Russian Novel:

The Rise of the Russian Novel Richard Freeborn, 1973-01-04 This introduction to the study of the Russian novel demonstrates how the form evolved from imitative beginnings to the point in the 1860s when it reached maturity and established itself as part of the European tradition Professor Freeborn considers selected novels by Pushkin Lermontov Gogol Dostoyevsky and Tolstoy Extended introductory sections to the studies of Dostoyevsk and Tolstoy deal with their earlier works A final chapter summarises the principal points of contrast between Crime and Punishment and War and Peace and argues that in certain specific ways they represent the peaks in the evolution of the form of the Russian novel Quotations are translated but key passages are also given in the original Professor Freeborn treats the novel as a literary form and avoids the overworked formulae on which much historical writing on Russian literature has been based He is concerned with the literary development of a great form Handbook of Russian Literature Victor Terras, 1985-01-01 Profiles the careers of Russian authors scholars and critics and discusses the history of the Russian treatment of literary genres such as drama fiction and essays Reference Guide to Russian Literature Neil Cornwell, 2013-12-02 First Published in 1998 This volume will surely be regarded as the standard guide to Russian literature for some considerable time to come It is therefore confidently recommended for addition to reference libraries be they academic or public The Cambridge Companion to the Classic Russian Novel Malcolm V. Jones, Robin Feuer Miller, 1998-04-30 Many Russian novels of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries have made a huge impact not only inside the boundaries of their own country but across the western world The Cambridge Companion to the Classic Russian Novel offers a thematic account of these novels in fourteen newly commissioned essays by prominent European and North American scholars There are chapters on the city the countryside politics satire religion psychology philosophy the romantic realist and modernist traditions and technique gender and theory In this context the work of Pushkin Dostoevsky Tolstoy Turgenev Bulgakov Nabokov Pasternak and Solzhenitsyn among others is described and discussed There is a chronology and guide to further reading all quotations are in English This volume will be invaluable not only for students and scholars but for anyone interested in the Russian novel The Routledge Companion to Russian Literature Neil Cornwell, 2002-06-01 The Routledge Companion to Russian Literature is an engaging and accessible guide to Russian writing of the past thousand years The volume covers the entire span of Russian literature from the Middle Ages to the post Soviet period and explores all the forms that have made it so famous poetry drama and of course the Russian novel A particular emphasis is given to the nineteenth and twentieth centuries when Russian literature achieved world wide recognition through the works of writers such as Pushkin Dostoevsky Tolstoy Chekhov Nabokov and Solzhenitsyn Covering a range of subjects including women s writing Russian literary theory socialist realism and migr writing leading international scholars open up the wonderful diversity of Russian literature With recommended lists of further reading and an excellent up to date general bibliography The Routledge Companion to Russian Literature is the perfect guide for students and general readers alike Historical Dictionary of Russian Literature Jonathan Stone, 2013

The Historical Dictionary of Russian Literature contains a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 100 cross referenced entries on significant people themes critical issues and the most significant genres The Cambridge History of Russian Literature Charles Moser, 1992-04-30 An updated edition of this comprehensive narrative history first published in 1989 incorporating a new chapter on the latest developments in Russian literature and additional bibliographical information The individual chapters are by well known specialists and provide chronological coverage from the medieval period on giving particular attention to the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and including extensive discussion of works written outside the Soviet Union The book is accessible to students and non specialists as well as to scholars of literature and provides a wealth of information A History of Russian Literature Andrew Kahn, Mark Lipovetsky, Irina Reyfman, Stephanie Sandler, 2018-04-05 Russia possesses one of the richest and most admired literatures of Europe reaching back to the eleventh century A History of Russian Literature provides a comprehensive account of Russian writing from its earliest origins in the monastic works of Kiev up to the present day still rife with the creative experiments of post Soviet literary life The volume proceeds chronologically in five parts extending from Kievan Rus in the 11th century to the present day The coverage strikes a balance between extensive overview and in depth thematic focus Parts are organized thematically in chapters which a number of keywords that are important literary concepts that can serve as connecting motifs and case studies in depth discussions of writers institutions and texts that take the reader up close and Visual material also underscores the interrelation of the word and image at a number of points particularly significant in the medieval period and twentieth century The History addresses major continuities and discontinuities in the history of Russian literature across all periods and in particular bring out trans historical features that contribute to the notion of a national literature The volume s time range has the merit of identifying from the early modern period a vital set of national stereotypes and popular folklore about boundaries space Holy Russia and the charismatic king that offers culturally relevant material to later writers This volume delivers a fresh view on a series of key questions about Russia s literary history by providing new mappings of literary history and a narrative that pursues key concepts rather more than individual authorial careers This holistic narrative underscores the ways in which context and text are densely woven in Russian literature and demonstrates that the most exciting way to understand the canon and the development of tradition is through a discussion of the interrelation of major and minor figures historical events and literary politics literary theory and literary innovation Noble Sentiments and the Rise of Russian Novels Hilde Hoogenboom, 2025-04-30 Noble Sentiments and the Rise of Russian Novels rewrites the history of nineteenth century Russian novels Hilde Hoogenboom examines how Russians created a new literature against substantial odds 90 per cent of novels published in Russia through the 1850s were foreign Using data from eighteenth and nineteenth century catalogues Hoogenboom visualizes readers large appetite for translated sentimental and sentimental realist novels many by such internationally renowned women as Madame de Genlis Sophie Cottin and George Sand The book reveals that contrary to stereotypes of emotional excess Sentimentalism was a tenacious opportunistic chameleon that allowed writers to both challenge and reaffirm the social order Russian writers used European novels as they sought to understand themselves and the challenges of their position as hereditary service nobles in charge of an empire with fifty million serfs Together noblemen and noblewomen adapted the fundamental European literary conversation on a sentimental moral education in duty to the greater good to their search for a life of purpose Hoogenboom's study sheds new light on Karamzin Zhukovsky Pushkin Turgenev Goncharov Dostoevsky and Tolstoy and introduces readers to major authors Evgeniia Tur and Nadezhda Khvoshchinskaia Their debates and rivalries with each other and with European novelists gave birth to an exciting influential literature Russian Literature and Its Demons Pamela Davidson, 2000

Merezhkovsky's bold claim that all Russian literature is to a certain degree a struggle with the temptation of demonism is undoubtedly justified And yet despite its evident centrality to Russian culture the unique and fascinating phenomenon of Russian literary demonism has so far received little critical attention This substantial collection fills the gap A comprehensive analytical introduction by the editor is followed by a series of fourteen essays written by eminent scholars in their fields The first part explores the main shaping contexts of literary demonism the Russian Orthodox and folk tradition the demonization of historical figures and views of art as intrinsically demonic The second part traces the development of a literary tradition of demonism in the works of authors ranging from Pushkin and Lermontov Gogol and Dostoevsky through to the poets and prose writers of modernism including Blok Akhmatova Bely Sologub Rozanov Zamiatin and through to the end of the 20th century Anna Karenina Leo Tolstoy, 2017-11-01 Anna Karenina by Leo Tolstoy Called by many The Greatest Book Ever Written Anna Karenina is realist Russian novel which was first published in its entirety in 1878 Heralded by Fyodor Dostoevsky Vladimir Nabokov William Faulkner and countless others the story is an exquisite work of fiction Anna Karenina tells the tragic tale of Countess Anna Karenina and her affair with Count Vronsky Dealing with issues ranging from government to gender to morality religion and social politics Anna Karenina is an epic Russian novel The story of Anna's affair travels and isolation from Russian society is parallel with the story of Konstantin Levin a wealthy landowner who seeks marriage and faith as a source of stability in a changing world The Gothic-fantastic in Nineteenth-century Russian Literature Neil Cornwell, 1999 From the contents From Pantheon to Pandemonium Richard Peace Karamzin's Gothic tale The Island of Bornholm Derek Offord Alessandra TOSI At the origins of the Russian Gothic novel Nikolai Gnedich's Don Corrado de Gerra 1803 Alessandra Tosi Does Russian Gothic verse exist The Case of Vasilii Zhukovskii Michael Pursglove The fantastic in Russian Romantic prose Pushkin's The Queen of Spades Claire Whitehead D. H. Lawrence's response to Russian literature George John Zytaruk, 2015-07-24 No detailed description available for D H Lawrence's response to Russian literature The Society Tale in Russian Literature Neil Cornwell, 1998 This collection of essays is the first book to appear on the society tale in nineteenth century Russian fiction Written by a team of British and American scholars the volume is based on a symposium on the society tale held at the University of Bristol in 1996 The essays examine the development of the society tale in Russian fiction from its beginnings in the 1820s until its subsumption into the realist novel later in the century The contributions presented vary in approach from the text or author based study to the generic or the sociological Power gender and discourse theory all feature strongly and the volume should be of considerable interest to students and scholars of nineteenth century Russian literature There are essays covering Pushkin Lermontov Odoevsky and Tolstoi as well as more minor writers and more general and theoretical approaches Russian Literature, Ideals and

Wakamiya, 2009-12-21 This innovative study examines the work of exiles from the Soviet Union who returned to a reformed post Soviet Russia to initiate narrative processes of self definition oriented toward a readership and nation seeking self identity all at a time of social political and cultural transition within Russia itself The House in Russian Literature J. J.

van Baak, 2009 The domestic theme has a tremendous anthropological literary and cultural significance The purpose of this book is to analyse and interpret the most important realisations and tendencies of this thematic complex in the history of Russian literature It is the first systematic book length exploration of the meaning and development of the House theme in Russian literature of the past 200 years It studies the ideological psychological and moral meanings which Russian cultural and literary tradition have invested in the house or projected on it in literary texts Central to this study's approach is the concept of the House Myth consisting of a set of basic fabular elements and a set of general types of House images This House Myth provides the general point of reference from which the literary works were analyzed and compared With the help of this analytical procedure characteristics of individual authors could be described as well as recurrent patterns and features discerned in the way Russian literature dealt with the House and its thematics thus reflecting characteristics of Russian literary world pictures Russian mentalities and Russian attitudes towards life This book is of interest for students of Russian literature as well as for those interested in the House as a cultural and literary topic in the semiotics of literature and in relations between culture anthropology and literature Pictures of Russian History and Russian Literature
