Russian Imperial Style:

Russian Imperial Style Laura Cerwinske, 1990 Sumptuously illustrated with over 100 stunning full page color photographs this exquisite book displays the opulence and incomparable beauty of the treasures created for and collected by the Russian aristocracy in the 18th and 19th centuries This breathtaking visual feast will have broad appeal to lovers of history art decorative design and antiques Russian Imperial Style Ramboro Books, 1998-07-01 Palaces of St. Petersburg, 1996 Showcases a unique exhibition held in the Mississippi Arts Pavilion March 1 August 31 1996 of the imperial palaces in the environs of St Petersburg including some interiors of palaces lovingly recreated with culturally significant artifacts that were transported half way around the world to grace this exhibition Russian Imperial Style Laura Cerwinske, 1990 In this text the reader is introduced to the world of pre revolutionary Russia where the decorative arts flourished Since Peter the Great's time Russian artists and craftsmen had looked westwards for their inspiration but the European styles were transmuted and transformed by the Russian sensibility producing a style of its own This book describes that process over two centuries covering fashion jewellery icons furniture objects and art decorative paintings porcelain tableware and the style of life which went with them The Russian Empire 1450-1801 Nancy Shields Kollmann, 2017 Modern Russian identity and historical experience has been largely shaped by Russia's imperial past an empire that was founded in the early modern era and endures in large part today The Russian Empire 1450-1801 surveys how the areas that made up the empire were conquered and how they were governed It considers the Russian empire a Eurasian empire characterized by a politics of difference the rulers and their elites at the center defined the state's needs minimally with control over defense criminal law taxation and mobilization of resources and otherwise tolerated local religions languages cultures elites and institutions The center related to communities and religions vertically according each a modicum of rights and autonomies but didn't allow horizontal connections across nobilities townsmen or other groups potentially with common interests to coalesce Thus the Russian empire was multi ethnic and multi religious Nancy Kollmann gives detailed attention to the major ethnic and religious groups and surveys the government's strategies of governance centralized bureaucracy military reform and a changed judicial system The volume pays particular attention to the dissemination of a supranational ideology of political legitimacy in a variety of media written sources and primarily public ritual painting and particularly architecture Beginning with foundational features such as geography climate demography and geopolitical situation The Russian Empire 1450-1801 explores the empire's primarily agrarian economy serfdom towns and trade as well as the many religious groups primarily Orthodoxy Islam and Buddhism It tracks the emergence of an Imperial nobility and a national self consciousness that was by the end of the eighteenth century distinctly imperial embracing the diversity of the empire's many peoples and cultures Humanities, 2002-11 Tashkent Paul Michael Stronski, 2010-09-19 Paul Stronski tells the fascinating story of Tashkent an ethnically diverse primarily Muslim city that became the prototype for the Soviet era

reimagining of urban centers in Central Asia Based on extensive research in Russian and Uzbek archives Stronski shows us how Soviet officials planners and architects strived to integrate local ethnic traditions and socialist ideology into a newly constructed urban space and propaganda showcase The Soviets planned to transform Tashkent from a feudal city of the tsarist era into a flourishing garden replete with fountains a lakeside resort modern roadways schools hospitals apartment buildings and of course factories The city was intended to be a shining example to the world of the successful assimilation of a distinctly non Russian city and its citizens through the catalyst of socialism As Stronski reveals the physical building of this Soviet city was not an end in itself but rather a means to change the people and their society Stronski analyzes how the local population of Tashkent reacted to resisted and eventually acquiesced to the city s socialist transformation He records their experiences of the Great Terror World War II Stalin s death and the developments of the Krushchev and Brezhnev eras up until the earthquake of 1966 which leveled large parts of the city Stronski finds that the Soviets established a legitimacy that transformed Tashkent and its people into one of the more stalwart supporters of the regime through years of political and cultural changes and finally during the upheavals of glasnost Fabergé Eggs Will Lowes,Christel Ludewig McCanless,2001

This work presents detailed technical descriptions of 66 Faberge eggs as well as the stories of people involved in their making or presentation The Practical Mechanic's Journal ,1862 Colonial Theories of Institutional Development

Daniel Oto-Peralías,Diego Romero-Ávila,2017-03-23 This book analyzes the role played by initial endowments and colonizer identity in seeking to explain institutional development in former colonies It presents a model of two styles of imperialism that integrates the colonial origin and endowment views explaining current institutions The authors argue that Great Britain and Portugal adopted an economically oriented style which was pragmatic and sensitive to initial conditions For this style of imperialism the endowment view is applicable In contrast France employed a politically oriented style of imperialism in which ideological and political motivations were more present This led to a uniform colonial policy that largely disregarded initial endowments In turn the case of Spain represents a hybrid of the two models The empirical analysis presented here reveals a remarkable degree of heterogeneity in the relationship of endowments and colonizer identity with current institutions
