Stenhammar, 2021-12-16 This volume approaches the Word of Faith as a worldview and analyses the movement through N T Wright's model for worldview analysis in order to provide necessary nuance and complexity to scholarly interpretations of the Word of Faith The reader receives insights into the movement's narrative semiotic practical and propositional dimensions which cumulatively offer a multifaceted understanding of how the Word of Faith interprets reality and engages with the world The analysis shows that there is a narrative core to Word of Faith beliefs in the form of a unique theological story with focus set on the present restoration of Eden's authority and blessings This study demonstrates how the Word of Faith operates as a distinct worldview that parses the world through the lens of faith's causative power to affect a direct correspondence between present reality and Eden's perfection The findings advance a critical and therapeutic approach that acknowledges how the worldview both strengthens and subverts Pentecostalism Essential Readings in Biosemiotics

Donald Favareau, 2010-06-10 Synthesizing the findings from a wide range of disciplines from biology and anthropology to philosophy and linguistics the emerging field of Biosemiotics explores the highly complex phenomenon of sign processing in living systems Seeking to advance a naturalistic understanding of the evolution and development of sign dependent life processes contemporary biosemiotic theory offers important new conceptual tools for the scientific understanding of mind and meaning for the development of artificial intelligence and for the ongoing research into the rich diversity of non verbal human animal and biological communication processes Donald Favareau's Essential Readings in Biosemiotics has been designed as a single source overview of the major works informing this new interdisciplinary and provides scholarly historical and analytical commentary on each of the texts presented The first of its kind this book constitutes a valuable resource to both bioscientists and to semioticians interested in this emerging new discipline and can function as a primary textbook for students in biosemiotics as well Moreover because of its inherently interdisciplinary nature and its focus on the big questions of cognition meaning and evolutionary biology this volume should be of interest to anyone working in the fields of cognitive science theoretical biology philosophy of mind evolutionary psychology communication studies or the history and philosophy of science Cultural Implications of Biosemiotics Paul Copley, 2016-08-11 This is the first book to consider the major implications for culture of the new science of biosemiotics The volume is mainly aimed at an audience outside biosemiotics and semiotics in the humanities and social sciences principally who will welcome elucidation of the possible benefits to their subject area from a relatively new field The book is therefore devoted to illuminating the extent to which biosemiotics constitutes an epistemological break with modern modes of conceptualizing culture It shows biosemiotics to be a significant departure from those modes of thought that neglect to acknowledge continuity across nature modes which install culture and the vicissitudes of the polis at the centre of their deliberations The volume exposes the untenability of the culture nature division presenting a challenge to the many approaches that can only produce an understanding of culture as a realm autonomous and divorced from nature

Media Discourses Donald Matheson, 2005-09-16 Some of the most important questions regarding the relationship between media and culture are about communication How are the meanings which make up a culture shared in society How is power performed in the media What identities and relationships take shape there Media Discourses introduces readers to discourse analysis to show how media communication works Written in a lively style and drawing on examples from contemporary media it discusses what precisely gets represented in mediatexts who gets to do the talking what knowledge people need to share in order to understand the media and how power relations are reinforced or challenged Each chapter discusses a particular media genre including news advertising reality television and weblogs At the same time each chapter also introduces a range of approaches to media discourse from analysis of linguistic details to the rules of conversation and the discursive construction of selfhood A glossary explains key terms and suggestions for further reading are given at the end of each chapter This is a key text for media studies mass communication communication studies linguistics and journalism studies students

Semiotics: Principles & Problems Yiheng Zhao, 2025-03-06 This book attempts to build semiotics on a new foundation which is meaning making At the very beginning the central terms of signs and semiotics are redefined as the old definition for sign one thing standing for another is far from satisfactory Sign is a perception that is regarded as carrying meaning In this way semiotics now built on the foundation of meaning making and meaning cognition is a science of meaning All the principles are now under the scrutiny of the new definition and many issues are answered more succinctly Therefore the new definition is extended to the new fields of cultural activities in human society and a series of problems arise This book intends to discuss and explore these questions such as the middle reclining in the cultural markedness the sliding of motivation in art the difficult distinction between falsehood and untruthfulness and
