Port Systems in Global Competition César Ducruet, Theo Notteboom, 2023-08-11 In a world where most international trade is carried by sea each port can be seen as a unique chokepoint competing to attract ever more traffic and economic activities However ports can also be seen as parts of a wider system which can be defined as a system of two or more ports located in proximity within a given area Their fate and governance is jointly influenced when belonging to the same region country or transnational space Investments shocks innovations and delays occurring in one port often affect other ports within a certain spatial range and time lapse Further understanding of such co developments in port systems is necessary to go beyond local specificities through a multidisciplinary and multi level contribution Port Systems in Global Competition is an answer to the strong and urgent need for reviewing the relevant theories concepts methods and sources that can be mobilized for the analysis of port systems With contributions from reputable scholars coming from no less than 11 countries in Europe Asia and North America this book delves into the analysis of port systems from diverse disciplinary angles geography regional science economics management engineering and mathematics computer sciences and covering innovative empirical approaches to various port systems in the world The theoretical and empirical knowledge can support and enhance decision making in relation with the development of ports supply chains and transport networks in general This book is an ideal companion to academics and upper level students interested in the analysis of transport and economic systems in general as well as the effective ways to answer complex issues in transportation and socio economic development It will be a valuable resource for those researching or studying transportation and supply chains maritime and port economics as well as regional development and human geography Magnetic Methods of Flaw Detection (nondestructive Testing), Analysis and Measurements R. I. Yanus, Nikolai Mikhaïlovich Rodigin, 1960 Methods for Multilevel Analysis and Visualisation of Geographical Networks Céline Rozenblat, Guy Melancon, 2013-06-03 This leading edge study focuses on the latest techniques in analysing and representing the complex multi layered data now available to geographers studying urban zones and their populations The volume tracks the successful results of the SPANGEO Project which was set up in 2005 to standardize and share the syncretic multinational mapping techniques already developed by geographers and computer scientists SPANGEO sought new and responsive ways of visualising urban geographical and social data that reflected the fine grained detail of the inputs It allowed for visual representation of the large and complex networks and flows which are such an integral feature of the dynamism of urban geography SPANGEO developed through the visual analytics loop in which geographers collaborated with computer scientists by feeding data into the design of visualisations that in turn spawned the urge to incorporate more varied data into the visualisation This volume covers all the relevant aspects from conceptual principles to the tools of network analysis and the actual results flowing from their deployment Detailed case studies set out in this volume include spatial multi level analyses of flows in airports and sea ports as well as the fascinating scientific networks in European cities The volume shows how the primary concern of geography the interaction of society with physical space has been revived by the complexities of new cartographical and statistical methodologies which allow for highly detailed mapping and far more powerful computer analysis of spatial relationships
