Russian Writers: Notes and Essays Helen Muchnic, 1971
Muchnic, 1963 Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons aphorisms individual major works notable writers and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch nationality era selected writings list additional readings and anthologies Virginia Woolf's Portraits of Russian Writers Darya Protopopova, 2019-02-05 Virginia Woolf always stayed ahead of her time Championing gender equality when women could not vote publishing authors from Pakistan France Austria and other parts of the world while nationalism in Britain was on the rise and befriending outcasts and social pariahs As such what could have possibly interested her in the works of nineteenth century Russian writers austere and at times misogynistic thinkers preoccupied with peasants priests and paroxysms of the soul This study explains the chronological and cultural paradox of how classic Russian fiction became crucial to Woolf's vision of British modernism We follow Woolf as she begins to learn Russian invents a character for a story by Dostoevsky ponders over Sophia Tolstoy's suicide note and proclaims Chekhov a truly modern writer The book also examines British modernists' fascination with Russian art looking at parallels between Roger Fry's articles on Russian Post Impressionists and Woolf's essays on Chekhov Dostoevsky Tolstoy and Turgenev Notes from the Underground (Annotated with Critical Essay and Biography) Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 2013-11-15 Notes from Underground also translated in English as Notes from the Underground or Letters from the Underworld though Notes from Underground is the most literal translation is an 1864 short novel by Fyodor Dostoyevsky The Notes is considered by many to be the first existentialist novel It presents itself as an excerpt from the rambling memoirs of a bitter isolated unnamed narrator generally referred to by critics as the Underground Man who is a retired civil servant living in St Petersburg The first part of the story is told in monologue form or the underground man's diary and attacks emerging Western philosophy especially Nikolay Chernyshevsky's What Is to Be Done The Shape of Apocalypse in Modern Russian Fiction David M. Bethea, 2014-07-14 David Bethea examines the distinctly Russian view of the end of history in five major works of modern Russian fiction Originally published in 1989 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Russian Writers and the Fin de Siècle Katherine Bowers, Ani Kokobobo, 2015-06-17 Russian literature has a reputation for gloomy texts especially during the late nineteenth century This volume argues that a fin de siècle mood informed Russian literature long before the chronological end of the nineteenth century in ways that had significant impact on the development of Russian realism Some chapters consider ideas more readily associated with fin de siècle Europe such as degeneration theory bieterminism Freudian psychoanalysis or apocalypticism alongside earlier Russian realist texts by writers such as Turgenev Dostoevsky or Tolstoy Other chapters explore the changes that realism underwent as modernism emerged examining later nineteenth century or early twentieth century texts in the context of the earlier realist tradition or their own cultural moment Overall a team of emerging and established scholars of Russian literature and culture present a wide range of creative and insightful readings that shed new light on later realism in all its manifestations

Tomei, 1999 Dostoevsky and the Affirmation of Life Predrag Cicovacki, 2017-07-12 Dostoevsky's philosophy of life is unfolded in this searching analysis of his five greatest works Notes from the Underground Crime and Punishment The Idiot The Possessed and The Brothers Karamazov Predrag Cicovacki deals with a fundamental issue in Dostoevsky's opus neglected by all of his commentators How can we affirm life and preserve a healthy optimism in the face of an increasingly troublesome reality This work displays the vital significance of Dostoevsky's philosophy for understanding the human condition in the twenty first century The main task of this insightful effort is to reconstruct and examine Dostoevsky's aesthetically motivated affirmation of life based on cycles of transgression and restoration If life has no meaning as his central figures claim it is absurd to affirm life and pointless to live Since Dostoevsky's doubts concerning the meaning of life resonate so deeply in our own age of pessimism and relativism the central question of this book whether Dostoevsky can overcome the skepticism of his most brilliant creation is innately relevant This volume includes a thorough literary analysis of Dostoevsky's texts yet even those who have not read all of these novels will find Cicovacki's analysis interesting and enthralling The reader will easily extrapolate Cicovacki's own philosophical interpretation of Dostoevsky's literary heritage California Slavic Studies Nicholas Valentine Riasanovsky, Gleb Struve, Thomas Eekman, 1980
