Political Economy and Civilisation in a Multipolar World Order Ray Silvius, 2016-10-04 This book seeks to understand how Russia's multifaceted rejection of American unipolarity and de-territorialised neo-liberal capitalism has contributed to the gestation of the present multipolar moment in the global political economy. Analysing Western world order precepts via the actions of a powerful albeit precarious national political economy and state structure situated on the periphery of Western world order, Silvius explores the manner in which culture and ideas are mobilised for the purposes of national, regional and international political and economic projects in a post-global age. The book explains and analyses the tensions of post-Soviet Russia's integration into and simultaneous partial rejection of the capitalist global political economy. Provides an overview of the social, political and historical origins of Russian samobytnost, uniqueness after the fall of the Soviet Union and demonstrates their significance to contemporary understandings of world order. Explores how structures of cultural difference and practices of cultural differentiation interact with the normative legacies of American hegemonic aspirations in contemporary world order structures. Evaluates how cultural and civilisational representations are mobilised for state projects and their corresponding regional and international dimensions within the global political economy. This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Russian Foreign Policy, IPE and comparative political economy. Russia

Political Science Abstracts IFI/Plenum Data Company staff, 2013-11-11 Political Science Abstracts is an annual supplement to the Political Science Government and Public Policy Series of The Universal Reference System which was first published in 1967. All back issues are still available. The Rhetorical Rise and Demise of "Democracy" in Russian Political Discourse, Volume 2 David Cratis Williams, Marilyn J. Young, Michael K. Launer, 2022-05-17 Post-Soviet Russia in the 1990s saw a surge in civic participation. The traditional power structure officially relinquished control of political rhetoric and a nascent civil society had begun to emerge. Free elections and political partisanship between reformist and conservative elements of Russian society spurred on by Russia's economic troubles gave a Wild West tenor to public rhetoric that was reflected in the election campaigns of 1993, 1995 and 1996. In this volume the authors examine through a series of contemporaneously written essays the arc of government rhetoric during the height of media freedom, the quest for a new national identity and the struggle for self-government.
