A Mosaic of a Shared Heritage brings together thirty profiles of North Americans of Armenian descent All exemplify the philosophy that doing well is doing good a credo handed down to them by family members who lost everything when they fled from the Turkish massacres Family stories of how survivors escaped survived and made new lives are filtered through the memories of succeeding generations The profiles reflect how the actions of the survivors shaped the lives of succeeding generations Armenian immigrants feared their heritage might be lost in North America Their fears proved to be unfounded Children and grandchildren retain the culture passed on to them At the same time they hold dear the values of the New World that enabled their families to live free of political repression While details of their daily lives differ most of those profiled share a reverence for education In the New World they flourish as intellectuals artists teachers entertainers and entrepreneurs thereby filling leadership roles decimated by Turks early in their campaign to wipe out the Armenians By making the most of their talents they do homage to those who sacrificed so much Milton and the Resources of the Line John Creaser,2022 An analysis of the poetic line in Milton that considers the resources made available to the poet by lineation and how Milton explored and exploited them more resourcefully than any other English poet Trauma, Tragedy,

Therapy Stephen K. Levine, 2009 Stephen K Levine's new book explores the nature of traumatic experience and the therapeutic role of the arts and arts therapies in responding to it. It suggests that by reimagining painful and tragic experiences through art making we may release their fixity and negative hold on our lives and resist the temptation to assume the role of the victim. Among the many concerns that the book addresses is the damage done by the tendency to adopt stock methods of understanding and superficial explanations for the depths, complexities, wonders, and exasperations of human experience. The book explores the chaos and fragmentation inherent in both art and human existence and the ways in which memory and imagination can find meaning by acknowledging this chaos and embodying it in appropriate forms. The book builds on the important theories of Stephen K Levine's previous book Poiesis: The Language of Psychology and the Speech of the Soul, also published by Jessica Kingsley Publishers. It challenges dominant psychological perspectives on trauma and provides a new framework for arts therapists, psychotherapists, psychologists, and social scientists to understand the effectiveness of the arts therapies in responding to human suffering.
