Royal Commission on Environmental Pollution, John Houghton, 1993-01-01 34 million tonnes of municipal waste 30 40 million tonnes of sewage sludge and possibly 6 million tonnes of chemical and clinical wastes are produced in the UK each year This comprehensive report deals with incineration and its role in relation to this waste From their study the Commission has come up with 35 recommendations which include a national strategy for waste management that a levy be applied to all waste deposited in landfill sites that government should give targets to waste disposal authorities for the recovery of energy from municipal waste and that waste disposal facilities should wherever possible be on sites which allow wastes to be moved by rail or water transport rather than road Waste Treatment and Disposal Paul T. Williams, 2013-04-30 Following on from the successful first edition of Waste Treatment Disposal this second edition has been completely updated and provides comprehensive coverage of waste process engineering and disposal methodologies Concentrating on the range of technologies available for household and commercial waste it also presents readers with relevant legislative background material as boxed features NEW to this edition Increased coverage of re use and recycling Updating of the usage of different waste treatment technologies Increased coverage of new and emerging technologies for waste treatment and disposal A broader global perspective with a focus on comparative international material on waste treatment uptake and waste management policies Waste Incineration and the Environment R M Harrison, R E Hester, 2007-10-31 Waste incineration is finding increasing favour as a waste disposal method and this Issue considers the topic of waste disposal and the place of incineration as an option It reviews the emissions and environmental impacts of incineration and available control technologies specific research upon emissions of trace metals and organic micropollutants and the methodologies for environmental impact assessment There is currently great interest and considerable controversy over waste incineration and this book gives a dispassionate view of the scientific and technical issues involved It provides a broad overview of the role incineration can play in waste management and looks at how environmental impacts may be managed and assessed For municipal waste when coupled with energy recovery waste incineration provides an efficient spatially compact means of bulk waste reduction which is widely favoured over landfill and for some chemical wastes provides the only presently viable disposal option This book places incineration in the context of other waste disposal options and examines the relative benefits and environmental impacts in a balanced way Crop Spraying and the Health of Residents and Bystanders Great Britain. Royal Commission on Environmental Pollution, 2007 This report addresses a complex and controversial issue the human health risks associated with the use of agricultural pesticides Some people are extremely concerned about their potential exposure to pesticides arising because they occupy properties adjacent to farmland or because they have or have had access to such land for example when using footpaths The official position in the UK in response to these concerns has been that a robust approach to the assessment of human health risks associated with pesticide exposure already exists and that there is no scientific case for taking additional measures such as the introduction of no spray buffer zones to protect members of the public who may be in the vicinity of a sprayed area But those who consider themselves to be adversely affected by pesticide spraying have not been reassured and have continued to campaign for the adoption of more precautionary measures Developments in Environmental Regulation Jon Foreman, 2017-11-12 This book provides a critical examination of contemporary approaches to environmental regulation in the UK and the European Union It also explores how regulation has evolved in response to a number of factors including industrial development and improved scientific knowledge while considering the radical next steps that need to be taken in response to existing challenges Developments in Environmental Regulation draws its focus on the effects of risk based approaches to the environmental regulation of business and industry including its impact on sustainable economic growth The book also considers the challenges and potential opportunities that surround the UK's withdrawal or Brexit from the European Union This edited collection has been written by a group of highly experienced regulatory specialists whose insightful perspectives on key areas of environmental regulation are situated at the core of this work This book will appeal to students and academics policy makers and environmental practitioners interested in understanding how environmental policy and regulation is applied and how it can be adapted to its political context Wolf and Stanley on Environmental Law Susan Wolf, Neil Stanley, 2013-10-23 Written with real clarity by authors teaching and researching in the field Wolf and Stanley on Environmental Law offers an excellent starting point for both law and non law students encountering this diverse and rapidly developing subject for the first time The focus of the book is on the regulation and control of pollution and includes chapters on environmental permitting waste management air and water pollution and contaminated land The book also includes the administration and enforcement of environmental law EU environmental law the environmental torts and the private regulation of environmental law The book is supported by a range of learning features designed to help students Consolidate your learning Chapter learning objectives and detailed summaries clarify and highlight key points Understand how the law works in practice Law in Action features demonstrate the application of pollution control law Plan your research

Adapting Institutions to Climate Change Great Britain. Royal Commission on Environmental Pollution, 2010 The overwhelming scientific consensus is that the earth is warming because of human activities Adaptation will be necessary even if mitigation efforts are markedly increased because we are already locked in to climate change as a result of historic greenhouse gas emissions Projections show that it is likely that global average temperatures will rise by 2 degrees C and there is the potential for a 4 degree C rise by the end of the century UK projections suggest warmer drier summers and warmer wetter winters The consequences are likely to be profound even devastating with more extreme events floods drought and heat waves coupled with sea level rises Policies and practice on water management coast protection and nature conservation will need to change This report explores how institutions should adapt their policies to a changing climate and offers a ten point check list to be followed by all organisations The Commission found many institutions are poorly prepared to adapt to climate change and many have simply not started to consider it The Commission makes recommendations designed to help institutions develop their capacity to respond to this challenge In contrast to climate change mitigation where local actions have global benefits adaptation is primarily about local action with local consequences that may differ markedly in different parts of the UK

Managing and Minimizing Construction Waste J. Ferguson, Institution of Civil Engineers (Great Britain), 1995 Over two billion tonnes of waste are generated in the European Union every year approximately half of which comes from the construction industry Increasing pressure on landfill sites accompanied by escalating prices and a growing awareness of environmental concerns has made the minimization of this waste and its responsible disposal an absolute necessity The Environment Protection Act 1990 placed a Duty of Care on every individual involved in the creation storage transportation or disposal of waste This practical guide for everyone involved with the construction industry outlines how to manage waste from construction economically and in accordance with the legal requirements of the Duty of Care It explains in detail all actions required of the responsible person and offers extremely practical advice on how to minimize the amount of waste produced thus saving costs and reducing the environmental impact
