Sacred Realms Essays In Religion Belief And Society:

Sacred Realms Richard L. Warms, James Garber, R. Jon McGee, 2004 Sacred Realms is a comprehensive introduction to the anthropology of religion After an introduction that presents and defines key concepts in the study of religion 55 classic and current essays by leading specialists cover major topics in religion divided into twelve subject areas The anthology is geographically balanced and includes contributions from anthropologists around the world The book concludes with unique coverage of five of the world's largest and most influential religions New Testament Theology and its Quest for Relevance

Thomas R. Hatina, 2013-03-14 New Testament theology raises many questions not only within its own boundaries but also in relation to other fields such as history literary criticism sociology psychology history politics philosophy and religious studies But the overarching question concerns the relevance of two thousand year old writings in today's world How does one establish what is and is not relevant in the New Testament How does one communicate the ancient ideas presented in an alien language alien time and alien culture to a contemporary audience This book is intended to serve as a methodological introduction to the field of New Testament theology aimed at a range of readers undergraduate and Seminary students clergy and laypersons interested in the relevance of scripture It is a guide which aims to help readers understand how practitioners of New Testament theology have wrestled with the relationship between historical reconstruction of the New Testament and its interpretation in the modern world Re-Thinking Men Anthony Synnott, 2024-05-31 Much writing on men in the field of gender studies tends to focus unduly almost exclusively on portraying men as villains and women as victims in a moral bi polar paradigm Re Thinking Men reverses the proclivity which ignores not only the positive contributions of men to society but also the male victims of life including the homeless the incarcerated the victims of homicide suicide accidents war and the draft and sexism as well as those affected by the failures of the health education political and justice systems Proceeding from a radically different perspective in seeking a more positive balanced and inclusive view of men and women this book presents three contrasting paradigms of men as heroes villains and victims Revised and updated and presenting data and studies from the United States Canada and the United Kingdom it offers a comparative and revised perspective on gender that will be of interest to scholars across a range of social sciences

Fooling Ourselves Harry C. Triandis, 2008-12-30 Self deception occurs because we often see the world the way we would like it to be rather than the way it is Our brains so long for things the way we want them we might not even be aware we are fooling ourselves explains author Harry Triandis a widely known Professor Emeritus of Psychology Across cultures and around the world self deception is a phenomenon that has subtle and profound effects on everyday life explains Triandis also former president of the International Association of Cross Cultural Psychology In this work he not only explains how and why self deceptions occur in three areas politics religion and terrorism but also how to recognize and reduce the frequency of fooling ourselves Insights here include consideration of personal and societal self deceptions as well as extensive understanding of how politics ideologies and religions can frame reality for each of us in such a way that it is in our minds warped so the stage is well set for self deception This text will be of special interest to general readers drawn to politics and religion as well as scholars of psychology anthropology and sociology Cultural Anthropology Serena Nanda,Richard L. Warms,2019-01-09 Cultural Anthropology integrates critical thinking explores rich ethnographies and prompts students to skillfully explore and study today s world Readers will better understand social structures by examining themselves their culture and cultures from all over the globe Serena Nanda and Richard L Warms show how the analytical understandings and tools derived from over a century of systematically collecting data and thinking about culture can help students analyze understand and act effectively in the world With a practical emphasis on areas such as medicine forensics development and advocacy this book takes an applied approach to anthropology The authors cover a broad range of theories both historical and contemporary without any insistence on any particular approach and balance it with applied contemporary real world global issues The new Twelfth Edition includes a wealth of new examples and over 500 references that update ethnographic examples statistical information and theoretical approaches Adventures In Eating Helen R. Haines,Clare A. Sammells,2011-05-18 Anthropologists training to do fieldwork in far off unfamiliar places prepare for significant challenges with regard to language customs and other cultural differences However like other travelers to unknown places they are often unprepared to deal with the most basic and necessary requirement food Although there are many books on the anthropology of food Adventures in Eating is the first intended to prepare students for the uncomfortable dining situations they may encounter over the course of their careers Whether sago grubs jungle rats termites or the pungent durian fruit are on the table participating in the act of sharing food can establish relationships vital to anthropologists research practices and knowledge of their host cultures Using their own experiences with unfamiliar and sometimes unappealing food practices and customs the contributors explore such eating moments and how these moments can produce new understandings of culture and the meaning of food beyond the immediate experience of eating it They also address how personal eating experiences and culinary dilemmas can shape the data and methodologies of the discipline The main readership of Adventures in Eating will be students in anthropology and other scholars but the explosion of food media gives the book additional appeal for fans of No Reservations and Bizarre Foods on the Travel Channel Literature, Performance, and Somaesthetics Katarzyna Lisowska,Jarosław Woźniak,2017-05-11 Literature Performance and Somaesthetics views textual and extra textual worlds as intimately connected as forming a continuum in fact The essays on literature philosophy and the arts gathered here derive their theoretical inspirations from two realms where embodiment and agency are particularly stressed namely from philosophical somaesthetics a discipline proposed by Richard Shusterman in 1999 and from performance studies remarkable for its current expansion In most general terms the point of convergence for somaesthetics and performativity is their stressing the agency of the embodied and sentient human self The contributors explore the question of agency in its various manifestations They examine the construction of literary characters with emphasis on the representation of their corporeality and affectivity They look into the problem of the formation of the literary canon as enacted rather than established and into literary history as retold rather than rewritten They also focus on the problems of literary reception considering it on the physical visceral level While showing keen interest in performance studies and somaesthetics the authors also bring in the expertise gained in their primary fields of research Hence the ideas explored in their essays are drawn from philosophy literary theory cultural studies psychology and hard science The essays here are concerned with a variety of generic forms epic literature lyrical poetry tragedy experimental novel thriller literary history theological treatise documentary flamenco and opera in order to outline the field in the humanities where literature philosophy and performance can meet and where literary studies can benefit from the approaches offered by performance studies and philosophical somaesthetics

Tibetan Buddhism among Han Chinese Joshua Esler, 2020-05-28 This study analyzes the growing appeal of Tibetan Buddhism among Han Chinese in contemporary China Hong Kong and Taiwan It examines the Tibetan tradition's historical context and its social cultural and political adaptation to Chinese society as well as the effects on Han practitioners The author's analysis is based on fieldwork in all three locations and includes a broad range of interlocutors such as Tibetan religious teachers Han practitioners and lay Tibetans

Culture Counts Serena Nanda, Richard L. Warms, 2022-09-26 Updated to account for the extraordinary developments of the last five years the Fifth Edition of Culture Counts offers a concise introduction to anthropology that illustrates why culture matters in our understanding of humanity and the world around us Serena Nanda and Richard L. Warms draw students in with engaging ethnographic stories and a conversational writing style that encourages them to interact cross culturally solve problems and effect positive change

Re-Thinking Men Professor Anthony Synnott, 2012-12-28 Much writing on men in the field of gender studies tends to focus unduly almost exclusively on portraying men as villains and women as victims in a moral bipolar paradigm Re-Thinking Men reverses the proclivity which ignores not only the positive contributions of men to society but also the male victims of life including the homeless the incarcerated the victims of homicide suicide accidents war and the draft and sexism as well as those affected by the failures of the health education political and justice systems Proceeding from a radically different perspective in seeking a more positive balanced and inclusive view of men and women this book presents three contrasting paradigms of men as Heroes Villains and Victims With the development of a comparative and revised gender perspective drawing on US Canadian and UK sources this book will be of interest to scholars across a range of social sciences

Now that's what I call a history of the 1980s Lucy Robinson, 2023-07-18 Now that's what I call a history of the 1980s tells the story of eighties Britain through its popular culture Charting era defining moments from Lady Diana's legs and the miners strike to Glastonbury's Pyramid Stage and Adam and the Ants Lucy Robinson weaves together an alternative history to the one we think we know This is not a history of big geopolitical disasters or a nostalgic romp through discos shoulder pads and yuppie culture Instead the book explores a mashup of different genres and fan bases in order to make sense of our recent past and give new insights into the decade that defined both globalisation and excess Packed with archival and cultural research but written with verve and spark the book offers as much to general readers as to scholars of this period presenting a distinctive and definitive contemporary history of 1980s Britain from pop to politics to cold war cultures censorship and sexuality

American Book Publishing Record ,2004 Handbook of Micro Health Insurance in Africa Hans Jürgen Rösner,2012

Micro health insurance is an emerging concept to reduce poverty and social exclusion and improve health care access The Handbook of Micro Health Insurance in Africa gives an overview of the challenges and needs in the field of micro health insurance Focusing on Sub Saharan Africa where universal social health protection still has a way to go the Handbook provides an introduction to the relatively new and promising approach of micro insurance as a risk management tool for low income households between the market self help and the state This book is an output of the project Pro MHI Africa which is funded by the European Union and directed by the University of Cologne in cooperation with the University of Botswana the University of Ghana and the University of Malawi Series Social Protection in Health Challenges Needs and Solutions in International Health Care Financing Vol 1 Journal of Ritual Studies ,2005 Ancient Objects and Sacred Realms F. Kent Reilly,James F. Garber,2010-01-01 Between AD 900 1600 the native peoples of the Mississippi River Valley and other areas of the Eastern Woodlands of the United States conceived and executed one of the greatest artistic traditions of the Precolumbian Americas Created in the media of copper shell stone clay and wood and incised or carved with a complex set of symbols and motifs this seven hundred year old artistic tradition functioned within a multiethnic landscape centered on communities dominated by earthen mounds and plazas Previous researchers have referred to this material as the Southeastern Ceremonial Complex SECC This groundbreaking volume brings together ten essays by leading anthropologists archaeologists and art historians who analyze the iconography of Mississippian art in order to reconstruct the ritual activities cosmological vision and ideology of these ancient precursors to several groups of contemporary Native Americans Significantly the authors correlate archaeological ethnographic and art historical data that illustrate the stylistic differences within Mississippian art as well as the numerous changes that occur through time The research also demonstrates the inadequacy of the SECC label since Mississippian art is not limited to the Southeast and reflects stylistic changes over time among several linked but distinct religious traditions The term Mississippian Iconographic Interaction Sphere MIIS more adequately describes the corpus of this Mississippian art Most important the authors illustrate the overarching nature of the ancient Native American religious system as a creation unique to the native American cultures of the eastern United States
