Russian Romantic Fiction:

Russian Romantic Fiction John Mersereau, 1983 Russian fiction was born in the age of Pushkin and in a remarkably short period of time the Russian novel became one of the glories of world literature This book tells part of the story of how this happened Of course Pushkin Gogol and Lermontov are the primary figures of the Romantic era and Mr Mersereau devotes many pages to them But it is the context of their works which is the main subject of this history the entire development of Russian prose from the start of the 19th century until 1852 This background makes the appearance of such masterpieces as Dead Souls A Hero of Our Time The Captain's Daughter and The Queen of Spades more understandable but none the less amazing Page 4 of cover

George Sand and the Nineteenth-century Russian Love-triangle Novels Dawn D. Eidelman, 1994 Mauprat features Edmee a self actualizing woman as hero protagonist Here the notion of fiction of relationship emerges as male Russian authors created tragic idealized woman characters who could never really live up to the terrible perfection with which they were endowed

Romantic Prose Fiction Gerald Ernest Paul Gillespie, Manfred Engel, Bernard Dieterle, 2008 In this volume a team of three dozen international experts presents a fresh picture of literary prose fiction in the Romantic age seen from cross cultural and interdisciplinary perspectives The work treats the appearance of major themes in characteristically Romantic versions the power of Romantic discourse to reshape imaginative writing and a series of crucial reactions to the impact of Romanticism on cultural life down to the present both in Europe and in the New World Through its combination of chapters on thematic generic and discursive features Romantic Prose Fiction achieves a unique theoretical stance by considering the opinions of primary Romantics and their successors not as guiding truths by which to define the permanent meaning of Romanticism but as data of cultural history that shed important light on an evolving civilization

SPECIAL OFFER 30% discount for a complete set order 5 vols The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World but also the ways in which the affected literatures in reaction to Romanticism have redefined themselves on into Modernism A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series total contents Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution and by combining cross cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism's own self commentary in theoretical statements on the arts society life the sciences and more Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume Romantic Prose Fiction where the basic Romantic themes and story types the romance novel novella short story and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations As an aid to readers the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age

Russian Love Stories Nadezhda L. Peterson, 2009 Russian Love Stories offers a broad range of narrative styles philosophical agendas and points of view from writers who insist on making love be it familial love or between strangers carnal or platonic real or imagined central in the lives of their characters Although all the authors represented were born in the Soviet period each was molded by a particular set of shared practices and beliefs and all offer a distinctive perspective on their experience The selections are evenly divided between men and women writers and those working in Russia or abroad This anthology is anchored in the period from the middle of the twentieth century to the present offering the reader an insider's view of Soviet and post Soviet life Yet the writer's position sometimes from within that time sometimes from the perspective of a backward glance at the past is emphatically that of an outsider and the nature of post Romanticism Overall the book reveals that although confined to his transitional epoch Lermontov did not succumb to it instead he probed its character and evoked its historical import And the book concludes that Lermontov's works have resonance for our transitional era in the early twenty first century as well

Pushkin and Romantic Fashion Monika Greenleaf, 1994 Pushkin and Romantic Fashion is about the interpenetration of culture and personality specifically Alexander I's Russian Empire a latecomer in post Napoleonic European history and Aleksandr Pushkin virtuoso improviser yet prisoner of the Golden Age discourses that now bear his name It focuses on Pushkin's use of the Romantic fragment especially the link between the fragment and Romantic irony's fundamental and modern questioning of the sources and intentionality of language In the view of such irony's most eloquent formulator Friedrich Schlegel identity does not precede speech but is forged in each improvisational interaction with interlocutor or reader One finds out who one is by speaking and all utterances and texts stand in a fragmentary contingent relation to an accumulating life text Pushkin may actually come closest of all major European poets to realizing what Schlegel prescribed or diagnosed as the poetics of modernity not because of any direct links but because as common latecomers on the European cultural scene Russian and German writers shared a fascination with European fashions and an ironic talent for conflating or stepping outside them Thus Pushkin's kaleidoscopic explorations of fashionable European genres from Augustan erotic elegy to the archaic Greek lyric fragment from the Byronic Oriental poetic tale to Shakespearean chronicle drama from the modern society tale to the Walter Scott historical novel can be seen as ever more dramatic rewritings of and meditations on a previous life text This fragmentary and ironic self presentation has ensured that every generation of Pushkin readers no matter how gilded with cultural authority the poet became talked back The author is deeply concerned to embed Pushkin in a larger European context in a way critically consonant with the best in Western Romantic studies She locates Pushkin's penchant for fragmentary structures in a European discourse of fragmentation revealing

The Exotic Prisoner in Russian Romanticism Paul M. Austin, 1997 Besides new themes of alienation and desires for self fulfillment European Romanticism brought to Russian literature the congenial themes of captivity and exotic worlds Between 1820 and 1840 there developed an enormous literature with hosts of prisoners in exotic locales in the Caucasus Loneliness and desire for freedom competed with elaborate descriptions of unknown peoples Chechens Georgians Tatars and Circassians to produce a literature of unparalleled brilliance brought to a dazzling culmination by Lermontov's Bela in 1839 The exotic prisoner theme with its exotic trappings then disappears leaving as its heritage the powerful themes of loneliness and introspection which other writers were subsequently to give their own unique treatment
