Long Shadows at Noon John J. Marshall, 2002-03-27 Long Shadows at Noon is a short collection of poetry and prose that addresses the richness and tragedies of life Life has its many rewards that are often overshadowed by the pace at which modern life has captured our minds time and attention The shortest and darkest day of the year is the winter solstice that occurs on the 21st of December This dark period often seems to sneak up on us with little notice or warning and we find ourselves longing for more pleasant times Often we reflect during the deepest days of darkness on how we let another year slip through our fingertips without enjoying the recently departed summer and autumn Life is similar During the dark periods of our lives we often look back at happier times and long for their return During these dark days of the solstice and of life we must remember that each new day is a little brighter and warmer Better times are ahead and life is far too sweet not to enjoy Unlike other poetry books Long Shadows proceeds each poem with a short essay as to its nature and motivation for being written Life death love and passion are addressed in various styles and forms Both the simplicities and entanglements of living from a man s perspective are brought forth with an emphasis on taking a truthful and deep exploration of the soul

The Golden Bough James George Frazer, Sir James George Frazer, 1995-12 A world classic The Golden Bough describes our ancestors primitive methods of worship sex practices strange rituals and festivals Disproving the popular thought that primitive life was simple this monumental survey shows that savage man was enmeshed in a tangle of magic taboos and superstitions Revealed here is the evolution of man from savagery to civilization from the modification of his weird and often bloodthirsty customs to the entry of lasting moral ethical and spiritual values

Idzikowski, 2008 Shadows of Slaughterhouse Five chronicles the story of 150 American POWs captured in the Battle of the Bulge and eventually caught up in one of the greatest tragedies of World War II the firebombing of Dresden This collection includes oral histories previously unpublished memoirs and letters from home and from the front that together tell their compelling story in their own words From simple hometown beginnings through the awakenings of military life in basic training from assignment on the supposed quiet zone in Belgium to the unexpected Battle of the Bulge from forced march and entrainment to eventual assignment on work details in Dresden the Florence of the Elbe to the inferno of Dresden on February 13 14 1945 and the gruesome work details to follow the individual and collective recollections and reflections of these 150 young men the men housed in the famed Slaughterhouse Five reveal a very personal side of war and the struggle for survival Yet repatriation did not bring closure to this chapter of their young lives for like shadows their memories would forever be part of them Today more than sixty years after the firebombing of Dresden the statue of a steer wishing health and happiness to the citizens of Dresden still stands at the entrance to the public slaughterhouse a silent witness to the maelstrom that descended upon Dresden and this group of 150 American POWs housed within Now after more than 60 years of silence for most of these men Kurt Vonnegut s fellow POWs tell their story of Slaughterhouse Five in their words as they saw it dog face young soldiers assured that the war was soon to be over
