Defending Christian Faith Abjar Bahkou, 2014-01-01 The book by Abjar Bahkou presents Medieval Christian author Gerasimus and his discussion with Islam His aim was to show that Christian teachings are not irrational but rather subtle and complex As a Christian philosopher and theologian Gerasimus used the experiences of those of the past to facilitate his own response to critics However two important differences separated him from earlier apologists which demand his own insight and innovation First the new language of intellectual discourse was Arabic which was not accommodating for expressing traditional Christian doctrine and required the development of a vocabulary out of terms already heavily influenced by the Qur'anic worldview Second the new religion challenging Christianity was one of absolute monotheism which shared neither a common scriptural nor cultural heritage and rejected the very possibility of a Trinity and Incarnation Although a common theme in early Christian apologetics was the refutation of Judaism the debate generally centered on the interpretation of the Old Testament showing that Jesus was indeed the Messiah The Qur'an while acknowledging Jesus as the Messiah explicitly rejects the Christian doctrines of the Incarnation and the Trinity and presents itself as the revelation which supersedes all previous revelation Thus although Christians and Muslims share certain themes and figures such as Creation and the Last Judgement Abraham Moses Mary and Jesus Muslims refuse evidence contrary to the Qur'an leaving Christians without recourse to traditional scripture based arguments Gerasimus as a Christian apologist and mutakallim accepted these challenges and began the process of explaining and translating his faith in the new milieu to make it coherent and rational In his treatise Gerasimus reveals himself to be a full participant in this important period of intellectual history he sets down the basic points of controversy and outlines a response to them in a form that would be an excellent introduction to Christian theology written for the Muslim environment Gerasimus was also a mutakallim in his own right the Christian counterpart to those Islamic scholars who sought to defend their faith through rational arguments In an effort to argue the legitimacy of Christianity Gerasimus attempts to create a common language that influences the meaning of terminology and concepts of intellectual development in Muslim Christian debates Such language would set the stage for centuries to come This is certainly his greatest contribution

Violence in Medieval Europe Warren C. Brown, 2014-06-11 The European Middle Ages have long attracted popular interest as an era characterised by violence whether a reflection of societal brutality and lawlessness or part of a romantic vision of chivalry Violence in Medieval Europe engages with current scholarly debate about the degree to which medieval European society was in fact shaped by such forces Drawing on a wide variety of primary sources Warren Brown examines the norms governing violence within medieval societies from the sixth to the fourteenth century over an area covering the Romance and the Germanic speaking regions of the continent as well as England Scholars have often told the story of violence and power in the Middle Ages as one in which private violence threatened and sometimes destroyed public order Yet academics are now asking to what degree violence that we might call private in contrast to the violence wielded by a central authority might have been an effective social tool Here Brown looks at how private individuals exercised violence in defence of their rights or in vengeance for wrongs within a set of clearly understood social rules and how over the course of this period kings began to claim the exclusive right to regulate the violence of their subjects as part of their duty to uphold God's order on earth Violence in Medieval Europe provides both an original take on the subject and an illuminating synthesis of recent and classic scholarship It will be invaluable to students and scholars of history medieval studies and related areas for the light it casts not just on violence but on the evolution of the medieval political order

regional and maritime focused approach to studying the genesis development and circulation of Esoteric or Tantric Buddhism across Maritime Asia from the seventh to the thirteenth centuries ce The book lays emphasis on the mobile networks of human agents Masters textual sources Texts and images Icons through which Esoteric Buddhist traditions spread Capitalising on recent research and making use of both disciplinary and area focused perspectives this book highlights the role played by Esoteric Buddhist maritime networks in shaping intra Asian connectivity In doing so it reveals the limits of a historiography that is premised on land based transmission of Buddhism from a South Asian homeland and advances an alternative historical narrative that overturns the popular perception regarding Southeast Asia as a periphery that passively received overseas influences Thus a strong point is made for the appreciation of the region as both a crossroads and rightful terminus of Buddhist cults and for the re evaluation of the creative and transformative force of Southeast Asian agents in the transmission of Esoteric Buddhism across mediaeval Asia
