reconstruct a vibrant urban musical culture held in common by townspeople of all ranks Outdoor acoustic communication often hovering between musical and nonmusical sound was essential to the functioning of these towns As Kevorkian shows that sonic communication was linked to the music and musicians heard in homes taverns and churches Early modern urban environments and dynamics produced both the giants of the Baroque era such as Johann Sebastian Bach and Georg Philipp Telemann and the music that townspeople heard daily This book offers a significant rediscovery of a rich unique and understudied musical culture Received a subvention award from the Margarita M Hanson Fund and the Donna Cardamone Jackson Fund of the American Musicological Society
